

Redo, cloudy	48	50	74
icksburg, cloudy	72	74	69
ashington, pt. cloudy ..	56	62	60

C. F. von HERRMANN,
Meteorologist, Weather Bureau.

Natchitoches, pt. cloudy	62	68	69
San Francisco, clear	64	61	69
St. Louis, cloudy	44	62	62
Salt Lake City, pt. cl.	40	42	40
Shreveport, rain	69	76	69
Tampa, clear	68	76	69
Toledo, cloudy	48	50	54
Vicksburg, cloudy	72	74	69
Washington, pt. cloudy	56	62	60

C. F. Von HERRMANN,
Meteorologist, Weather Bureau.

conference with John W. H. Crim, government counsel in the veterans' bureau case, who is understood to have informed the committee chairman that the activities of the two house members had no relation whatever to affairs of the bureau.

Deliberate Investigation.
Mr. Crim announced tonight that the investigation into charges against the two house members would be "deliberate" and that every effort would be made to ascertain the exact situation.

A section of the Chicago grand jury's report relating to the alleged activities of the two congress members was made public by Mr. Crim as follows:

"Incidental to the investigation of matters of which this grand jury had jurisdiction certain other facts not directly pertaining to the veterans' bureau were developed by counsel for the government which we regard of great importance. There is no jurisdiction of them in the northern district of Illinois but we are assured by Mr. Crim that he will lay them before the attorney general and president for consideration. We do not feel that it would be proper for this grand jury to make public at this time the details of these transactions.

"This jury feels it will suffice to report to your honor that they involve (1) That speculation by one or more officials of the government wherein it has been asserted that official information was used for purposes of speculation; (2) That very large sums of money were paid to two members of congress; (3) That possession of a file on the department for about a month was had by persons having no official connection with such department; (4) That money was accepted by certain individuals (not attorneys) for the purpose of obtaining clemency for prisoners through their intimacy with officials; (5) That money was collected by certain individuals (not attorneys) for obtaining through such intimacy permits for intoxicating liquor."

Crim's Statement.
Mr. Crim also made public this statement as to his attitude:

"I am working on all of these matters. I can't finish them in a day. It may require many days to finish my investigation. As the situation develops I will report from time to time to my superior. I have not reported to them; I will not report to them, unless they send for me until I have exhausted the entire situation. I do not propose at this time to make public what I have done, and I do not propose to prophesy as to what I will do in the future."

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER.

Washington, March 4.—The trail of graft and corruption which the senate has been following through its different investigations, has now led directly into the house of representatives, where two members are accused of accepting money for obtaining pardons and paroles. Federal grand jury indictments will be asked here shortly.

If the evidence, which John W. H.

Crim, special assistant attorney general, claims to have, prevails in court, the country will witness an amazing exposure of grafting by two members of congress—an exposure which, for downright sordidness, will exceed anything thus far uncovered in the oil scandals or the veterans' bureau cases. Impeachment proceedings may result in addition to criminal prosecution.

Pardons for Money.

The principal offenses are said to relate to pardons and paroles which were obtained for well-to-do offenders, including several bootleggers. It is charged they took money—as much as $20,000 in one case—on the promise to use their influence with certain officials to obtain the release or pardon of certain prisoners. It is further stated that all of the money was pocketed by the congressmen, who were able to persuade certain officials to grant pardons and paroles without having to split with them.

The transactions link closely with the operations of a prosperous bootleg syndicate which a wealthy politician is supposed to be financially interested.

Crim came upon evidence pointing to the two congressmen while pursuing his investigation of the veterans' bureau last month. The matter was alluded to briefly in the report of the grand jury accompanying its indictment of Col. Charles K. Keeney, former veterans' bureau director.

Would Tell Facts.

Crim appeared before the senate veterans' bureau committee Tuesday and told them the charges against the two congressmen did not touch upon veterans' bureau affairs and thereupon the committee stated that it did not desire to know the identity of the representatives in question. Crim told the committee that he would tell all of the facts to the president's proponent and it became known later that he would seek indictments here.

Meanwhile, the charges created a great stir in the house. Representative Garrett, two-time minority leader, drafted and offered a resolution ordering a congressional investigation. "It is felt that if those referred to are members of the house of representatives, it is the first duty of the house to ascertain the facts and take whatever action in the way of housekeeping is necessary to protect the confidence of the people in that body," he said, explaining his purpose in presenting the resolution.

Republicans were less inclined to move at once, and the minority leader, drafted and offered a resolution ordering a congressional investigation. "It is felt that if those referred to are members of the house of representatives, it is the first duty of the house to ascertain the facts and take whatever action in the way of housekeeping is necessary to protect the confidence of the people in that body," he said, explaining his purpose in presenting the resolution.

Plans Watchful Waiting.

"This is an entirely new proposition to me and I know absolutely nothing about it, except what I read in the newspapers," he said. "I have tried to get something definite in regard to it all day 'but there is nothing but rumors at the present time. Rumors are not always a safe guide to follow. The rules committee, which must pass upon the resolution before it is voted on in the house, conferred with Garrett, and announced later that his committee would wait a few days before taking any action."

"This attitude evoked some surprise among democrats, who feel that a prompt search for the facts should be undertaken at once so that if there is any crookedness, it may be exposed and if not, that the reputation of house members may be cleared of suspicion. Congressmen whose names are mentioned in the gossip happen to be of the majority party, and one of them occupied a somewhat responsible position in the committee machinery. It is probable that this attempt to delay the house investigation will be publicly criticized by the minority members unless it is repudiated by Representative Longworth, the majority leader."

BETTER HOMES EXHIBIT WILL BE STAGED HERE
Continued From First Page.

be furnished to suit varying and utterly different personalities. There will be the de-luxé room, with all its lovely softness and dainty femininity. One will almost be able to see the young girl kicking her dancetoe feet out of the broad satin slippers, and gazing at her radiant young face in the vanity dressing table mirror, as she lives again the events of "the perfectly divine dance" just ended.

Room for the Bachelor.
There will be a room furnished especially for a bachelor, with the rough and attractive sort of furnishings which appeal to most men. One will know on entering this room that a "man's" man could comfortably smoke his old pipe here, and read the latest sporting paper. There will be attractive rooms and nurseries for baby and the younger kids, with all the fascinating toys and furnishings which make a child's world so utterly happy and carefree. There will be the small boy's room containing his treasured trophies and keepsakes, with a bookcase filled with boy's books and games. There will be a room for the master's room, furnished to express the personality of the sort of person who would own this particular sort of house; daintily furnished guests' rooms, and attractive sleeping porches.

Particular emphasis will be put on the furnishings of the kitchen. Linoleum on the floors, and crisp white curtains, overhanging the kitchen sink, will be at the windows, giving the stylish thing for kitchens nowadays. So much attention will be given the kitchen because it is believed, that an attractive kitchen makes a happier and more efficient maid.

It is the old idea which has been proved time and again, of environment being very decidedly on one's personality and disposition.

Electrical Appliances.

Special attention will also be given to the electrical appliances which will be contributed by the various firms exhibiting at the exhibition. People have come to realize the tremendous saving of time and nervous strain which can be earned by the use of electrical appliances in the homes.

Better Homes exhibition will in any way be an exhibition of better homes unless these most necessary electrical appliances were used as a vital part of the furnishings in the homes.

Nothing Commercial About It.
Although the retail merchants of Atlanta are lending the equipment to furnish these homes, and although The Constitution is exerting every effort to conduct the exhibit successfully, there is nothing commercial about the enterprise.

Its object is merely to provide the public with examples of artistically and correctly furnished homes, which with the expenditure of thought and time and even the smallest amount of cash may be within the reach of every citizen. Though the furnishings will be freely loaned by the merchants, they will not be the slightest thing in the history of home, and it thus follows better homes must mean a better civilization. Many people who are filled with the idea of home are blindly reaching out for better homes, but do not know just how they can attain the beauty, harmony and artistic arrangement which better homes exhibit in a practical illustration of how these may be obtained even in the home of limited income. The public will be invited to visit these homes without charge.

Everything will be done to provide the homes with an atmosphere of hospitality and "hominess." A reception committee will be on hand to receive the public and to answer questions and give information. Maids will be at each house to keep them fresh and clean, and to add to the picture.

Florists will keep fresh flowers in the rooms.

PROHIBITION WAS WAR'S BIG GIFT TO UNITED STATES
Brighton, England, March 4.—"The country that got the most out of the war was the United States; it gained prohibition," said David Lloyd George, addressing a meeting of the Free Church council here today.

He appealed for a sober England and declared that as a reaction from the idealism of the war the world had sunk into the slough of despondency. His struggles had become purely material and a new temper and a new appeal were wanted.

POETRY WASHES AWAY HEAVY OIL FUMES
Continued From First Page.

"Write me as one who loves to make a loan."

The senator wrote and vanished. The next day, He came again—it looked like Caraway. And showed the names of those whom he liked best. And lo, Dough Heenie's name led all the list.

Lodge Grows Potlatch.
While the chambers and galleries roared, Senator Lodge, the republican leader and litterateur of the chamber, was not caught napping. From a typewritten sheet in his hand he replied with a parody on Longfellow's "Brothers and Sisters Have I None," reading as follows:

MR. VANDERLIP SAYS:
Absolute knowledge have I none, But my aunt's washerwoman's sister's son. Heard a policeman on his beat Say to a laborer on the street, That he had a letter just last week—A letter which he did not seek—From a Chinese merchant in Timbuctoo.

Who said that his brother in Cuba knew Of an Indian chief in a Texas town. Who got the dope from a circus clown. That a man in the Klondike had it straight From a guy in a South American state. That a wild man over in Borneo Was told by a woman who claims to know. Of a well known swell society rake, Whose mother will undertake To prove that her husband's sister's niece.

Has stated plain in a printed piece, That he has a son who never comes home. And who knows all about the Teapot Dome. Senator Hefflin seemed satisfied and resumed his speech, while the anguished senator listened in better temper than he has enjoyed for several weeks.

GREATEST PRIZE OFFER BY THE CONSTITUTION
Continued From First Page.

who plan to win should lose no time in starting. Friends and neighbors will help you win the Gibson, for the quality and popularity of The Constitution have long been established, and it will only be a matter of calling on a dozen people and presenting the idea to them to secure their aid.

Full details of the sensational Gibson offer appear elsewhere in this issue. Turn to the full page advertisement describing the offer and read it carefully. Fill out your entry blank and get into the game at once. It's great fun, and will enter you into a contest when you bring the Gibson into your home.

—EAT—
Imperial Farm Sausage
100% Pure Pork
Doster & Taylor
West 2662 200 Lee St.

FLOOD OF WET BILLS SWEEPS INTO HOUSE

Washington, March 4.—A batch of bills favoring light wine and beer were presented in the house today as part of a concerted move toward modification of the Volstead act.

The measure, were divided into two groups, one restricting alcoholic content by volume to 2.75 per cent and the other providing for 4 per cent by volume of beer and 10 per cent by volume for wine and cider.

Possession, sale, manufacture and transportation of these liquors would be confined solely to the limits of the state which authorizes them by appropriate legislative action.

CONFESSES WALL STREET EXPLOSION

Continued From First Page.

in the case, already have begun an inquiry of the new client. They will make a report which will be conveyed to Secretary Hughes.

The explosion, one of the greatest disasters and most complete mysteries in the history of New York, occurred at noon when thousands of workers were pouring out of offices for their lunch hour. A sheet of flame shot up from Wall and Broad streets where a moment before a horse and wagon had been standing, in front of the subterranean and opposite the office of J. P. Morgan & Co.

Investigation followed fast, but in spite of a score or more arrests, there has been no solution of the mystery.

Mystery Shrouds Case.

London, March 4.—(By the Associated Press.)—Deep mystery and profound secrecy surround Ralph Thubur, a prisoner in Pentonville jail, who has confessed to being implicated in the Wall street bomb explosion in 1920, in which many persons were killed. Thubur claims to be an American citizen.

The news received from New York tonight that such a confession had been made was the first London knew of it, and the American officials who first informed the Washington government and who have been handling the case for several weeks declined to give any information, except to say that "such large interests are involved" that it would be impossible for them to talk.

The officials here are greatly surprised that the confession has been made public in New York at this secretive about the case. In fact, as one official, who evidently knows a great deal more about the confession than it is possible for him to admit, said: "There is not a person in the whole of England that will talk about the revelations that have been made."

LAMAR GRAND JURY FACES CLEAN SLATE

Bainbridge, Ga., March 4.—(Special.)—Not a single criminal case came before the opening day of the Lamar superior court grand jury Monday, which is considered a remarkable record. R. L. Swatts was elected foreman and J. T. Maxwell, clerk. Judge T. J. Brown, of McDonough, is here to look after the interests of the state as solicitor-general.

Festival Body Meets.

The annual meeting of the Atlanta Recreation-Educational and Chamber of Commerce association will be held Thursday afternoon. The association will arrange the program for the outing of the colored people of Atlanta which will be held in the park the first Monday in June. Rev. D. James Bryant, president of the association, will preside at the annual meeting and make his annual address on the subject of the association.

The Baltimore College of Dental Surgery is the oldest of its kind in the United States, chartered 1839.

KAMPER'S ATLANTA

Any Woman Can Make Good Coffee

FRESHLY ROASTED, FRESHLY GROUND AND IN THE RIGHT GRADE FOR THE PATRONS' COFFEE POT— THEN ANY WOMAN CAN MAKE GOOD COFFEE!

The results of Professor Samuel C. Prescott's Coffee Findings in the Department of Biology and Public Health of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology at the expense of three years of time and $40,000 in money has simply verified and confirmed what every coffee drinker already knew— that good coffee in moderation never hurt any one. Among other things Professor Prescott says: "Coffee is an efficient, HARMLESS stimulant, it promotes heart action mildly, increases the power to do unusual work, and increases the power of concentration in mental effort, and therefore is an aid to sustained brain work."

THE RIGHT GRADE—FRESHLY ROASTED— PROPERLY GROUND

This describes KAMPER'S SPECIAL COFFEE perfectly and the price is as reasonable as can be expected for quality coffee.

POUND, 45c—3 lbs. For $1.25

"Lemco" Cedar Moth Bags

are now being featured at 5 for 50c

Answers every purpose of an expensive bag. Made of heavy, cedarized Kraft Paper, in full size—

26x54 inches

Keeps furs, garments, blankets, etc., free from dust, dirt, moisture and vermin.

Why pay more?

Some Canned Goods Specials

LOMBARD PLUMS—Cans 20c

DEL MONTE PEACHES—10 cans $1.49

HOLLY BRAND Y. C. PEACHES—10 cans $2.99

BETTER OLE BEANS—(Made by Van Camp) Cans 20c

BECKHUT QUINCE JELLY—(Sells regular at 50c) 3 Jars $1.00

RECIPE STRAWBERRY JAM—(Sells regular at 20c) 3 Jars $1.00

YANKEE BRAND SARDINES—Large cans, 3 for $1.00

BISMARCK HERRING and ROLL MOPS—Each 10c

Kamper's Rye Bread

Loaf 10c

Kamper's Cottage Bread

Loaf 10c

Swiss Gruyere Cheese—Per Box 50c

Kamper's Garden Tea—Per Pound 89c

A Revelation in Flour

"Kamper's Best" Pastry Flour

Finest for All Fine Baking

24-Pound Bags $1.25

TWO Kamper's STORES

MAIN STORE

492-498 Peachtree

HEmlock 5000

10TH ST. STORE

820 Peachtree

HEmlock 5700

KAMPER'S ATLANTA

It Beats Mine

Claussen's Cakes

delightfully different

Adair's New Encyclopedia

COUPON

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

How to Get It 3 Coupons and $2.98

For the Mere Nominal Cost of Manufacture and Distribution.

Presented at The Constitution office, or sent by mail, postage paid, for $3.25 net.

Present or mail to this paper three Coupons with the small expense mentioned, which pays in full for the set of 5 big volumes. Attractively bound in durable forest green covers, decorated with gold designs. This entirely new encyclopedia covers all departments of human progress and achievement. All works of reference made before the World War are out of date.

Established 32 Years

BRIDGEWORK

22 KT. GOLD

SET OF TEETH

Note Our Low Prices

Set of Teeth $7

Gold Crowns $4

Dr. Griffin Personally in Charge

Bridge Work, Per Tooth $4

Porcelain Fillings $3.00

Silver Fillings $1.00

Teeth Polished $1.00

Examination Free

Dr. E. G. Griffin's

Gate City Dental Rooms

63½ Whitehall St.

Open Daily

8 a. m. to 6 p. m.

Lady Attendant

HUBIG'S FAMOUS HONEY-FRUIT PIES

THE MORE YOU EAT THE MORE YOU WANT

10¢ 20¢ 30¢

AT YOUR GROCERS

A. B. TUMLIN & CO.

Insurance Agency

1203-4-5 Citizens & Southern Bank Building

Atlanta, Ga.

Walnut 1245

SEMI-ANNUAL STATEMENT for the Six Months Ending December 31, 1923, of the condition of the

Fidelity Union Casualty Company

OF DALLAS.

Organized under the laws of the State of Texas, made to the Governor of the State of Georgia in pursuance to the laws of said State.

Principal Office—703 Browder St., Dallas, Texas.

I. CAPITAL STOCK.

1. Amount of capital stock $300,000.00

2. Amount of capital stock paid up in full $300,000.00—$300,000.00

II. ASSETS.

1. Market value of real estate owned $9,955.15—$9,955.15

2. Mortgage loans, first liens 242,086.88

3. Loans secured by pledge of bonds, stocks or other collateral 242,086.88

4. Give value of securities (other than bonds, stocks or other collateral) hypothecated for above loans 56,519.13

5. Stocks and bonds owned absolutely 208,558.33

6. Cash deposited in banks 43,101.05

7. Cash in hands of agents and in transmission 210,352.61

8. Total Cash Items (carried out) 253,514.26

9. Bills receivable 1,756.61

10. Interest due and unpaid 6,537.34

Total assets of company (Actual cash market value) $927,727.70

III. LIABILITIES.

1. Claims in process of adjustment, or adjusted and not due, including reported or supposed claims $376,868.81

2. Taxes accrued and unpaid 10,000.00

3. Other items (give items and amounts) 1,532.92

4. Re-insurance balances 175,081.24

5. Cash capital paid up 63,924.73

Total liabilities $927,727.70

IV. INCOME DURING THE LAST SIX MONTHS OF THE YEAR 1923.

1. Amount of cash premiums received $595,964.85

2. Interest received 14,392.92

3. Amount of income from all other sources 18,111.45

Total income $629,469.22

V. DISBURSEMENTS DURING THE LAST SIX MONTHS OF THE YEAR 1923.

1. Claims paid $319,307.04

2. Total amount actually paid for losses and matured endowments 319,307.84

3. Policy dividends paid to policyholders or others 2,327.86

4. Expenses paid, including commissions to agents, and of officers' salaries 185,588.63

5. Taxes paid 9,264.54

6. All other payments and expenditures 26,694.99

Total disbursements $543,183.86

A copy of the Act of Incorporation, duly certified, is in the office of the Insurance Commissioner.

STATE OF GEORGIA—County of Fulton.

Personally appeared before the undersigned R. A. Kennedy, who, being duly sworn, deposes and says that he is the Manager of Fidelity Union Casualty Co., and that the foregoing statement is correct and true.

R. A. KENNEDY.

Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 3rd day of March, 1924.

E. J. BREWER,

Notary Public, Fulton County, Ga.

Beneficial Loans

$25 to $300

In Strict Privacy

To Anybody Housekeeping

$50 loan repay $4 monthly

100 loan repay $8 monthly

200 loan repay $12 monthly

Our only charge is legal interest rate on unpaid balance. Local business men direct and finance this Society.

Bring this advertisement with you and get special attention.

Beneficial Loan Society

421 Palmer Bldg.

Marquette and Forester Sts.

Phone WAL. 5-5-0

HOON Brick ARE GOOD Brick

Do as your good neighbor did.

Buy a car and please the kid.

READ THE WANT ADS

BONITA BRAND

A SWEET REMEMBRANCE

Remember the time when, years and years ago, at noon recess you punched a hole with your forefinger in a cold biscuit, filled it with syrup and enjoyed a feast fit for the gods?

You can't do that now—but you can bring back the experience of those blissful childhood days by keeping Bonita Syrup—a syrup with the pure Georgia cane flavor—on your table. Try it on a hot biscuit and make that old dream come true!

Brings the Cane Fields of Georgia to Your Table

Cairo Syrup Co.

Atlanta, Ga.—Cairo, Ga.

Fine with Biscuits!

Save your Labels for Grand Prize Contest

"Are You Saving Bonita Labels for Grand Prize?"

For Sale by All Grocers.

Backed With True Values! High's Ten Days' March Selling Campaign

Full-Fashioned Chiffon Silk Stockings, $1.44

This is a Wednesday-Only Offering of Our Regular $1.75 Pair Quality

In accordance with the hard-and-fast High policy, these stockings are perfect. No "seconds" in hosiery at this store—never! Beautiful, full-fashioned chiffon weight silk stockings with lisle feet and tops. In beige, sunset, cinnamon, peach, nude and black—the best-liked colors, you see. Buy a supply of these today at $1.44.

Women's 75c Lisle Stockings, 55c

Three hundred pairs of women's imported lisle stockings: Onyx and other trustworthy brands. In black, brown, gray and champagne. Don't forget—these are full-fashioned.

Hosiery for Children—Two Specials

Children's regular 35c quality Buster Brown school stockings for boys and girls, in black and brown. Sizes 6 to 10, 4 pairs for $1.95. Children's regular 39c quality three-quarter length English ribbed sports hose with fancy colored tops. These are $1.48c.

Willow Flower Baskets Special at 39c to 98c

These Pretty Baskets Will Make Artistic Decorations for Homes

Great, hoop-handled baskets of willow finished in enamel and decorated on the sides with floral designs done in colors. There are five sizes at these special prices:

- 15-inch baskets, 39c
- 22-inch baskets, 59c
- 24-inch baskets, 69c
- 24-inch baskets, 89c
- 26-inch baskets, 98c

Wash Goods, Madam?

The March Selling Campaign Directs You to These Savings

To make selection easy, we are classifying these wash goods as staples and novelties. They're regular High's qualities at less than regular High's prices, which means that they are marked extremely low.

Staple Wash Goods—Less

- 28c gingham, 32 inches wide. Yard.....19c
- 48c gingham, 32 inches wide. Yard.....36c
- 25c gingham, 32 inches wide. Yard.....18c
- 29c gingham, 32 inches wide. Yard.....22c
- 19c gingham, 27 inches wide. Yard.....16c
- 35c gingham, 32 inches wide. Yard.....27c
- 35c romper cloth, 32 inches wide. Yard.....27c

NOTE: All of these are well-known brands of wash goods: Toile du Nord, Kalburnie, Lorraine, Dan River, Braelock, etc.

Novelty Wash Goods—Less

- $1.39 silk and cotton printed crepe.....97c
- 95c plain colored Everfast voiles.....63c
- 95c novelty drop stitched voiles.....63c
- 95c imported ratine, 40-inch width.....59c
- 95c fine printed dress voiles.....63c
- $1.95 imported novelty ratine.....$1.36
- 59c Normandy voiles, yard.....43c
- $1.29 hemstitched colored crepe.....97c

Keep Winter Clothing Safe From Moths by Hanging It Away in

Cedar Paper Bags Four for 50c

Hang winter clothing, blankets and furs away in these paper bags and then forget 'em. Moths won't go near them—the odor of red cedar will keep them away.

The Bags Are 26x54 Inches

Made of heavy, cedarized Redcroft paper. They are moth, vermin and dust-proof. The household of average size needs at least four of these bags. Four of them are 50c. On sale in the Notion Department, Main Floor.

Free Show—"Buster Brown"

At the Auditorium Saturday

All the boys and girls in Atlanta are invited to see Buster and his famous dog Tige. And there'll be a moving picture show, too. You'll have to have tickets to get in. They're FREE. Get them in High's Shoe Section on the Main Floor, today.

One Day Only! These Lovely Silk Dresses for Spring

$23.95

Spring can boast of no smarter frocks! See how up to the last minute fashion reports they are! Here's an example of the Jenny "Sans Waistline" frock, a number of frocks in fashion's smartest black and white, a model that shows the mannish "tucked bosom" effect, a feminine affair that swirls in graceful drapery, pleats, pleats, pleats—and more pleats—almost everything that fashion approves has a reflection in this group of dresses, and they're yours today for $23.95.

In gray, in Chinese red, Mexico, tan, black and white, navy, Lanvin and Ching blue. Tailored dresses, sports models and an almost endless variety of lovely dress-up affairs for any wear at all. $23.95.

To-day! $29.75 to $49.75 New Springtime Coats

$24.95

A new coat? What better opportunity than this could you wish? These are coats that show the newest, most sought-for styles. They're loose and free of line. The coatings of which they're made are soft and woolly with large sketchy plaids and stripes. Some have wide novelty sleeves trimmed with buttons. Tan or gray grounds. Lined throughout with satin or silk crepe.

$24.75 Sport Coats at $19.75

Styles that were hand-picked for our own regular stock of fashions. At this minute they're marked $24.75. For today only the Ten Days' Special Selling Campaign will change that price to $19.75. Of camel hair finished coatings in gray or tan with flashes of orange, blue, rose and green showing in their plaids. Choose yours from straight or flaring styles today at $19.75.

Kordelaine Crepe, $2.95

You Know What's the Regular Price? It's $5.90

Novelty stripe weave crepe of heavy quality that has the appearance of being pleated. It's especially desirable for skirts; also for coats, dresses and blouses. 40 inches wide. It is to be had in black, navy, tan, cocoa, gray, cream and white. $2.95 yard.

$5.90 Matelasse, $3.95

Brocaded matelasse, 40 inches in width, in black, navy, tan and cocoa. For dresses and capes. Special, $3.95.

Canton Crepe at $1.79

Canton crepe that's half silk. In black, navy, brown, tan, gray, copen, ivory and jade. 40 inches wide. $1.79 yard.

This Is Addressed to Women Who Embroider

Stamped Goods, 39c

Right good news it is. A maker's closeouts of his averages on orders. Materials in many instances cost him more than we've priced the pieces. The best values in stamped goods we have offered this year, and we don't mean maybe!

What 39c Will Buy

- Buffet Sets.....39c
- Vanity Sets.....39c
- Pillow Cases.....39c
- Five-piece Breakfast Sets.....39c
- Huck Towels.....39c
- Sateen Aprons.....39c
- Domestic Aprons.....39c
- Fancy Scarfs.....39c
- Linen Centers.....39c
- Linen Scarfs.....39c
- Baby Pillows.....39c
- Shoe Bags.....39c
- Girls' Dresses.....39c
- Sash Curtains.....39c
- Gingham Aprons.....39c
- Luncheon Sets.....39c
- Rompers, etc.....39c

A Tinkling, Sparkling Sale of

Thin Glassware Less Than Half

Women who attended the glassware sale Monday were positively amazed at the values offered. But wait!—the good things aren't all gone. Twenty-five barrels more from the manufacturer in West Virginia have just arrived, and will go on sale today.

These Are the Pieces

- Wines
- Parfaits
- Goblets
- Cordials
- Sherbets
- Whiskies
- Comports
- Tumblers
- Iced Teas
- Grapefruits
- Champagnes
- Finger Bowls

Choose from plain, optic, etched, gold encrusted, colored iridescent and plain iridescent glassware today at these three prices:

- Sets of Six for 98c
- Sets of Six for $1.98
- Sets of Six for $2.98

Household Linens—Less

These Standard High Qualities Are Reduced

For today, the Selling Campaign invades High's Household Linen Section, ignores the fact that day in and day out prices there are ever so low—and brings them down to still lower levels.

Bleached Sheets $1.38

Full double-bed size round thread muslin sheets with hemmed ends. 81x90 ins.

42c Bath Towels 29c

Weighty double-thread Turkish bath towels, size 22x44 inches. Hemmed ends.

49c Huck Towels 36c

These are union linen huck towels. Have damask borders. Size 19x38 inches.

Breakfast Sets $2.58

High's $2.95 grade. Damask cloth, 52x64 inches and six 13-inch napkins.

Linen Cloths $5.56

High's $6.95 quality. Silver bleach linen cloths. Hemstitched. 68-inch.

Luncheon Sets $3.96

Regular $4.95 sets. 72-inch cotton damask cloth and six 20-inch napkins.

Linen Napkins $4.95

Pure Irish linen damask napkins with satin finish. These are 22x22 inches.

Linen Toweling 19c

All-linen check glass toweling in blue or red checks. Softly woven. 17-inch.

Dimity Spreads $1.88

Unhemmed and unbleached dimity spreads. Will bleach white. 81x90 inches.

Let the Selling Campaign Save You Money on

Wash Suits for Sonny $1.39

If he's anywhere from 2 to 8 he can choose wash suits from this Sale and save his mother money. For these are our regular quality wash suits, remember at—a Ten Days' Selling Campaign price. Cute middie and Oliver Twist styles. Of Kiddy Kloth and Daytona cloth—materials that are well known for their splendid wearing and washing qualities. In plain colors and combinations—green, brown, tan, navy, copen and sand. Long and short sleeves. They're $1.39.

Now High's Ten Days' Special March Selling Campaign Marks

Spring Corsets, 98c

Yes, even stout figures can be fitted in this Sale. For these corsets are just about twice as good as you expect them to be! Of good quality pink coutil. Well boned throughout. Graduated front clasp. Medium length skirt with four hose supporters. And the tops are trimmed with dainty silk embroidery. Corsets for all types of figures. Sizes 25 to 36. Try to duplicate them. We'll be surprised if you can find corsets as good as these for half again the price of these.

Make Your Stationary--It's Exquisite Dresses

Have More of Them at Less Expense

"But I don't know anything about dressmaking," you say. Very well, enroll at once in the High-Butterick Dressmaking School. Mrs. Swanson, of the Butterick Publishing Co., is in charge. Step by step she will show you how to cut out, make and finish a dress. Five sessions daily. The complete course of six lessons is $5.

The Sale Has No Regard for Its Beauty to Mark This Paper Just

98c Box

Dainty enough and fine enough for the most fastidious woman in all of Atlanta. For this stationery is Montag's—some of Montag's daintiest creations. Just 300 boxes, but we couldn't expect the manufacturer to be more generous with such stationery as this! Here's the selection:

- Dovedown—kid finish—silver edge
- Grillon—interlined—plain edge
- Ripple Grain—silver edge
- Tuberose Sport Cloth—deckle edge
- Old English Crush Bond—plain edge

In white, gray, blue, pink, buff and helio. Each box contains a full quire—24 sheets and 24 envelopes.

J.M.HIGH COMPANY

$100,000 DAMAGE SUIT BEGINS TODAY

Owing to illness of William Schley Howard, associate counsel in the case, hearing on the $100,000 damage suit brought by Mrs. Clyde Byfield against Walter T. Candler, local capitalist, was postponed from Tuesday morning until this morning, when it will begin at 9 o'clock in DeKalb superior court.

Ex-Governor John M. Slaton, attorney for Mrs. Byfield, objected to the delay, but Judge John B. Hutchison announced that the case would be continued, but would have precedence over other cases on the calendar when court is convened Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Byfield is asking damages from Mr. Candler on the grounds that he attacked her on board the steamship Berengaria nearly two years ago, en route to Europe. Slaton & Hopkins and Colquitt & Conyers are counsel for Mrs. Byfield, while Mr. Candler is represented by Rueben and Lowry Arnold, Mr. Howard, L. J. Steele, Ralph McClelland, Robert C. W. Ranspess and Hugh Burgess.

NAPIER COLLECTS FORCES TO FIGHT FOR TOBACCO TAX

Attorney General George M. Napier has requested each of the attorneys who will assist the state in defending the validity of the state law requiring a 10 per cent tax on cigars and cigarettes to prepare and send in their briefs not later than March 10. The state's brief will be consolidated and served upon the opposing counsel on or before March 11, the last day for exchanging briefs, it was explained.

HERE'S WHAT PEOPLE SAY ABOUT TANLAC

"If it had not been for Tanlac I would still be a sick, discouraged woman, for nothing else seemed to do me any good," says Mrs. Edward Gibbs.

All the advertising in the world and all the sales efforts combined could not have made the great success for TANLAC that has been attained, unless this reconstructive tonic possessed merit of the greatest degree. Over 40 Million Bottles of Tanlac have been sold and the demand today is greater than ever before.

That TANLAC possesses merit and has brought relief to hundreds of thousands of persons is attested by the great number of testimonials that have been received by the company from people in every state of the Union and every province of Canada. There are over 100,000 such statements on file with the company, all attesting with sincere praise for TANLAC and what it has accomplished.

Here are excerpts from a few of the 100,000 statements on file:

Mrs. Edward Gibbs, Lancaster, Pa.—"For 2 years indigestion deprived me of nearly all the pleasure of living. If it had not been for TANLAC I would still be a sick and discouraged woman, for nothing else seemed to do me any good."

Mrs. Mary A. Benson, Seattle, Wash.—"Following an operation my stomach and nerves seemed to give way and I became almost helpless. As a last resort I tried TANLAC. I began to improve from the very first."

Take Tanlac Vegetable Pills—(adv.)

DISABLED VETS TO ACCEPT OFFER TO STAGE BENEFIT

An offer by Mrs. A. R. Burt to stage a benefit concert in behalf of the disabled men who are at government hospital No. 48 was accepted unanimously by a meeting of disabled veterans at their hall, Tuesday night. The ladies' Three Part Choral club and the pupils of Mrs. A. R. Burt will take part in the program.

Mrs. Eula Osborn addressed the veterans. She said high compliment to the bravery of the men who fought in the last war.

Atlanta chapter No. 1, Disabled War Veterans, voted to endeavor to sell 1,000 tickets, and appointed a committee, with as chairman, H. J. Floyd, to take charge of the sale of tickets among veterans and public at large.

Mrs. Eula Osborn is in charge of the sale of tickets throughout the city.

Governor Walker will speak at the benefit on a subject pertaining to disabled and ex-service men of the last war.

Tickets have been placed on sale in several downtown business places—Franklin & Cox drug store, at the corner of Whitehall and Alabama streets, Jacobs' main store on Marietta street, and at the office of the Wesley Memorial church.

Rehearsals are being held at 10:30 o'clock every Friday morning at Mrs. Burt's studio.

J. CARROLL PAYNE HEADS ATLANTA HUMANE SOCIETY

At the regular monthly meeting of the Atlanta Humane society, held in the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday afternoon, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President, J. Carroll Payne; first vice president, Mrs. Stacy E. Hill; second vice president, Mrs. Joseph N. Moore; secretary, Mrs. Katherine Taylor; treasurer, William Wallace Lyons; attorney, Philip Welner; board of directors, Robert S. Shedd, Louis Beck, Charles Palmer, J. E. Burke, J. P. Stephens, Meyer Regenstien, Mrs. A. V. Gude, Julian Boehm, Mrs. Z. R. Pettit, Dr. Spencer R. Stone, Mrs. T. T. Stephens, Mrs. R. K. Rambo, Mrs. A. L. Hays, Mrs. J. Carroll Payne and E. B. Florence.

In April the society will celebrate its thirty-fifth anniversary, having been organized in 1890 with Captain J. F. Burke as its first president.

April 7 to 14 has been designated as "Be Kind to Animals Week" by the National Humane society, and the observance will be observed here by the local Humane society.

ATLANTA T. P. A'S PLANNING FOR BIG STATE CONVENTION

Preparations are now under way for the state convention of the Travelers Protective association, to be held in Savannah, April 10.

Atlanta will furnish 70 delegates and Georgia members will offer a candidate for national president at the national convention at Grand Rapids, Mich., in June.

At the last regular meeting of Post B, the following officers were elected for the current year:

Sam N. Freeman, president; B. B. Baber, first vice president; L. O. Surles, second vice president; J. H. Mitchell, third vice president; J. H. Andrews, secretary-treasurer.

Board of directors: J. C. Harrison, John Andrews, John H. Owen, T. C. Hutchison, Arthur McD. Wilson.

Committee chairman: L. Press Huddleston; press: Geo. A. Greshon; employment: W. O. Stamps, legislative: Geo. E. Johnson, sick: C. J. Hollingsworth, hotel: R. A. Croyles, railroad: E. D. McDonald, membership.

MOTOR EQUIPMENT BIDS SUBMITTED TO COMMITTEE

Bids on motor equipment for the city sanitary department were submitted Tuesday at a meeting of the purchasing committee of council. Several local truck dealers submitted bids, accompanied by detailed specifications.

The sum of approximately $11,500 was recently appropriated for the purpose of acquiring additional motor equipment for the sanitary department. Decision of the committee will not be made for several days, it was indicated Tuesday.

Is Green No More

"My experience with your medicine has been wonderful. My stomach and liver trouble of five years standing took a new turn two years ago when I took an olive green complexion. I spent $1,200 with doctors and specialists only to prove that I was still as green as ever. A friend advised me to take May's Wonderful Remedy, and I am green no more. My stomach and liver trouble has all disappeared. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and always the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Jacob Pharmacy and druggists everywhere.—(adv.)"

End Pain End Cramps NAYKO TABLETS

Why suffer month after month unnecessarily? Nayko, the pleasant, harmless tablets used for relief by thousands of women will end the trouble. This is an ethical, physician's prescription, compounded for the relief of pain and cramps for purpose only. Order from your druggist or direct from us.

Write for booklet and information. Price, 50c per box.

NAYKO LABORATORIES Box No. 2000 Atlanta, Ga.

GAS RATE HEARINGS TO CONTINUE TODAY

Hearing of the Georgia Railway & Power Co.'s case against the Georgia Public Service commission, which involves a proposed increased gas rate from $1.55 to $1.65 per 1,000 cubic feet, will be resumed this morning at 9 o'clock in the Federal building, before master in chancery, Cam Dorsey. Master Dorsey conducted Tuesday's hearing at which H. M. Atkinson, chairman of the board of directors of the company, and Professor Henry E. Riggs, of the University of Michigan, testified.

The hearing will continue through several days, as the master and the evidence as to facts in the litigation now pending in the United States court.

Master Dorsey announced Tuesday at the conclusion of the hearing that Professor Riggs would probably consume the whole of Wednesday in completing his testimony. He took the floor after Mr. Atkinson and finished Tuesday. Mr. Atkinson stated the object of the power company in this case, is to obtain a "fair and equitable valuation of the property of the gas company for the purpose of rate-making."

Riggs is Expert.

Professor Riggs, a civil engineer of national reputation and a recognized authority on the valuation of public utilities, appears as a witness for the gas company, in this case. In his examination Tuesday morning, he expressed great respect for engineers who have heretofore valued the company's property, and withheld, for the present, his own views as to the value of the gas company's properties or the fairness of the methods employed by them in making valuations.

Professor Riggs talked but a very short while Tuesday, the majority of the time being taken by Mr. Atkinson, who left the city in the afternoon for Florida.

Professor Riggs stated that there were two methods employed in valuating property. One method is based on the cost of the property and the other on the cost of original investment. In the case of old properties he said there might be a variance of 75 per cent in the valuations arrived at by these two methods, but he will continue his testimony today.

Purposes Outlined.

"The whole purpose of the present gas case is to get a just valuation of the gas company's property and to establish a fair method of determining value so in future investors may feel safe and be ready to supply additional money in order to provide for proper extensions and improvements of the property and meet the needs of a large growing city," Mr. Atkinson stated Tuesday.

"The question is not one of rates but of establishing a fair method of determining value regardless of rates," he asserted.

"This," he declared, "is necessary if the service Atlanta must have is provided in the future. If we can't get some proper legal rule as to the value investors will never know where they stand. Investors are entitled to some method of determining value that is fair, just and right and that's all that is asked in this case."

"The cause of this hearing today," Mr. Atkinson said, "is that the state, which has power to regulate and determine value, doesn't carry out its moral and legal obligations."

"The return on the investment should equal double the bond interest," Mr. Atkinson stated. "The investor must feel that he has adequate security before he will part with his money. It will take $100,000,000 of new cash capital to provide gas service equal to the present for an Atlanta of 500,000 population. Who will put up this $100,000,000 unless there is sufficient margin of earnings to attract the investor and to insure proper security for him?"

Cites Long Service.

"This gas company," Mr. Atkinson continued, "has been furnishing service since 1856, nearly seventy years. The name of the company has been synonymous with good service. The entire period up to the world war was one continuous record of decreased rates. For many years we sold gas at $1 a thousand cubic feet.

"The war came and prices of everything except gas soared. We went to the state, gave definite figures of increased costs and asked for rates to equalize this increase resulting from the war. We were granted a 15 per cent increase to equalize increased costs of about 100 per cent. We suffered and lost.

"Prices kept going up. We went again to the state and got a small increase of 20 cents when prices and costs of making gas had increased 140 per cent."

Figures were submitted by Mr. Atkinson to show the result of this condition. "In 1920," he stated, "the company failed to earn the out-of-pocket cost of producing gas by $80,825.88.

"The gas company never made a request of the state until the world upheaval came and everything went up," said Mr. Atkinson. "We then asked the state to equalize the increase in costs by an increase in rates. They failed to do so and in four years the gas company lost nearly a million dollars."

Charges that Chief of Construction W. A. Hansell overpaid the McDougald Construction company approximately $3,000 on the Lloyd street sewer contract will not be heard by the special committee of general council until Mayor Sims has returned from Cuba. It was learned Tuesday.

Allderman W. B. Hartfield, chairman of the committee of five authorized to probe the charges, stated that in conference with Mayor Sims he learned that the mayor desired postponement until he has made the Cuban trip.

Mayor Sims expects to leave the city this week, and to return within the next 10 days or two weeks, it is understood.

Funeral Services For Andrew Burruss To Be Held Today

Funeral services for Andrew Edwin Burruss, who died in Flint, Mich., several days ago, will be held here this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the chapel of H. M. Patterson & Son, funeral directors. Mr. Burruss was 17 years of age, and held a responsible position with the Buick Motor company in Flint. He was well known in Atlanta.

Besides his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hill Burruss, he is survived by one sister, Miss Sara Burruss; his grandfather, Mr. B. P. Burruss, of Griffin, Ga., and three aunts, Mrs. John L. Gregory, Mrs. W. W. Blackburn and Mrs. Perry Davis.

Interment will be in West View cemetery.

Medical students in New England used to take laughing gas for amusement before they learned its actual value.

THREE ARE HURT IN AUTO CRASHES DURING TUESDAY

Two persons were seriously injured in automobile accidents Tuesday while a third escaped with minor cuts and bruises.

Those seriously hurt were Emory Howell Leach, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Leach, 126 Confederate avenue and a negro, Henry Jackson.

Leach was rushed to the Grady hospital where surgeons expressed the fear that his skull was fractured. He also was seriously bruised about the body and legs. He was injured at South Boulevard and Greenwood avenue about 11:45 o'clock Tuesday morning as he rode his bicycle into the side of an automobile which R. M. Wilson, 705 South Boulevard, was driving, according to information given by the police.

Call Officer J. G. Bowman and C. E. Ford, who investigated the accident, were requested by the injured boy's father not to make any charge against Wilson.

Wilson was taken to an arm and broken, besides sustaining serious bruises and cuts about the head. He was struck by a motor truck at Hilliard and Houston streets Tuesday afternoon.

The truck was driven by J. C. Maiden, of 87 Richardson street, who told Officers T. R. Glover and D. A. Burden that the negro darted suddenly into Houston street in front of his truck.

The other auto victim was C. M. Riley, of 16 Bluff street, who was struck down by a sedan or coupe driven by an unidentified woman as he stepped down into Murphy avenue while walking up Glenn street. He was badly bruised and cut about the arms and legs.

He told Capt. M. V. Barnett, of the traffic bureau, that the woman did not stop after striking him.

INTERSTATE BODY TO HEAR PETITION OF PELHAM ROAD

The Interstate Commerce Commission has requested the Georgia Public Service commission to hold a hearing for the Pelham and Havana railroad for a certificate of public convenience and necessity, under which owners of a railroad wish to abandon operation of the property.

The state commission has accepted the request and announced Tuesday that the hearing will be held in Thomasville, Ga., on April 15. It was decided to hold the hearing in Thomasville, which is the nearest suitable point to the road in question, in order that the people served by the road might appear and present any testimony or arguments, without imposing upon them the trouble and expense of a journey to Atlanta.

The Florida public service commission has been invited by the Interstate Commerce Commission to sit in at the hearing.

DRINK OR DRUG

POISONING requires ELIMINATION. The Neal Treatment acts as an ANTIDOTE for these poisons, creates a soothing for drink or drugs and overcomes the diseased condition. (No Hosiery used.) Dr. J. H. Conner, Jr., 222 Woodward Ave., Atlanta, Ga.—(adv.)

Time counts when you need a Physic

PLUTO WATER

America's Physic

Chest Colds Instantly Relieved

Turpentine Ointment

Better than Iodine

TURPEDINE Turpentine and Iodine

ASPRIN

Beware of Imitations!

BAYER

Demand

Unless you see the "Bayer Cross" on package or on tablets you are not getting the genuine Bayer Aspirin proved safe by millions and prescribed by physicians over twenty-three years for

Colds Toothache Headache Lumbago Neuritis Rheumatism Neuralgia Pain, Pain

Accept "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" only. Each unbroken package contains proven directness. Handy boxes of twelve tablets cost few cents. Druggists also sell bottles of 24 and 100. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monocetateidester of Salicylic acid.—(adv.)

PLANS OF PROMOTERS TO BE INVESTIGATED

Dealers in real estate situated outside the boundaries of Georgia who wish to sell their property in this state will have to comply with rules laid down by the Georgia securities commission, which, in practically every case, will require personal inspection of the land to be offered for sale and a report by the commission's examiner or a real estate board. This policy was adopted by the commission at a meeting held Tuesday afternoon.

Forms of application for real estate selling permits have been drawn up by Chief Examiner T. B. Connor. The forms were submitted to the commission Tuesday and approved. They will be available as soon as they can be printed.

The commission ruled that a dealer in lands lying outside of the state, advertising in Georgia newspapers, or offering lots from a booth at a real estate exposition, constituted a dealer within the meaning of the law.

The commission voted to send Chief Examiner Connor to New Orleans to confer with firms in that city, operating leased wires in Georgia, with a view to preventing in the future the opening of an office where a blackboard is used for quoting prices, until the dealer has been investigated by the commission and licensed.

Authority was given the Sherwood Forest Estate, Inc., to sell $500,000 of preferred stock, giving one share of no par value common with each share of preferred stock.

The application of the Durant Acceptance corporation to sell 25,000 shares of no par value stock at $15 per share was deferred for further investigation.

Members of Safety Council Witness Showing of Film

"Ask Daddy," a motion picture drama showing the numerous perils which beset childhood, in the streets and in the home, will be shown for the first time in Atlanta today at the luncheon of the Atlanta Safety Council at the Winlock hotel, at 12:30 o'clock.

Members of the board of education, the Inter-Civic Council and other Atlantans interested in accident prevention have been invited. The film is the first issued by the National Safety Council, of which the Atlanta council is a member, in its efforts to teach children the danger of carelessness and ignorance.

Judge Shepard Bryan, president of the Atlanta Safety Council, will preside.

Spherical tanks in which volatile oil can be stored with a minimum of evaporation have been built in Oklahoma.

GEORGIA EDUCATOR ENTERS PROTEST AGAINST GIFT TAX

Washington, March 4.—(Special.) A protest against the tax on gifts in the tax reduction bill passed by the house has been made by Dr. J. R. McCain, president of Agnes Scott college at Decatur, Ga.

Senator Harris presented the message to the senate Tuesday and it was referred to the finance committee, which is considering the tax bill.

GREW NOMINATED UNDER-SECRETARY

Washington, March 4.—Joseph C. Grew, of New Hampshire, now minister to Switzerland, was nominated by President Coolidge today to be under-secretary of state, succeeding William Phillips, who becomes ambassador to Belgium.

Stewart's Furnishings and Hat Dept. 8 W. Alabama St.

The close observer says rain and general wetness in February has played hob with Men's Hats—that's past—another season is here. Let's "rub out" and start anew with a hat from Stewart's—They're right!

$3.95 to $7.00

SCHORLE HATS

Manhattan SHIRTS

If you are as well "sold" on the Manhattan idea of quality as we are, you'll surely look to Stewart's for that flock of shirts for Spring. They sell at $2.50 to $8.00.

Something silk and wool and knitted, good! Four-in-hand Ties at $1.00

Stewart's GOOD SHOES FOR EVERYBODY

Who shall I say wants to see him?

A question never asked about a mailing

SOME men who do a lot of buying are hard to see personally. You must have an appointment.

If you come unknown and unheralded, you run smack against the question, "Who shall I say wants to see him?" A few seconds later you hear that your man is "engaged" or "in a conference" or "sorry" or "not interested," depending on the veracity or courtesy of the individual.

The printed message that you send by mail never gets this kind of answer.

If the man it seeks is engaged, the printed message waits. If he is "not interested," the well-printed message proceeds to get him interested.

The printer and the postman take your story through any gate, around any buffer, past any excuse. The same Dora that tells you her boss cannot see you walks right back to his office and says, "Here is something that came in the mail," and he takes it and reads it—if it is any good.

Let this happen a few times and when you or your men call in person, your cards will mean something; your name will have a standing—you will be of the kind of people that man comes down to business each day to see. Good printing on good paper does it.

better paper better printing

The simple way to prepare effective direct mail advertising is described in a series of books published by S. D. Warren Company. These books are known as the "More Business Series." You can obtain them as they are issued, without cost to you, from any distributor of Warren's Standard Printing Papers.

S. D. WARREN COMPANY • BOSTON, MASS.

WARREN'S STANDARD PRINTING PAPERS

Tested for printing, folding, and binding qualities

Warren's Standard Printing Papers are Distributed by SLOAN PAPER COMPANY ATLANTA, GA.

PAPER FOR THE PRINTER

Telephones: Walnut 0653 and 0654

Warren's Standard Printing Papers

Lost or Stolen! $400,000,000

Every year—despite the most persistent warnings—swindling promoters steal from people who can least afford it four hundred million dollars.

You know—perhaps—how to tell whether an investment is safe or speculative. Your trusted friend knows, too—perhaps.

But—can your wife be always sure? Monthly-income insurance with the Massachusetts Mutual gives absolute protection against unscrupulous promoters. The cost is moderate.

Write your name, age and address in the space above, tear out this advertisement and put it in the mail today. It will bring you full particulars.

Harry I. Davis Manager

When you see us, don't think of Life Insurance. When you think of Life Insurance, SEE US.

Special Representatives: Matilda D. Corbitt, Mary L. Mendenhall, Thos. L. Rochester, Charles S. Gardner, Sig Pappenhimer, Clarence W. Wall, Elizabeth Hames, Carl Woltschimer

Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Co. Established 1851 1506 Citizens and Southern Building, Atlanta, Ga.

Rock Island

Shortest line Quickest time

Little Rock

5 trains daily

Lv. Memphis 7:00 A.M. 9:30 A.M. 2:30 P.M. 2:40 P.M. 11:59 P.M.

oil burning locomotives no smoke no cinders

Write for booklet and information. Price, 50c per box.

NAYKO LABORATORIES Box No. 2000 Atlanta, Ga.

For fares, reservations and information apply to V. M. CLUTTS, General Agent, Rock Island Lines, 115 Wesley Bldg., Phone Walnut 190 Atlanta, Ga.

LOCAL FIRM PRINTS GEORGIA LAW REPORTS

Contract for printing and publication of reports of the Georgia supreme court and court of appeals has been let by the state to the Harrison company, lawbook publishers of Atlanta, was announced Tuesday.

The contract calls for the printing of ten volumes which will cover a period of approximately two and a half years. It was stated. Each volume contains 1,000 pages, and the state requires that not less than 1,000 copies of each be published in the first edition.

The Harrison company will, of course, publish many more copies than this, as it will be called upon under the contract, to assume distribution of the copies to all who wish to purchase them. This system of distribution was adopted under act of 1920, passed by the legislature. Previously the books were distributed through the state libraries to whom all would be purchasers had to apply.

The contract includes, in addition to the new reports, republication of any old volumes which are now either out of print or nearly so.

It was stated that the price made by the Harrison company was less than any submitted since the new law went into effect. The previous publisher was not established in Georgia, an out-of-state concern having submitted the lowest bid for the last contract let.

In Great Britain the women now exceed the men by nearly 2,000,000.

Demonstrations at your convenience

Let us show you, on the screen, personal motion pictures so easily made with the Cine-Kodak.

Demonstrations on any day, at any hour, without even the formality of an appointment. It is a pleasure for us to explain this new Eastman invention. You'll enjoy it, too.

Complete outfit, Cine-Kodak, Kodascope projector, Screen, etc., $335.

Eastman Kodak Co.
(Glenn Photo Stock Co.)
183 Peachtree St.

For Pimply Skin Peterson's Ointment

"All pimples are inflammation of the skin," says Peterson, "and the best and quickest way to get rid of them is to use Peterson's Ointment." Used by millions for Eczema, Skin and Scalp Itch, Ulcers, Sore Feet, All druggists, 55c, 60c, $1.00. (Adv.)

Simple Application That Dissolves Blackheads

No more squeezing and pinching to get rid of those unsightly blemishes, blackheads. There is one simple, safe and sure way to get them out and that is to use the simple application of emollient powder from your drugstore—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth—rub briskly over the blackheads for a few seconds—wash the parts and every blackhead will be gone.

Fumoling and squeezing out blackheads make large pores and you cannot get all of the blackheads out this way—while this simple application of emollient powder and water dissolves every particle of them and leaves the skin and pores in their natural condition—safe.

Try the New Cuticura
Shaving Stick Freely Lathering
Medicinal and Emollient

NEW TREATMENT FOR SWOLLEN GLANDS

People who have enlarged glands ought to know that by freely applying Eucalaid oil daily the glands can be brought to a head and all the germs and poisonous secretions discharged and destroyed.

Furthermore, the ointment will heal surely and speedily and without leaving an unsightly scar. People who desire this treatment should secure a two-ounce original bottle of Eucalaid oil (full strength) and use as directed. It is a very concentrated preparation and a small quantity lasts a long time. It is also used to reduce swollen veins and dissolves gout. Jacobs Pharmacy Co.—(adv.)

Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic

Is an Excellent Tonic for Women and Children. 60c

Silver Pheasants In Vogue

As decorations for the dining table, console table, mantel, or sideboard, the beautiful Sterling pheasants are very much in vogue.

In our window today are several pairs of Sterling Silver pheasants of different sizes, and of a little different design.

Call by the store and see these ultra fashionable decorative Silver birds.

MAIER & BERKELE, Inc.

Gold and Silversmiths
31 Whitehall Street
Established 1887

Bogus Officers Meet "Originals" And Land in Jail

Two men who are charged with having represented themselves as officers of the law in order to extort money from victims Tuesday were occupying prison cells, themselves involved in the tale of the law.

I. W. Burke, 32, of 51 East Baker street, was captured Tuesday night when he visited an Ivy street address and threatened to lodge a case for keeping a disorderly house against a woman living there unless she gave him money. Detective E. M. Cason, Patrolman L. D. Kinard, Assistant Chief E. L. Jeff and Captain J. E. Chandler joined in the argument, which ended when Burke was assigned quarters in the police station.

Officers making the arrest stated that Burke had been visiting houses representing himself as Officer Fred Tipton and threatening court action unless money was given him. They stated they had been "laying" for Burke for some time past.

George P. Logan, 35, of Westhaven, who is said to have been a thorn in the side of opening couples in the vicinity of Maddox park, was the other man held. He is charged with representing himself as being a county policeman.

An unnamed man is said to have complained that Logan had "offered to drop a case" against himself and a girl with whom he was sitting in an automobile in consideration of $15.

This man said he paid part of the $15, and arranged to meet Logan and pay the remainder.

County Officer Neal was in hiding near the parked car, and when Logan is said to have appeared to collect the remainder of his $15, the policeman took a hand. Logan threatened to arrest Neal, but instead was placed under arrest himself.

Bond for Burke was assessed at $100. Logan's bond was fixed at $500.

"Called by God" Despondent Man Slashes Throat

After having informed acquaintances early Tuesday afternoon that "God had called him," Charles Forrester, 56, owner of a pressing club at 10 Lynch street, was found in his shop with his throat cut from ear to ear.

He died of his injuries at 9:30 o'clock Tuesday night at Grady hospital. An officer assigned to investigate the case stated that in their opinion the wounds were self-inflicted.

Forrester is said to have been brooding over all his life time past. Tuesday afternoon he carried his dog to a meat market at Tenth street and Hennip street and asked friends there to feed and care for the animal.

"God has called me," he added. A short time later he was found in an unconscious condition with a gaping wound in his throat and a bloody razor close by.

PLANS TO REVISE FIRE DEPARTMENT RULES UNDER WAY

Several new provisions will be embodied in the rules and regulations of the fire department if changes proposed by Alderman Jesse W. Armistead become effective, it was learned Tuesday.

The revised rules will be submitted to a committee for action at its next meeting, the date of which has not been set.

A rule requiring that complaints against members of the department from citizens must be in writing before the chief is allowed to reprimand, suspend or discharge the man against whom there is a complaint, is one of the proposed provisions.

Heretofore the chief has had authority to punish men on oral complaints. Under the new rule a written complaint, properly sworn to, will be required before such action can be taken.

"This is a change for the protection of the men," Alderman Armistead said. "We feel that when a complaint is made against a man he is entitled to know the identity of the person complaining," he asserted.

SPECIAL LENTEN SEASON SERVICES TO BEGIN TODAY

Members of the Episcopal church in Atlanta are urged to attend special services to be held in several parishes during Lenten season, in a Lenten pastoral letter issued by Bishop Hoagy J. McKel, of the Episcopal diocese of Atlanta.

In addition to special services in each church, union services will be held on Thursday nights, beginning next Thursday, at St. Philip's Cathedral, at the corner of Washington and East Hunter street, at 8 o'clock.

At that time Dr. W. W. Meuninger, rector of All Saints' church, will preside at the altar.

The usual Ash Wednesday services and special services for the first day of Lent will be held jointly at 10:30 o'clock this morning at St. Philip's Cathedral.

Women realtors of Philadelphia, of whom there are a number who have achieved marked success in their chosen field, are now in a war over the refusal of the Real Estate Board of their city to admit them to active membership.

Smiles of Bare-Limbed Show Beauties Softens Heart of Atlanta Police Officer

Photograph by Mathewson & Price, Staff Photographers.

Patrolman Stephens is shown reprimanding Miss Betty Cornell (left) and Miss Billie Walker (right), members of the "Spice of 1923," who appeared on Atlanta streets Tuesday minus their hosiery. Officer Stephens looks speculatively at the serpent head protruding from beneath Miss Cornell's skirt and wonders whether it is long enough to be a "garter snake." After explaining that discard of stockings was done mainly for economy's sake, the two beauties were permitted to go.

Spring is here—Not only is spring here but along with it comes a new fad at least a new fad to Atlanta's georgette-wearing element. It is the "bare-limbed" fad, and was brought to this city by two very fetching young women with the "Spice of 1923," now playing at the Atlanta theater.

The trim ankles of Miss Billie Walker, former Atlanta girl, and Miss Betty Cornell, both of whom are dancing with the "Spice of 1923," created a sensation when they tripped daintily through Atlanta's downtown section Tuesday—stockingsless.

A butterfly of red adorned one lovely limb of Miss Walker, and a crimson snake, with a "touch-me-and-I'll bite" sort of look in its eye, was entwined wearily about Miss Cornell's shapely ankle. (An interested observer suggested that it was a "garter snake" and was immediately there upon given two tickets for Tuesday night's performance.)

The two young women gave many reasons for discarding hose during the spring and summer months. First is the economic reason. And then again in a saving time. With a little dash of paint the lady can change her "stockings" for any sort of occasion.

What's the use of wearing stockings anyway, they certainly don't "protect" one, the two young ladies declared.

Thousands of Atlantans (males) are probably hoping that Miss Walker and Miss Cornell won't take the new fad away when they leave.

CATHOLIC BISHOP LEAVES UNIQUE LAST TESTAMENT

The late Bishop John Edward Gunn, founder of Marist college and one of the south's best known Catholics, who died recently in Natchez, Miss., left a very unique will, it became known Tuesday.

Extracts include reference to his nativity, as follows:

"In life and in death, I am proud of three things: My Irish birth, my Catholic faith and my American citizenship. I tried to translate my love for all three into service and sacrifice."

Further, the will reads:

"I have no property, so I have nothing to leave by will. I have relatives who gave me much. They gave me and their money to the Catholic church. They expect nothing from me, alive or dead, but my thanks and prayers. In life, I gave them my prayers and in this my last will and testament I give them my thanks."

Text of will:

"As a matter of record, and according to law, I declare the following to be my testamentary wishes:

"First, I appoint the Right Rev. John M. Prendergast, of Vicksburg, Miss., my executor, without bond and without any obligation to make any report to any court.

"Second, should I hereafter acquire any property, real, personal or mixed of which I might be seized and possessed, I give and bequeath the same to the Right Rev. John Prendergast, now in Vicksburg, Miss., and Rev. William Leech, now of Pass Christian, Miss., share and share alike.

"Third, I wish to make known that I have heretofore given to the Cathedral diocese of Natchez, a body corporate under the laws of the state of Mississippi, as trustee for the various congregations of the Roman Catholic church in Mississippi, all of my personal property, consisting of bonds, papers, furniture, jewelry, church goods and other articles used by me in my office as bishop over said congregations, and which were in my possession as trustee for said congregations."

Rockinchair Union
Suits
$1.50 and $2.50

Manhattan Union Suits

An unexcelled variety just in for Spring—In the most attractive fabrics—designs, either whites or colors—

$1.50 to $4.00

Cool as the Breezes

MANHATTAN PAJAMAS—SHIRTS AND COLLARS

See the New Spring Manhattan Products—

PARKS-CHAMBERS-HARDWICK COMPANY

Know
Hats

Clapp
Shoes

ARBITRATION BEGINS ON STREET CAR WAGES

Public hearings on the demand of street railway employees of the Georgia Railway & Power Co. for an increased wage scale, will begin this morning at 10 o'clock in the audience chamber of the county commissioners at the courthouse.

The company made the following announcement of the hearing:

"The street railroad employees have asked increases in the present wage scale, which if granted would increase the present payrolls of the company in the railway department approximately 25 per cent. Under the existing wage scale approximately 42 per cent of the entire street railroad revenue (or 42 cents out of every dollar taken in) is paid directly to its employees in that department.

Under existing conditions, the company is financially unable to consider the demands of its employees for any increase in the present wage scale. Under an agreement of some years' standing the street railroad and its employees have agreed to submit their differences to arbitration. The street railroad has named Hon. C. Murphy Chandler, former chairman of the Georgia service commission of Georgia, as its arbitrator and the employees have named Mr. Luther Still as their representative on the arbitration board. These two arbitrators have agreed upon Hon. Edwin F. Johnson, chairman of the Fulton county commission of roads and revenues, as the third arbitrator.

The board as thus constituted has fixed March 5 next as the date upon which the hearing of evidence will be commenced. The hearing will be held in the audience chamber of the county commissioners beginning at 10 o'clock a. m.

Any increase in the operating expense of the street railroad due to increases in the wages of such a large body of its employees, numbering approximately 1,255, will fall directly upon the public who use the cars and the public is deeply interested in a fair settlement of the wage controversy between the street railroad and its employees. So the hearings will be held in the open, and such of the public as desire can attend the sessions and form their own conclusions.

The negotiations between the employees and the street railroad have been conducted in good feeling and the agreement to submit their differences to arbitration is mutually satisfactory. In fact, all of the terms of a contract, except wages, have been agreed upon."

SHOWERS TODAY

Slight Drop in Mercury May Accompany Rain.

Showers, with moderately colder weather to follow, is the prediction for Atlanta Wednesday by C. F. von Herrmann, official weatherman in charge of Uncle Sam's bureau here.

While the temperature Monday rose to 66, with about the same record for Tuesday, the little drop in the mercury, now expected, will not last long and a return of the fair, springlike weather can confidently be looked forward to, despite the showers, Mr. von Herrmann said.

A couple of disturbances, the most important one in the middle west and the secondary one in extreme southern Texas, were reported Tuesday. It is these conditions which indicate rain for Atlanta.

PALE SKIN, DULL EYES, NO ENERGY?

WHEN your blood needs iron your strength and energy fail, your skin is pale and blotchy, your eyes dull and your flesh flabby.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan provides iron in just the form most readily assimilated—a form which will not irritate the weakest stomach nor discolor the teeth, but which effectively enriches the blood and invigorates the body.

Get Gude's from your druggist and begin to get the benefit of its remarkable vitalizing and restorative qualities. Liquid or tablets, as you prefer.

Free Tablets To see for yourself the Gude's Pepto-Mangan, send for free Package, M. J. Breitenbach Co., 53 Warren St., N. Y.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan

Tonic and Blood Enricher

Tickets for Lecture By Dr. McGovern Are Now on Sale

Tickets for the lecture of Dr. W. M. McGovern, of the University of London, to be delivered next Friday night at Wesley Memorial hall, have been placed on sale at Cable hall, according to W. J. Scott, president of the Atlanta Public School Teachers' association.

There has been a great demand among teachers for tickets to the lecture, he stated. The lecture will begin at 8 o'clock.

In Germany a total of 1,735,576 women workers belong to trade unions.

LOCAL KIWANIS GET INVITATIONS TO BIG FESTIVAL

A delegation of Kiwanians from Fort Valley, headed by President Edwin T. Murray, attended the luncheon of the Atlanta Kiwanis club Tuesday for the purpose of extending an invitation to the local club to visit Fort Valley on the occasion of the approaching annual peach festival.

Mr. Murray delivered the formal invitation in a brief speech. Miss Audrey Fagan, of Fort Valley, hailed as a "sample" from the great "peach" belt, entertained with a delightful reading.

The principal address of the day, on the subject of Kiwanis, was made by Dave W. Webb, of Atlanta.

McCord's Bulletin

Wanted Ten Thousand Men
To Keep Atlanta Going

In three years the City and people of Atlanta have spent $60,000,000 in building improvements.

On this the annual cost of interest, sinking fund, taxes, insurance and repairs is not less than $6,000,000 and the cost of operation at least $4,000,000 more.

The workers of all grades in Georgia factories are creating new wealth at the average rate of $1,400 or $1,500 per annum—somewhat less than in 1919.

It will take at least 7,000 such workers to pay the bare cost of upkeep on Atlanta's new construction, and half as many more to make the most of it.

It will take that many workers in factories or their equivalent in wealth creation, whether in trade, industry or other useful service.

The community as a whole is in the position of a corporation which has issued $60,000,000 of bonds and must pay the fixed charges on that sum, plus the cost of operation on the improvements, or get into serious trouble.

Now, how is Atlanta going to meet this obligation? The question is a serious one and demands the earnest thought of our people.

Can we depend on natural growth alone to meet the emergency? If we do we may have the sad experience of the celebrated Mr. Micawber.

all you need

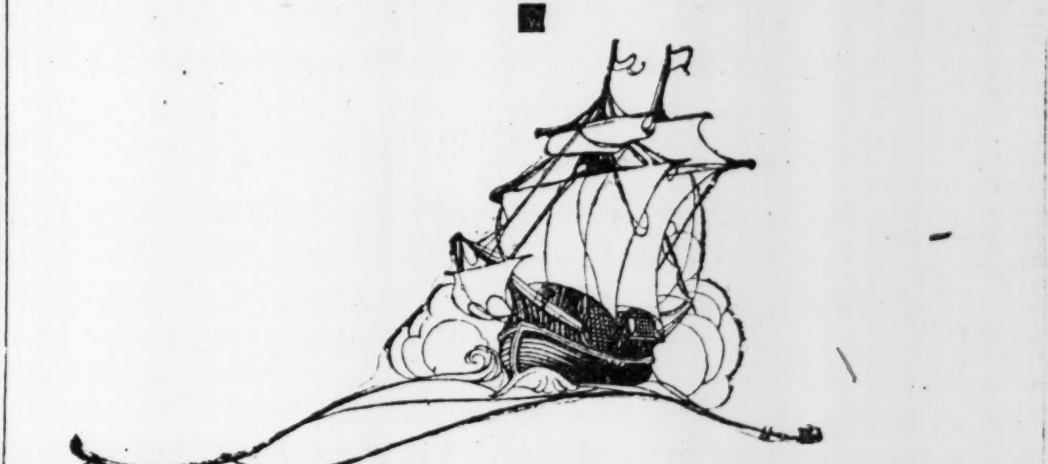

That Fine Flavor

Our customers often remark on the rich flavor of EMPIRE COFFEE and they would not be surprised at it if they knew the unfailing care that is taken in its cultivation, selection, roasting and blending. With all this it comes to you fresh in hermetically sealed cans and you get the best coffee in perfect condition.

Blended for People
Who demand the Best
McCord-Stewart Co.
ATLANTA - ROME
"There is nothing finer"

MUSE TAILORING DEPARTMENT—SEVENTH FLOOR

B'JOVE! THE SPRING WOOLENS from WEST OF ENGLAND!

they have landed, and are arrayed for your review on the top Muse floor: the world's prime achievement in fine woollens—exclusive importations for your Spring Muse Tailored Suits.

Superbly Muse-tailored to your individual tendency, the Muse Tailored Suit is an attainment—Founded upon these finest woollens that the skill of man can produce—it out-lasts time—clothing you splendidly year after year. Come in today—make your selection—and this spring have "the suit that you wouldn't part with."

MUSE'S

"The Style Center of the South"

Peachtree :: Walton :: Broad

Greatest of Free
Prize
Offers
Made

Bring Music
Into Your Home

This sensational free offer will make you "snap" into attention. And it means just what it says. In return for only a few hours of your time---hours you will spend in easy, pleasant work---you can win a handsome GIBSON CABINET PHONOGRAPH without spending a single cent and bring all the wondrous beauty of music into your home.

Atlantans and Georgians are natural lovers of music, and announcement of this great FREE PHONOGRAPH OFFER made by The Daily and Sunday Constitution will prove to be the sensation of the year in musical circles.

Let us tell you about the GIBSON. The cabinet is solidly constructed; the machine weighs twelve pounds and is of the following dimensions: 11 by 14 by 24 inches. The GIBSON plays all the standard records except the Edison and Pathe, which require special reproducer.

The reproducer is one of the best known and is being used on several of the higher-priced machines. The motor is of standard make, produced by the largest manufacturer of its kind in the United States. It is compact and well-made, and makes no noise while running.

THE GIBSON is the tried and tested product of a company that has manufactured phonographs for a long period of years and is now concentrating its efforts to put the greatest value in phonographs on the market at the least possible cost to the buyer.

The retail price of the GIBSON is $25, and it is pronounced the greatest value of the phonograph world today. Before closing its contract with the manufacturer of the GIBSON, The Constitution had an expert phonograph mechanic examine the machine thoroughly, and he unhesitatingly pronounced it one of the very best made for the money.

HANDSOME

Cabinet Phonograph For Only a Few Hours' Work Glad Tidings for Music Lovers!

See and hear this beautiful, clear-toned instrument---the sensation of the music world---either at 233 Peachtree Arcade or at the city circulation department, 2d floor, The Constitution building.

WARNING!!

If you want a free
GIBSON Phonograph you must act without delay.
This offer is good only for four weeks, expiring on April 2, 1924.

Read This Offer

The Gibson will be given you absolutely free of charge by The Constitution for only twelve NEW subscriptions of 15 weeks each to The Daily and Sunday Constitution. You are to collect from each of the twelve New subscribers secured by you the sum of $1 in payment for the first five of the fifteen weeks subscribed for, and the regular carrier will collect for the remaining ten weeks as he delivers the paper. Your friends will gladly help you win.

This offer is open to any person---man, woman, boy or girl, living in Atlanta or any city or town where The Constitution is delivered by a newsdealer. To workers who live outside of Atlanta, the GIBSON will be sent express charges collect.

NEW SUBSCRIPTIONS ARE REQUIRED FROM PERSONS NOT AT PRESENT READERS OF THE DAILY OR SUNDAY CONSTITUTION.

Subscriptions will be verified. Before the GIBSON is given The Constitution reserves the right to verify orders, subscribers' responsibility and newness of subscriptions. Out-of-town subscriptions must be turned over to the local newsdealer for verification and acceptance.

If you have read carefully the above phenomenal FREE PHONOGRAPH OFFER and desire to win one of these handsome cabinet machines for your home, don't delay. Clip out the entry blank below and bring or mail it to the circulation department of The Constitution. Easy success and unlimited pleasure and entertainment await you.

FILL OUT THIS COUPON

Circulation Dept., The Constitution,
Atlanta, Ga.

I would like a book of contracts so I can obtain a GIBSON Phonograph in return for securing only twelve NEW 15-weeks subscriptions to The Daily and Sunday Constitution to be delivered and collected for by your regular carrier at your regular rate, except the first five weeks of each subscription, for which $1 is to be paid in advance and turned in by the contestant.

Name

Address

City State

CAROLINA GALLOPS TO S. I. C. CHAMPIONSHIP

Joe Lohman and Jeff Smith Are in Town for the Friday Fracas

They Trounce Alabama 26-18

BY PAUL WARWICK.
North Carolina, by winning the Southern Intercollegiate conference basketball tournament by defeating Alabama, 26 to 18, at the auditorium at night, accomplished the most important upset the local dope has experienced since the fall of 1870. When a weather prediction came true, the dope has it that favorites do not come through. North Carolina did. The dope is upset. So few

The new Spring hits!

MUSE "PEP" SUITS

WITH TWO PAIRS OF TROUSERS

Man! they're here—with a bang! The new Spring "Pep" Suits for the college and high school circles! The 1924 line-up for Tech, Emory, Oglethorpe, Georgia, Mercer, and all the high schools! The new soft roll fronts; straight line effect; full trousers; "tail about snap"—Take a look this bright spring day—Third floor.

$25

Good-looking gray diagonals with a snappy over-shoulder green line; slate blue diagonals—blue over-shoulder; light brown with tan over-shoulder stripes; light tan—pencil striped, $25—Third floor.

$32.50

Sizing blue with a dash of silver pin stripes; light tan with a brown pin stripe; dark brown with gray pencil stripes; sport model; bluish gray with a striking over-shoulder stripe. $32.50—Third floor.

$35

Fine blue-gray diagonals with a cutting-up blue pencil stripe over-shoulder; snappy brown slightly checked with tan; dash of light spring gray; battleship gray with a striped pencil stripe of tan. $35—Third floor.

MUSE TUXEDOS $30

Remember—All these in the College Dept., 3d Floor

MUSE'S

"The Style Center of the South" Peachtree : Walton : Broad

CHAMP DEMPSEY LEAVES HOSPITAL

New York, March 4.—Jack Dempsey left the Polyclinic hospital Tuesday, after a week's confinement following an operation for hemorrhoids.

The effects of the operation were scarcely evident as Jack stepped jauntily through the hospital corridors and into a taxicab which took him to his hotel. He left the hospital before most of the patients had awakened.

Reports that the champion's fight program had been endangered by the operation are discounted, although he will be forced to take it easy for several weeks.

chances to use that snappy and original expression about the dope being upset have arrived that the temptation was irresistible.

North Carolina found a Tactar in the Crimson. The flashing attack which the Tarheels have displayed in their former combats was still there, but it was working under extreme difficulties, working against a determined crew from the state to the west who were not losers until the timer celebrated the end of the game by firing the pistol a half dozen times.

Indeed, it looked frequently as if Slim Carter, McGauley, et al., would succeed in sending the Carolinians back to Chapel Hill without the medals with which they are now privileged to adorn their breasts.

It's been a good tournament and there's no use waiting a moment longer to choose the All-Conference team. Once again we fling discretion to the winds and shoot this as our selection:

Carmichael, forward, North Carolina.

Gurr, forward, Georgia.

Carter, center, Alabama.

McDonald, guard, North Carolina.

Gatchell, guard, Miss. A. & M.

There you are. We switched Eddie Gurr to a forward position because nobody could stop us and because we believe he deserves it, on his shooting ability, his floor ability and his inherent basketball sense, despite the fact that Slim Carter and others might outjump him and otherwise out-point him at the pivot post.

While the raspberry chorus has its charm, we'll discuss the final game a bit more.

Alabama got the jump of North Carolina in the first half by a foul goal, but Carmichael delighted the fans and lived up to his reputation a few minutes later by sinking a long shot from the left-hand corner of the court—evidently a favored angle of his, since it is from that location that most of his registers have started during the meet. From that time on, Alabama never regained the lead, although the Tarheels were never able to get farther ahead than the final eight points except at one brief stage in the game, when they led the Crimson by nine points, 25 to 16.

This Boy Carmichael.

It's not to arrive some time, so why not discuss Carmichael here and have it over with? This slender lad of the North Carolina aggregation, the hub about which the outfit revolves in its varied and fascinating fashion, is nothing short of a marvel. A paragon of physical grace, every confection, every twitch of a muscle counts.

He palms a basketball in a manner that puzzles and astounds as the manager with his palmed half-dollar used to do when we stood open-mouthed before a slide-show barker. He extricates himself from precarious positions with the ease of a Houdini and covers the floor like a carpet. His eye for the basket—aw, shucks, we're getting too enthusiastic, but we mean it all.

McDonald, Tarheel guard, is another floor man with remarkable ability; and Cobb, a forward, is especially accurate in this very essential matter of shooting baskets. In fact, an 8-foot center couldn't go far if it held the whole Carolina team.

Slam Carter comprised the major portion of the opposition they encountered Tuesday night. Big and rangy, Slim is not near so hard to handle as he seems, and he made life miserable for the smooth-working five that was against him. Slim was ousted from the game in the latter half, but Carmichael and the rest of the Carolina team waited the rule and allowed him to finish the game—just another nice example of the excellent sportsmanship which has featured the entire tourney.

Little McGauley, with his terrific long shots, and Stabler, a defensive demon, shared honors with Carter in the final fray just as they have in those preceding.

Cobb was high-point man for the evening and consequently for the tournament, with 15 points to his credit.

The Line-up and Summary.

N. C. (20) Pos. A. L. A. (18)

Carmichael (20) Pos. A. L. A. (18)

Cobb (15) Pos. A. L. A. (18)

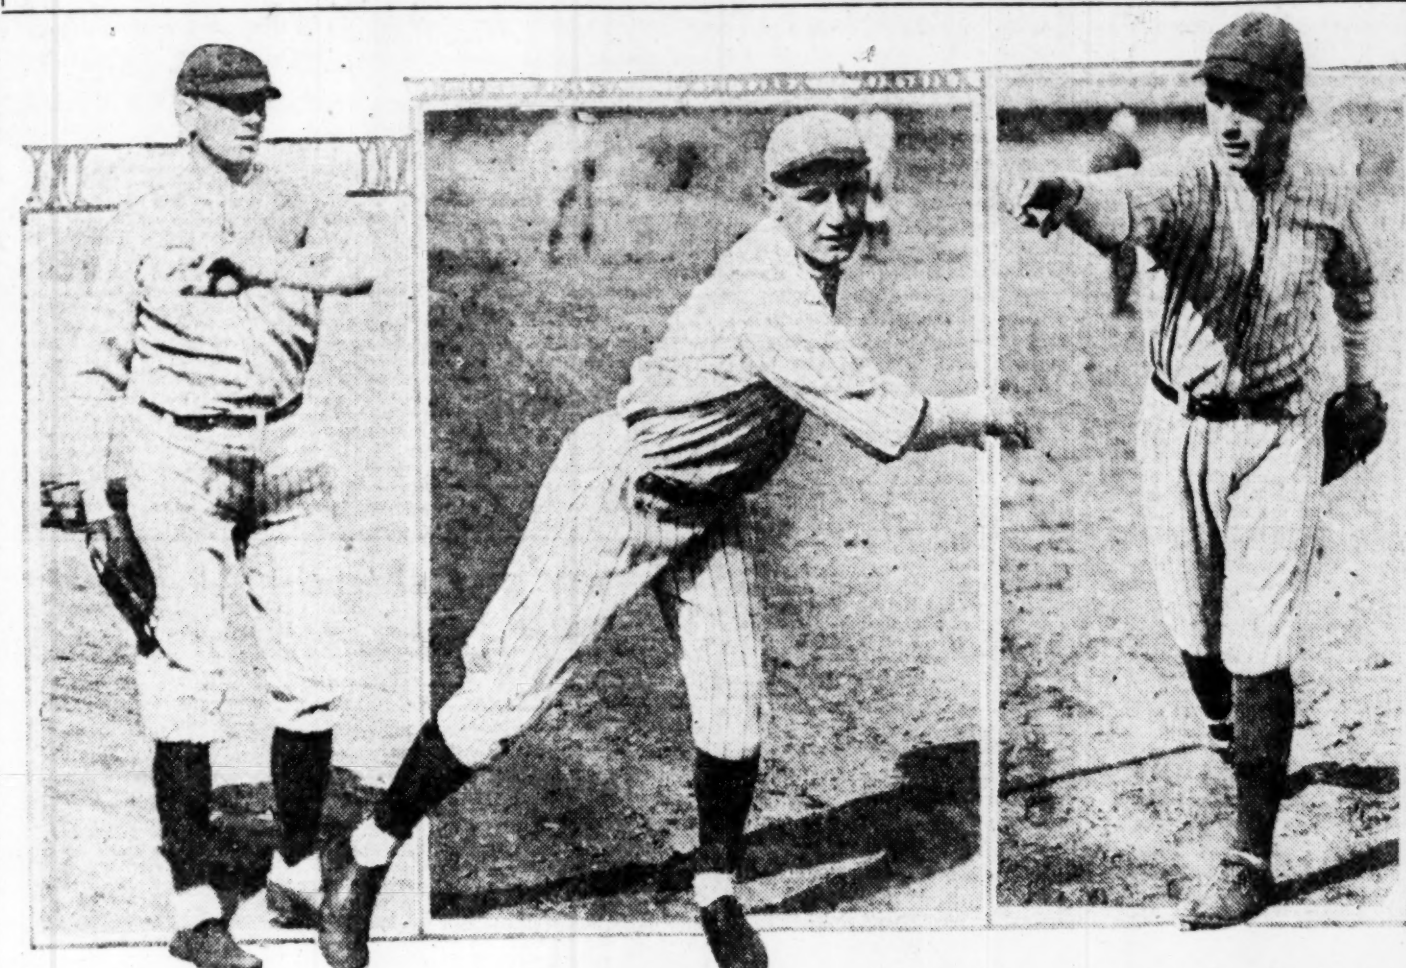

Doddler (15) Pos. A. L. A. (18)

McDonald (15) Pos. A. L. A. (18)

Devin (15) Pos. A. L. A. (18)

Referee, Sutton; umpire, Thorp; substitutions, Alabama, Propst (2) for McGauley, McCintock (2) for Propst; North Carolina, Colen for Stabler, Stabler for Colen, Colen for Stabler, Salmon for McCintock, gone at end of half, North Carolina, 15; Alabama, 10; field goals, North Carolina, 7; Alabama, 7; foul goals, North Carolina, 12 out of 18 tries, Alabama 4 out of 7 tries.

Three Cracker Pitching Candidates

Here are three of the pitching candidates that are being put through the paces at the Crackers' training camp in Griffin by Manager Bert Niehoff. On the extreme left is Ray Francis, the southpaw twirler secured from Detroit, and he is expected to draw one of the pitching assignments during the coming year. In the center is Fred Spates, a right-hander secured from Albany, N. Y. Spates is a former Syracuse university player. On the right, Dorris Miller, one of the best looking semi-pro prospects picked up from the Atlanta sand lot ranks by President Corbett. A great deal is expected of Miller this season and his progress will be watched with interest by the many local fans.

Berlenbach Is After Big Bout

New York, March 4.—Paul Berlenbach, who has hung up a record of twenty-three consecutive knockouts in his meteoric rise through middleweight and light heavyweight fistic ranks, now is ready to meet all comers in these divisions, Dan Hickey, manager and ring mentor of the sensational youngster, announced today.

INDIANS MAY CARRY TWELVE PITCHERS

Cleveland, March 4.—The Cleveland Indians will probably carry ten pitchers this season, Manager Tris Speaker announced on his arrival at Hot Springs today, according to advice received here. The list may be increased to eleven or twelve, however, if the showing of enough recruits warrants.

HOW THEY FINISHED

Cobb, North Carolina	59
Carmichael, North Carolina	42
Stabler, Alabama	38
McGauley, Alabama	38
Harris, Tulane	36
Gurr, Georgia	36
E. Hennigan, Tulane	35
Meyers, Miss. Agies	33
Richardson, Georgia	27
Harris, Tulane	26
Rosse, Vanderbilt	24
Supple, Maryland	21
Hagood, Clemson	18
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	17
Gatchell, Miss. Agies	16
Faber, Maryland	15
Cobb, North Carolina	15
Leahy, North Carolina	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
McDonald, North Carolina	15
Stabler, Alabama	15
McGauley, Alabama	15
Richardson, Georgia	15
Harris, Tulane	15
Rosse, Vanderbilt	15
Supple, Maryland	15
Hagood, Clemson	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
Gatchell, Miss. Agies	15
Faber, Maryland	15
Cobb, North Carolina	15
Leahy, North Carolina	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
McDonald, North Carolina	15
Stabler, Alabama	15
McGauley, Alabama	15
Richardson, Georgia	15
Harris, Tulane	15
Rosse, Vanderbilt	15
Supple, Maryland	15
Hagood, Clemson	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
Gatchell, Miss. Agies	15
Faber, Maryland	15
Cobb, North Carolina	15
Leahy, North Carolina	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
McDonald, North Carolina	15
Stabler, Alabama	15
McGauley, Alabama	15
Richardson, Georgia	15
Harris, Tulane	15
Rosse, Vanderbilt	15
Supple, Maryland	15
Hagood, Clemson	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
Gatchell, Miss. Agies	15
Faber, Maryland	15
Cobb, North Carolina	15
Leahy, North Carolina	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
McDonald, North Carolina	15
Stabler, Alabama	15
McGauley, Alabama	15
Richardson, Georgia	15
Harris, Tulane	15
Rosse, Vanderbilt	15
Supple, Maryland	15
Hagood, Clemson	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
Gatchell, Miss. Agies	15
Faber, Maryland	15
Cobb, North Carolina	15
Leahy, North Carolina	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
McDonald, North Carolina	15
Stabler, Alabama	15
McGauley, Alabama	15
Richardson, Georgia	15
Harris, Tulane	15
Rosse, Vanderbilt	15
Supple, Maryland	15
Hagood, Clemson	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
Gatchell, Miss. Agies	15
Faber, Maryland	15
Cobb, North Carolina	15
Leahy, North Carolina	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
McDonald, North Carolina	15
Stabler, Alabama	15
McGauley, Alabama	15
Richardson, Georgia	15
Harris, Tulane	15
Rosse, Vanderbilt	15
Supple, Maryland	15
Hagood, Clemson	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
Gatchell, Miss. Agies	15
Faber, Maryland	15
Cobb, North Carolina	15
Leahy, North Carolina	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
McDonald, North Carolina	15
Stabler, Alabama	15
McGauley, Alabama	15
Richardson, Georgia	15
Harris, Tulane	15
Rosse, Vanderbilt	15
Supple, Maryland	15
Hagood, Clemson	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
Gatchell, Miss. Agies	15
Faber, Maryland	15
Cobb, North Carolina	15
Leahy, North Carolina	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
McDonald, North Carolina	15
Stabler, Alabama	15
McGauley, Alabama	15
Richardson, Georgia	15
Harris, Tulane	15
Rosse, Vanderbilt	15
Supple, Maryland	15
Hagood, Clemson	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
Gatchell, Miss. Agies	15
Faber, Maryland	15
Cobb, North Carolina	15
Leahy, North Carolina	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
McDonald, North Carolina	15
Stabler, Alabama	15
McGauley, Alabama	15
Richardson, Georgia	15
Harris, Tulane	15
Rosse, Vanderbilt	15
Supple, Maryland	15
Hagood, Clemson	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
Gatchell, Miss. Agies	15
Faber, Maryland	15
Cobb, North Carolina	15
Leahy, North Carolina	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
McDonald, North Carolina	15
Stabler, Alabama	15
McGauley, Alabama	15
Richardson, Georgia	15
Harris, Tulane	15
Rosse, Vanderbilt	15
Supple, Maryland	15
Hagood, Clemson	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
Gatchell, Miss. Agies	15
Faber, Maryland	15
Cobb, North Carolina	15
Leahy, North Carolina	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
McDonald, North Carolina	15
Stabler, Alabama	15
McGauley, Alabama	15
Richardson, Georgia	15
Harris, Tulane	15
Rosse, Vanderbilt	15
Supple, Maryland	15
Hagood, Clemson	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
Gatchell, Miss. Agies	15
Faber, Maryland	15
Cobb, North Carolina	15
Leahy, North Carolina	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
McDonald, North Carolina	15
Stabler, Alabama	15
McGauley, Alabama	15
Richardson, Georgia	15
Harris, Tulane	15
Rosse, Vanderbilt	15
Supple, Maryland	15
Hagood, Clemson	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
Gatchell, Miss. Agies	15
Faber, Maryland	15
Cobb, North Carolina	15
Leahy, North Carolina	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
McDonald, North Carolina	15
Stabler, Alabama	15
McGauley, Alabama	15
Richardson, Georgia	15
Harris, Tulane	15
Rosse, Vanderbilt	15
Supple, Maryland	15
Hagood, Clemson	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
Gatchell, Miss. Agies	15
Faber, Maryland	15
Cobb, North Carolina	15
Leahy, North Carolina	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
McDonald, North Carolina	15
Stabler, Alabama	15
McGauley, Alabama	15
Richardson, Georgia	15
Harris, Tulane	15
Rosse, Vanderbilt	15
Supple, Maryland	15
Hagood, Clemson	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
Gatchell, Miss. Agies	15
Faber, Maryland	15
Cobb, North Carolina	15
Leahy, North Carolina	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
McDonald, North Carolina	15
Stabler, Alabama	15
McGauley, Alabama	15
Richardson, Georgia	15
Harris, Tulane	15
Rosse, Vanderbilt	15
Supple, Maryland	15
Hagood, Clemson	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
Gatchell, Miss. Agies	15
Faber, Maryland	15
Cobb, North Carolina	15
Leahy, North Carolina	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
McDonald, North Carolina	15
Stabler, Alabama	15
McGauley, Alabama	15
Richardson, Georgia	15
Harris, Tulane	15
Rosse, Vanderbilt	15
Supple, Maryland	15
Hagood, Clemson	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
Gatchell, Miss. Agies	15
Faber, Maryland	15
Cobb, North Carolina	15
Leahy, North Carolina	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
McDonald, North Carolina	15
Stabler, Alabama	15
McGauley, Alabama	15
Richardson, Georgia	15
Harris, Tulane	15
Rosse, Vanderbilt	15
Supple, Maryland	15
Hagood, Clemson	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
Gatchell, Miss. Agies	15
Faber, Maryland	15
Cobb, North Carolina	15
Leahy, North Carolina	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
McDonald, North Carolina	15
Stabler, Alabama	15
McGauley, Alabama	15
Richardson, Georgia	15
Harris, Tulane	15
Rosse, Vanderbilt	15
Supple, Maryland	15
Hagood, Clemson	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
Gatchell, Miss. Agies	15
Faber, Maryland	15
Cobb, North Carolina	15
Leahy, North Carolina	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
McDonald, North Carolina	15
Stabler, Alabama	15
McGauley, Alabama	15
Richardson, Georgia	15
Harris, Tulane	15
Rosse, Vanderbilt	15
Supple, Maryland	15
Hagood, Clemson	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
Gatchell, Miss. Agies	15
Faber, Maryland	15
Cobb, North Carolina	15
Leahy, North Carolina	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
McDonald, North Carolina	15
Stabler, Alabama	15
McGauley, Alabama	15
Richardson, Georgia	15
Harris, Tulane	15
Rosse, Vanderbilt	15
Supple, Maryland	15
Hagood, Clemson	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
Gatchell, Miss. Agies	15
Faber, Maryland	15
Cobb, North Carolina	15
Leahy, North Carolina	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
McDonald, North Carolina	15
Stabler, Alabama	15
McGauley, Alabama	15
Richardson, Georgia	15
Harris, Tulane	15
Rosse, Vanderbilt	15
Supple, Maryland	15
Hagood, Clemson	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
Gatchell, Miss. Agies	15
Faber, Maryland	15
Cobb, North Carolina	15
Leahy, North Carolina	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
McDonald, North Carolina	15
Stabler, Alabama	15
McGauley, Alabama	15
Richardson, Georgia	15
Harris, Tulane	15
Rosse, Vanderbilt	15
Supple, Maryland	15
Hagood, Clemson	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
Gatchell, Miss. Agies	15
Faber, Maryland	15
Cobb, North Carolina	15
Leahy, North Carolina	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
McDonald, North Carolina	15
Stabler, Alabama	15
McGauley, Alabama	15
Richardson, Georgia	15
Harris, Tulane	15
Rosse, Vanderbilt	15
Supple, Maryland	15
Hagood, Clemson	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
Gatchell, Miss. Agies	15
Faber, Maryland	15
Cobb, North Carolina	15
Leahy, North Carolina	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
McDonald, North Carolina	15
Stabler, Alabama	15
McGauley, Alabama	15
Richardson, Georgia	15
Harris, Tulane	15
Rosse, Vanderbilt	15
Supple, Maryland	15
Hagood, Clemson	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
Gatchell, Miss. Agies	15
Faber, Maryland	15
Cobb, North Carolina	15
Leahy, North Carolina	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
McDonald, North Carolina	15
Stabler, Alabama	15
McGauley, Alabama	15
Richardson, Georgia	15
Harris, Tulane	15
Rosse, Vanderbilt	15
Supple, Maryland	15
Hagood, Clemson	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
Gatchell, Miss. Agies	15
Faber, Maryland	15
Cobb, North Carolina	15
Leahy, North Carolina	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
McDonald, North Carolina	15
Stabler, Alabama	15
McGauley, Alabama	15
Richardson, Georgia	15
Harris, Tulane	15
Rosse, Vanderbilt	15
Supple, Maryland	15
Hagood, Clemson	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
Gatchell, Miss. Agies	15
Faber, Maryland	15
Cobb, North Carolina	15
Leahy, North Carolina	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
McDonald, North Carolina	15
Stabler, Alabama	15
McGauley, Alabama	15
Richardson, Georgia	15
Harris, Tulane	15
Rosse, Vanderbilt	15
Supple, Maryland	15
Hagood, Clemson	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
Gatchell, Miss. Agies	15
Faber, Maryland	15
Cobb, North Carolina	15
Leahy, North Carolina	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
McDonald, North Carolina	15
Stabler, Alabama	15
McGauley, Alabama	15
Richardson, Georgia	15
Harris, Tulane	15
Rosse, Vanderbilt	15
Supple, Maryland	15
Hagood, Clemson	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
Gatchell, Miss. Agies	15
Faber, Maryland	15
Cobb, North Carolina	15
Leahy, North Carolina	15
Johnson, I. C. Miss.	15
McDonald, North Carolina	15

FORD SHOALS BID COMES UNDER FIRE

Washington, March 4.—Henry Ford's offer for Muscle Shoals, pending before congressional committees for more than two years, finally reached the floor of the house today.

Under an agreement limiting debate to 10 hours the McKenzie bill, providing for acceptance of the bid was taken up, with a final vote in sight before the end of the week.

As the discussion got under way, the proposition of the Detroit manufacturer was alternately commended and attacked. Representative McKenzie, republican, Illinois, led the fight in behalf of the offer, while the opposition rested chiefly in the hands of four republican members of the military committee which recommended acceptance of the bid—Representatives Morin, Pennsylvania; Hill, Iowa; Hill, Maryland; and Wainwright, New York, former assistant secretary of war.

To Replace Gorgas Plant.

As reported, the McKenzie bill provides for the sale to Mr. Ford of the two nitrate plants at Muscle Shoals with the understanding that he is to manufacture fertilizer there and the leasing of dam number two and three for the development of power. The measure was amended in committee to provide for the replacement by the government of the Gorgas Steam Power plant recently sold to the Alabama Power company.

Argument for the adoption of the resolution to give the McKenzie bill the right of way was presented by Representative Bankhead of Alabama, a democratic member of the rules committee. He argued vigorously for an opportunity for the house to vote on the proposition and warmly commended the Ford offer. Representative Almon, democrat, Alabama, in whose district Muscle Shoals is located, also made a strong appeal for the Ford bid.

Opening debate today McKenzie warned against adoption of amendments, declaring it was up to congress either to reject or accept the Ford bid as submitted.

When Henry Ford's proposal was placed before the committee, Mr. McKenzie said, the judge advocates of the army took part in the preparation of the offer "and saw to it that the interests of the government were safeguarded in all particulars."

Ford Intentions Good.

"The very fact," Mr. McKenzie continued, "that Mr. Ford worked in cooperation with representatives of the legal arm of the military establishment, made it evident that he had no intention of taking advantage of the government in any way. To call such a proposal a subsidy, to my mind, is to ignore its terms and refuse to see the plain facts in the case."

Mr. McKenzie said since the friends of the power companies have come forward with their latest bid "the majority report no longer represents the situation," adding:

"In the light of their most recent effort it is evident that in 50 years the returns to the government under the power companies' offer will be about $140,000,000 or an average return per annum of $2,800,000, while under the Ford offer the total returns for 100 years are about $345,000,000, an average of $3,450,000 per year—so that there is an annual financial gain by accepting the Ford offer not of $255,000 per year, as stated in the majority report, but of $355,000 per year."

Wants Tighter Contract.

Mr. Hull, in opposing acceptance of the Ford offer, declared the Detroit manufacturer was not bound to the government in the contract and under the McKenzie bill "did not agree to do anything but accept the $80,000,000 you are going to give him."

Mr. Hull declared he was not opposed to Mr. Ford having the shoal properties if the McKenzie bill were amended to place the Detroit manufacturer under a "binding contract."

Mr. Hull said he had introduced his bill authorizing acceptance of the southern power companies' bid so that the house might have an opportunity to become familiar with the proposal, but did not expect to offer the measure as a substitute for the McKenzie bill. He replied to Mr. Wainwright, who asked if the power companies offered greater security, that their proposal contemplated a corporation with $5,000,000 more capital than the Ford corporation would have.

Mr. Wainwright, in opposing the measure, declared he believed "the time has come to permit the decline to part with not only the ownership, but even the absolute control of any further natural resources to private individuals."

Fear Ford Will Fail.

"But the great objection to the Ford offer," he added, "and the one which can never be reconciled with our duty, or responsibility to those we represent, is his (Mr. Ford's) refusal to subject his use of this great government created property to the very regulations which the government has imposed upon all other persons who secure the benefit of water power over which the government has jurisdiction."

"The second great objection is that he may fail to be able to make fertilizers at a profit and cease their manufacture, but still maintain his hold upon the water power. In that event, having parted with the title, the nitrate plants may be permanently lost and consequently the original purpose of the act of 1916 will remain unfulfilled."

"The third great objection is that if Mr. Ford, as his supporters maintain, can make fertilizers at a profit, then he is obtaining a great water power at such low cost as to be ruinous to any possible competitors in that section of the country."

Farmers Favor Plan.

Representative Almon declared that although the price received was important, the manufacture of cheap fertilizer was the compelling consideration. He said the farmers of the country favor the Ford proposal "through their indorsements through their organizations."

"If appeal of my colleagues from every section of our country to protect the south from the water power monopolies," Almon added, "The water power trust owns and controls practically all of the water power in the south and the southeastern states except Muscle Shoals, and they are here, and have been for a long while, with their paid lobby to get their greedy and monopolistic clutches on Muscle Shoals."

While the house was considering the McKenzie bill, Representative Edmunds, republican, Pennsylvania, introduced a bill authorizing acceptance of the bid of the United States Muscle Shoals Power and Nitrate corporation.

Under the offer, which, when submitted was known as the Hooker plan, the corporation would deposit $1,000,000 as a guarantee of good faith.

Walsh Runs True To Form in Fight Against Graft

Helena, Mont., March 4.—Senator Thomas J. Walsh, who himself admits he is "squeamish" in the matter of "influence" and "pull" in connection with oil developments at Washington, is running true to form.

This was the declaration of associates and politicians here Tuesday in the senator's home town.

Walsh always has avoided appearance of profiting personally from his political associations, they said and pointed to the case of his brother, John Walsh, as an example.

John started in a political career in Wisconsin as municipal judge, went through two democratic national conventions, became chief counsel of the federal trade commission and was later appointed special assistant attorney general of the United States.

Never in all that time, Helena residents say, did his brother, the senator, turn a finger to help John in politics. The senator thought it hardly "proper" to advance the interests of a member of his family.

Corliss Has Not Deserted Brewster Despite Reports

New York, N. Y., March 4.—(Special.)—Corliss Palmer, titan stage movie actress, is still in Morristown, N. J., living under the same roof with her admirer, Eugene V. Brewster, says the New York Tribune, and all this despite the fact that yesterday the publisher gave out a statement that he and Miss Palmer had separated and that he had given up his attempt to make her his wife after he had failed to secure a divorce from his present wife.

"I have tried Paris and other European capitals," he said. "I have even conspired the department of justice. Nothing has been left undone, but I am forced to accept the fact that a divorce is impossible so long as Mrs. Brewster refuses to help us. Circumstances require that Miss Palmer leave New York and face conditions which we have found it impossible to change. She will enter business in a city 1,000 miles from here."

But in spite of this formal statement, the pair have been seen together since. They left the Morristown house together Monday morning and boarded a train for this city. Later in the afternoon the couple returned to town, and after dinner were seen in their motor car taking a spin together down town.

With her mother and sisters she spent the last two nights in the Normandie Heights house to which the publisher, Eugene V. Brewster, brought her soon after his divorce. Mrs. Ellen V. Brewster, separated from him.

Mrs. Brewster affirms that the statement given by her husband is not true, and says that he has made no attempt to obtain a divorce so far as she knows.

OFFICER, BANDIT KILLED IN FIGHT

Detroit, Mich., March 4.—A police sergeant and a bandit were killed in another bandit probably fatally wounded this afternoon in a gun fight between policemen of Hamtramck and the bandits, following an attempt to rob the Peoples National bank of that suburb. Another member of the bandit gang was captured.

ROW HOLDING UP REPORT ON WHEAT

Washington, March 4.—Another row in the tariff commission has held up delivery to President Coolidge of the commission's report on its wheat inquiry, completed more than a week ago.

MAN WHO STARTED FIFTEEN FIRES IS SENT TO PRISON

New York, March 4.—Edward Schlott, who styled himself "the international fire bug," was sentenced today to from ten to twenty years in prison for attempted arson. Schlott, also known as Otto Schultz and Daniel Lee, in pleading guilty last week said he had set at least fifteen fires since 1919.

Schlott said he had a mania for fire setting. He was arrested after he had tried to burn the hotel Marie, where he lived, December 2, last.

Schlott confessed to starting fires in hotels, rooming houses, public institutions and private homes from coast to coast.

At his trial Schlott told Judge Mancuso that his mania was the result of a fever contracted while he was serving with the army in the Philippines.

SENATE DEBATING AID TO FARMERS

Washington, March 4.—President Coolidge is in entire accord with the desire to assist the farmers of the northwest, and those of the country generally, through the present period of depression, it was stated officially today, but has arrived at no decision as to the form such aid should take. Officials of the department of agriculture are expected to submit recommendations to the president upon the various legislative proposals now assuming shape in congress.

The first of these measures—the Norbeck-Burnett bill—proposing a $75,000,000 federal fund to finance diversification of crops—occupied the attention of senate for the entire session today and was still the unfinished business when a recess was taken, with no indication of when a vote would be had.

Oppose Norbeck Bill.

Opposition to the Norbeck bill ranged all the way from the position voiced by Senator Wadsworth, republican, New York, who claimed it as "fruitless paternalism" to that of Senator Gooding, republican, Iowa, who held that it should be laid aside in favor of the McNary-Haughen bill, proposing a $100,000,000 corporation to export surplus farm products.

The latter measure would aid all agricultural products, Senator Gooding insisted, and would accomplish the same purpose designed to be effected "locally" by the bill before the senate.

The Idaho senator announced that he had withdrawn a bill prepared by himself because he believed the export corporation idea was far better. There were indications, however, that McNary bill, sponsored by Senator McNary, republican, Oregon, would meet with determined opposition both in the house and senate.

Representative Anderson, republican, Minnesota, chairman of the congressional commission for agricultural inquiry, announced he would oppose it as "unworkable and impracticable."

Thirty Members Participate.

The senate debate was participated in by more than 30 members and was enlivened by Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska, when he adopted the methods of the school room to press home his points in favor of the Norbeck measure. Assisted by charts showing graphically the trend of farm products in the northwest, the Nebraska senator traced these plotted lines with a long ferrule as he insisted the government "owes a special recompense to these men."

Senator Wadsworth, opening the opposition, declared the maximum loan of $1,000 provided in the bill would be of no value for the purpose outlined and cited statistics from his personal experience as to the cost of diversification. He also declared what he said was the continuing desecration toward centralization of power in the federal government through "paternalistic measures."

The only outcome to be expected, he declared, would be an inveterate, dependent populace.

$40,000 Tax Refund Given to E. L. Doheny Starts Senate Debate

Washington, March 4.—Disclosure that E. L. Doheny was given a tax refund of $40,000 by the treasury last year led to a senate debate today.

Senator Heflin, democrat, Alabama, said he "wondered whether the official who approved the refund is now on Doheny's payroll." He then made some observations relative to the reading of Mr. Doheny out of the Democratic party in California.

"Doesn't the senator know that Doheny had his agent appointed in his place?" asked Senator Oddie, republican, Nevada.

Senator King, democrat, Utah, challenged the suggestion, saying that Gavin McNab was an able and honest lawyer, long prominent in California democracy.

"Mr. McNab's employment by Mr. Doheny," said Senator King, "obviously resulted in the latter's telling the oil committee all the facts he had hitherto withheld."

Russian Probe Ends Career Of Gay American Spender

Moscow, March 4.—This story of how a one-time Chicago lawyer rose to power in Russia, headed a government of 10,000,000 people, created a new financial system and finally plunged into a career of extravagance that led to a governmental investigation is told here as Alexander Krasnostchok, one of the directors of the Industrial bank, goes on trial for misuse of the bank's funds.

Under the czarist regime Krasnostchok was a revolutionist. In 1901 he escaped from a prison in Kieff, and fled to the United States. There he settled in Chicago, living in the suburb of Oakdale. Under the name of Robinson he became a lawyer, and achieved a moderate success. He also headed the Workers' Institute in Chicago.

Krasnostchok returned to Russia in September, 1917, landing at Vladivostok. After holding minor positions he became president of the first soviet republic of Siberia, which was overthrown by the white forces. Krasnostchok was forced to remain in hiding in forest villages for two years. Then the soviet regime was restored, and he became president of the Far Eastern republic. When the republic was taken into the soviet union he came to Moscow, as one of the directors of the Industrial bank.

"Hour's Distance" Is Limit In Proposed Ship Treaty

Washington, March 4.—(By the Associated Press.)—The ship liquor treaty between the United States and Great Britain, the text of which was disclosed here today for the first time, declares a "firm intention to uphold the principle" of the three-mile territorial limit, but authorizes search of the British vessels suspected of carrying liquor anywhere within the territorial waters of the United States which "can be traversed in one hour by the vessel suspected of endeavoring to commit an offense."

Another clause of the treaty pledges Great Britain against raising objection to "boarding of private vessels" under the British flag outside of the territorial waters of the United States when there is "reasonable ground for suspicion."

Seizure of British vessels and their detention in American ports "for adjudication in accordance with such laws" (the prohibition laws of the United States) also is stipulated.

The treaty, now awaiting senate ratification, says:

Article I.

The high contracting parties declare that it is their firm intention to uphold the principle that three-mile lines extending from the coast line outwards and measured from low water-mark constitute the proper limits of territorial waters.

Article II.

(1) His Britannic majesty agrees that he will raise no objection to the which shall determine the distance from the coast at which the right under this article can be exercised.

Article III.

No penalty or forfeiture under the laws of the United States shall be applicable or attach to alcoholic liquors or to vessels or persons by reason of the carriage of such liquors, when such liquors are listed as stores or cargo destined for a port foreign to the United States, provided that such liquors shall be kept under seal continuously while the vessel on which they are carried remains within said territorial waters and that no part of such liquors shall at any time or place be unladen with in the United States, its territories or possessions.

Article IV.

Any claim by a British vessel for compensation on the grounds that it has suffered loss or injury through the improper or unreasonable exercise of the rights conferred by Article II of this treaty, or on the ground that it has not been given the benefit of Article III, shall be referred for the joint consideration of two persons, one of whom shall be nominated by each of the high contracting parties.

PRESIDENT ADHERES TO MELLON TAX PLAN

Washington, March 4.—Adherence to the principles and provisions of the Mellon tax plan was reaffirmed today by President Coolidge.

Mr. Coolidge's position relative to tax legislation remains exactly as outlined in his message to congress, declaring for the Mellon plan. The was made clear at the white house in answer to inquiries about the compromise bill passed by the house.

A direct inquiry as to whether the president would approve the compromise bill brought the reply that he could not say at this time whether he would veto or approve a hypothetical measure.

The president hopes the senate finance committee will report the Mellon bill with only such minor changes as may be considered advisable to make the measure more effective.

Old Stuff

—or getting by the easiest way

TIME was when printers stuck religiously to the old command:

"Follow copy, even if it takes you out the window."

Sad to relate, many a printer still adheres to that old idea.

If a piece of printing is as good, or the same as, the last job, it gets by.

Said printer surmises, guesses or reckons, that because the last job was printed in a certain style, or type face, no matter how antiquated, he must print it the same way again.

He imagines that the customer knows what he wants—and then it's so much easier to do the same old way.

No originality required or brain effort necessary.

That isn't our idea of a printer's function. He should know, and tell his customer what is right.

At Byrd's it is our desire and inspiration to make every job better than the last one.

Here good enough will not do.

If a customer specifies a type face not in keeping with the subject in hand, we suggest the right one.

If he wants a color scheme out of harmony, we show him a suitable, harmonious combination.

In fact a job is considered and analyzed from every angle: Attractiveness, durability, practicability, and all the other important points that make the difference between a mediocre and a fine piece of printing.

A real printer is one who knows, and is competent to give his customers the benefit of long years of experience.

Such a helpful service awaits you at Byrd's.

Phone Main 1270 and a Byrd man will call.

Byrd Printing Co.

Atlanta's Oldest Printing House
BYRD BUILDING ATLANTA, GA.

ESTABLISHED 1837

Harry Goodhart and the SALARY SYSTEM

To avoid any possible misunderstanding as to my position on this important issue, I wish it known that if I am elected Tax Collector I will put the office on a Seventy-Five Hundred ($7,500.00) Dollar Salary basis January 1, 1925.

I will accept this amount as my remuneration and after paying the regular expense of the office and a fair and reasonable salary to each of my associates, I will turn over the excess to the proper authorities of Fulton county and if they can not receive it I will deposit it in an Atlanta bank to the credit of Fulton county, there to remain until the law is properly changed so that the taxpayers may get the benefit of it. I further agree to do nothing which would impede the passage of a law to do away with the fee system for all county offices but will continue to assist in bringing about such legislation.

My back record shows the sincerity of my intentions to save the taxpayers. Even before I applied to the Tax Collector's office I served as a member of two grand juries which stood for the abolishment of the unfair fee system and was a member of the grand jury committee which prepared the bill to abolish fees. This bill was introduced in the legislature through the lobbying activities of certain present office holders who thought more of their fees than of the public interest.

I invite the present Grand Jury to go further into this matter and to lay down a set of recommendations or suggestions to the candidates for County offices that a uniformity of action may be taken by all those who genuinely intend to eliminate the fee system and who are willing to subscribe in writing to such a definite course.

My thanks for your endorsement and vote of March 19th.

HARRY GOODHART

For Tax Collector and to end the fee system.

The following will be my associates in office:

ARTHUR R. DYER, Chief Deputy
T. FRANK CALLAWAY
BEN CARLTON
MRS. J. C. OZBURN
C. A. LITHEIDGE
DREW LIDDELL
GLENN DEWBERRY
J. T. OGBURN
JAMES J. CLYDE MCKENZIE
ROBERT H. JONES, JR., Attorney
MRS. CARL DICK

Campaign Headquarters, Rooms 205-6-7-8-9 Gould Bldg.

King Hardware Company

53 Peachtree Street Store Only

A Sale of Art Pottery

Jardinières and Pedestals, Vases, Wall Vases, Flower Bowls and Console Sets

Stained in a multitude of Bright Colors, Dull Hues and Polychrome Finishes. Every conceivable shape. Very pretty and decorative they are and big savings are now offered. Buy them now to make your "Home Beautiful" this spring.

Jardinières and Pedestals	Vases
Small Jardinières and Pedestals that are real works of art. Finely finished and ornamented. Now.....	A new shipment of the prettiest vases imaginable. Tall, graceful Bud Vases and many others that are just as handsome. Ivory and many colors. Prices are.....
Splendidly designed Jardinières, decorated with flowers, etc., in several different shapes.....	$1.75, $2.50
Ivory background Jardinières, ornamented with statuette figures in relief.....	$3.50
They are.....	$40.00

Wall Vases	Flower Bowls
The newest designs in the new pastel shades and in polychrome finishes with cameo effects. They are fit to grace any home. Now.....	Flower Bowls of the finest Domestic (Ohio) Pottery. Many splendidly unique shapes in this new shipment. They represent the best of the American Potter's art. Finely finished, well decorated and colorful and thoroughly beautiful. Priced at.....
$1.50, $1.75	$2.00 and $2.50
$2.50

Console Sets	Japanese Flower Bowls
$20.00 three-piece Ivory finish Console Sets. Handsomely designed and finished. They are fit to grace any home. Now.....	The newest patterns in flower bowls. They are decorated and colored in Oriental fashion and have raised designs. They are very pretty and are selling for only.....
$10.00	$1.00, $1.50, $2.50
$25.00 three-piece Ivory finish Console Sets. The same as the ones described above, but larger. These are now priced.....	$2.50
$12.50

53 Peachtree Street Store Only

King Hardware Company

L&N Employees With Their Families Would Form A City of 200,000

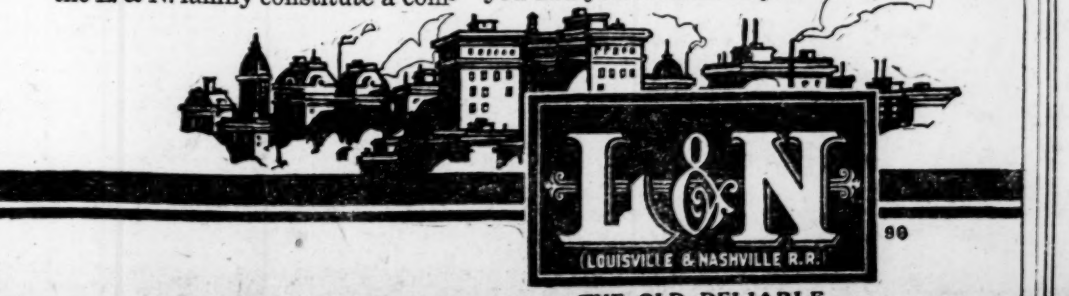

The Louisville & Nashville Railroad has on its pay-roll 52,000 employees, to whom it paid in 1923 over $75,000,000. Most of them have families and every one, no doubt, contributes something to the support of some family.

Based on the Government average of 4.3 persons to an American family, there are wholly supported or to some extent benefited, by the wages of L. & N. employees, over 200,000 people—a number greater than the population of a city the size of Atlanta, Ga.

In addition, thousands of other people are given employment in various industries from which the L. & N. buys materials and supplies of all descriptions, aggregating in 1923 over $37,000,000.

Moreover, these 200,000 people of the L. & N. family constitute a complete city; because there is no class of labor, and hardly a single profession, not represented among the L. & N.'s 52,000 employees.

These, and other facts which the L. & N. is making public, will enable you to realize the economic value of this great transportation system to the territory it serves. They should help you to remember that as this railroad prospers so you and your neighbors prosper, and that whatever hurts the L. & N. and restricts its capacity for profitable public service must necessarily hurt you and your community.

THE OLD RELIABLE

Every Day New Merchandise from Reserve Spring Stocks Pours Into Rich's Mighty Removal--Everything 10 to 50% Less

All Spring Fashions 10-20% Less

LUXURIOUS wrap of snowy white, lined throughout with white crepe de chine. 10% less.

NEW two-piece silk moire frock, boyish in line. Attractive beige shade. 10% less.

A DRESS of black flat crepe boasts of finely pleated apron front. 10% less.

O'ROSSEN type. Strictly tailored suit, short of jacket. 10% less.

C'HALK check- ed O'Rossen type suit. 10% less.

BLACK AND WHITE, a leading note for spring. Black Jersey white frill. 12% less.

TAN and white plaid coat. Three-quarter length. 10% less.

Please understand these daily new price-surprises will NOT be advertised. They will simply be placed out afresh every morning on special tables in many departments--to be identified by their large black and red price cards.

—Why is it that intelligent people who know values are coming back again and again to share in this serious Removal?

—Everybody knows the reason!

—It only requires to see the merchandise--especially the new goods being hurried from reserve stocks daily--to recognize instantly the direct personal advantages.

—No matter what you need for fast-approaching spring and summer--you can buy freely and confidently all over the store--have your heart's desire from newest incoming spring fashions--smartest suits, coats, dresses, at absolute savings of 10 to 20%. You can obtain lovely new rugs, fresh draperies--and master-made furniture of lifetime quality--for your home at savings of 10 to 35%. And besides, you can take ten months to pay for household goods at these saving prices on Rich's Club plan.

Is it any wonder People are carrying away these goods at really a tremendous rate?

—Many special groups often sell out by noon. We are sorry for those who cannot come early this morning. But what can we do! We may even be obliged to limit quantities to any one person---in full fairness to all. We shall certainly decline sales to dealers.

—Again we say: Don't buy anything you don't need. Buy what you do need or will need for months to come ---just help yourself to these 10 to 50% reductions.

This Is the Card Sign to Watch For---

---The Minute you see these large black and red price cards watch out for a big price surprise. These cards will identify the new lots of merchandise from reserve stocks--placed out afresh each morning. No more after they are quickly sold and gone.

---These values are so extraordinary that we have requested our own salespeople to refrain from buying, as this merchandise would probably be sold out before store's opening. And it is our aim to give the full benefit of these offerings to the public.

Everything

Except a Few Contract Lines

10 to 50% Less

Women's Apparel

Raincoats, 10% to 50%
Furs, 10% to 40%
Winter Coats, 60%
Winter Dresses, 60%
Winter Skirts, 25% to 60%
Blouses, 10% to 50%
Petticoats, 10% to 50%
Negligees, 10% to 40%
Kimonos, 10% to 50%
Sweaters, 10% to 50%
Millinery, 10% to 50%
House Frocks, 10% to 33 1-3%
Bungalow Aprons, 10% to 25%
Corsets, 10% to 25%
Brassieres, 10% to 25%
Princess Slips, 10%
Silk Lingerie, 10% to 33 1-3%

Silks, Linens, Cottons

Fancy Linens, 10% to 50%
Huck Towels, 10% to 25%
Turkish Towels, 10%
Breakfast Sets, 25%
Blankets, 10%
Comforts, 10% to 20%
Wash Goods, 10% to 25%
White Cottons, 10%
Table Linens, 10% to 25%
Silver Bleach Sheets, 15%
Wamsutta Sheets, 10%
Round Thread Sheets, 15%
Bed Spreads, 10% to 15%
Laces, 10% to 50%
Embroideries, 10% to 50%
Trimmings, 10% to 50%

Men's Apparel

Men's Shirts, 30% to 50%
Men's Bath Robes, 20% to 50%
Men's Underwear, 20% to 50%
Heavy Underwear, 50%
Pajamas, 20% to 40%
Night Shirts, 10% to 50%
Men's Ties, 30% to 50%
Men's Sox, 10% to 25%
Men's Umbrellas, 10%

Women's Accessories

Neckwear, 10% to 50%
Veils, 10% to 50%
Veilings, 10% to 50%
Glove Silk Underwear, 10%
Ribbons, 10% to 50%
Scarfs, 10% to 50%
Shoes, 10% to 33 1-3%
Hosiery, 10% to 33 1-3%
Leather Bags, 10% to 50%
Beaded Bags, 10% to 33 1-3%
Silk Bags, 10% to 33 1-3%
Fitted Leather Novelties, 50%
Jewelry, 10% to 33 1-3%
Gloves, 10% to 33 1-3%
Umbrellas, 10% to 15%
Handkerchiefs, 10% to 40%

Sundries

Toilet Preparations, 10% to 50%
Toilet Sundries, 10% to 50%
Ivory Ware, 10% to 50%
Gift Novelties, 50%
Electric Appliances, 25% and 50%
Gift Stationery, 33 1-3%
Silverware, 10% to 33 1-3%
Regular Stationery, 10% to 15%
Books, 25% Less
Toys, Dolls, Etc., 20% and 25%
Notions, 10% to 50%
Stamped Goods, 10% to 50%
Knitting Wools, 15%
Art Needlework, 10%

Rugs and Draperies

Oriental Rugs, 15% to 50%
Rugs, 10% to 25%
Hardwick-Magee Rugs, 10%
Carpets, 10% to 20%
Linoleums, 10% to 25%
Made-to-Order Shades, 10%
Curtain Nets, 33 1-3%
Scrim, 20% to 33 1-3%
Tapestries, 20% to 33 1-3%
Draperies Velvets, 10% to 25%
Draperies Madras, 20% to 33 1-3%
Reps, 10% to 25%
Damask Draperies, 10% to 25%
Cretonnes, 20% to 33 1-3%

M. RICH & BROS. COMPANY

News of Society and Woman's Work

Hamlett-Simmons Wedding Beautiful Home Ceremony

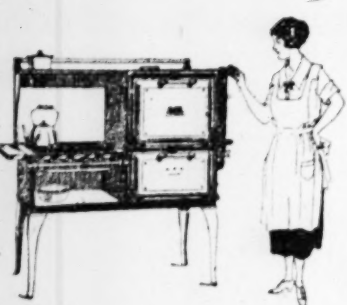

A marriage characterized by simplicity and beauty was that of Miss Beatrice Carson Hamlett and Thomas Heyward Simmons, the ceremony taking place Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Samuel Edgar Hamlett on Human Circle in Ansley Park, Dr. S. R. Wilmer, rector of St. Luke's Episcopal church, performing the ceremony before a large number of friends and relatives. Preceding the ceremony a program of nuptial music was rendered on the violin and harp by Mrs. Robert Mueller and Mrs. William Griffith.

Beautiful Decorations

The wedding party stood before a bank of stately green palms, ferns and similar extending across the far end of the long living room. Fines of slender eastern lilies were interspersed among the greenery, while seven-branch candelabra holding tall white tapers gleamed over the lovely scene. The reception rooms were lavishly decorated with spring flowers. Vases, bowls and baskets of pink roses, sweet peas and hyacinths were artistically arranged on the mantels, consoles and bookcases. Draped over the wide doorways were garlands of southern smilax and showers of sweet peas. A floral aisle was formed to the altar by tall baskets of Easter lilies, pink roses and white hyacinths, the handles of the baskets tied with pale green tulle butterfly bows. The chandeliers were shaded in rose silk with ropes of smilax wound about the lights and

Continued on Page 14, Column 1.

For 10 Days
You Can Buy
Any Gas Range
In Our Stock
$1.00 Down

Make housework lighter and your gas bills smaller by installing a new range in your kitchen.

Installation and Service Free

Ten Days will pass in a hurry, so visit our Display Rooms and select your range today.

Georgia Railway and Power Co.

H. G. LEWIS
& CO.

70-72
Whitehall

New Linen Dresses Pre-Shrunk Pure Irish Linen

All pure linen dresses. Chic styles, clever little decorative touches, embroidery, hemstitching, drawn work, bound edges; collars and cuffs of pique or white linen, some edged with linen lace. Every color—rose, green, blue, brown, gray and every smart varying shade of these fashionable Spring colors—all white and white in combination with colors.

$5

Models
Sketched
From Stocks
By Our Artist

Not for $10 have we ever had the pleasure of offering such dresses as these—when you expect to pay $10 and buy them for $5, isn't that worth a trip to Lewis? And then you will say it is worth spending a morning with us—just choosing a summer supply—a half dozen—including every color—from as many as twenty styles—from 500 frocks.

Eight Models Sketched from Stock by Our Artist

H. G. Lewis & Co.

THE CONSTITUTION'S DAILY WOMAN'S MAGAZINE

Features which Will Interest
Every Woman

Informal Teas Will Be Held At Habersham Hall

A series of informal teas will be inaugurated by Habersham chapter, D. A. R., next Friday afternoon, at their hall on Fifteenth street, Mrs. J. C. Gentry, hostess.

Tea and wafers will be served for 25 cents. Bridge or other games will be optional with the guests.

These social affairs will bring the large membership of the chapter and its legion of friends into closer comradeship, and it is hoped nothing will interfere with their attendance, as old friendships are strengthened and new ties formed thereby.

Mrs. Gentry will be assisted by Mrs. W. S. Coleman, Mrs. J. N. Harper, Mrs. Disbro and Mrs. B. C. Ward.

Habersham hall has been the scene, this winter, of many delightful gatherings among the young people and older sets of society. Its spacious dining hall, lecture and assembly rooms, and banquet hall are adapted to all forms of entertaining, and are rented at a very reasonable rate to clubs and other organizations.

Mrs. Hancock To Give Astrology Lecture

The subject of the astrology lecture to be given by Mrs. Marie Louise Hancock will be the "Ascendant," the sign indicating the outer personality. Mrs. Hancock will discuss the horoscope in detail in this series of lectures and will apply astrology in a practical way to all problems of life. The lectures are free and will be given on Wednesday evenings at 7 o'clock, 712 Grand theater building. The public is invited.

Miss Pratt Is Honored

Miss Telsie Pratt, a popular member of the sub-deb club, is the guest of her uncle, Edmond Logan, in New Orleans.

Miss Pratt has been one of the popular visiting belles enjoying the Mardi Gras festivities. During her stay in New Orleans she has been honor guest at a large number of social affairs, including teas, luncheons and supper dances.

Miss Pratt will return home on March 15.

Charming Addition to Society

Photo by Matheson & Price.

Mrs. Jack Jones, a lovely recent bride, who will be honor guest at the tea given this afternoon by Miss Frances Brown at the Piedmont Driving Club. Mrs. Jones was formerly Miss Elizabeth Coggins, of Canton, Ga., her wedding being a recent event of social interest.

Euzelian Class To Meet Thursday

Members of the Euzelian Sunday school class of the Third Baptist church are requested to meet at the church, corner Luckie and Gresham streets, with the Ladies' Missionary society Thursday, March 6, at 3 o'clock. Plans for an oyster supper are to be completed.

Garden Club To Meet With Mrs. Candler

Mrs. Asa Candler, Jr., will be hostess to the Peachtree Garden club at her home on Briarcliff road Monday afternoon, March 10, at 3 o'clock. Mrs. Irwin will talk on "What to Do in the Garden Now."

P-T-A. Meeting Is Postponed

The Parent-Teacher council of Fulton county P-T-A. will meet Wednesday, March 12, at the county court house instead of Wednesday, March 5, as reported in Sunday's paper.

Home Coming To Be in Wigwag

Better Half Division 21, G. I. A. to B. of L. E., will have a homecoming on Thursday, March 6, in Wigwag hall celebrating their thirty-third anniversary. All members are urged to be present at 2:30 p. m. Refreshments will be served.

Mrs. Mansfield To Entertain

Mrs. W. E. Mansfield will be hostess to the Woman's Relief corps, Grand Army of the Republic, on Thursday, March 6, at her home, 130 Peoples street. Mrs. L. W. Lowry will assist Mrs. Mansfield in entertaining. A feature of the afternoon will be music played by Tech High orchestra.

Atlanta Chapter D. A. R. Calls Board Meeting

The Board of Management of the Atlanta Chapter, D. A. R., will meet at 10:30 p. m. Thursday morning, March 6, at the home of Mrs. Thomas H. Morgan, 733 Peachtree street.

Marriage Invitations

Reception and Visiting Cards

CORRECTLY and PROMPTLY ENGRAVED
Send for Samples and Prices

J. P. Stevens Engraving Co.

103 Peachtree Street Atlanta, Ga.

NO TROUBLE WHEN BABY CAME

Mrs. Crossan Gives Credit to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Mrs. Dakan Also Tells What This Medicine Does

St. Joseph, Missouri.—"I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I decided to try it as I had had such a hard time with my first child. I took nine bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I never felt better in my life than the day my baby girl was born. I will be glad to tell what it will do, to any woman who will let me know her address."

Mrs. ROSA DAKAN, 2227 S. 11th St., St. Joseph, Missouri.

Back To Normal Health

New Orleans, La.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound while I was carrying my child and I must praise it highly because I never suffered one day during that time and could do all my housework and had a very easy confinement. I am still taking the Vegetable Compound because I have a weakness due to proving around the house too soon after my baby was born. But thanks again to the Vegetable Compound I am getting back to normal health once more. I advise any woman to take it."—Mrs. A. MEYN, Jr., 2019 Toussaint St., New Orleans, Louisiana.

Not A Bit of Trouble

Wilmington, Delaware.—"I was nervous and weak and not at all regular. I worked in a factory at the time and could not work very much. I was sick over a year, then a friend told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I started to pick up as soon as I began taking it. Then I took it again before my first baby was born and I never had a bit of trouble. I recommend it highly."—Mrs. JANE CROSSAN, 612 Pine St., Wilmington, Delaware.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped many other women just as it has helped Mrs. Dakan, Mrs. Meyn and Mrs. Crossan. Consider the statements of these women. They give you the benefit of their actual experience with the Vegetable Compound.

A nation wide canvass of women purchasers of the Vegetable Compound reports that 98 out of every 100 have been benefited by its use.

This is a remarkable record and proves the dependability of the medicine for the relief of the troubles women often have.

For weak and run-down conditions so common after child-birth it is well adapted. It strengthens and tones up the system and restores normal health.

The Vegetable Compound contains no harmful drugs or narcotics and can be taken in safety by the nursing mother. For sale by druggists everywhere.

Mrs. Arthur Burk Will Be Hostess At Party Series

Mrs. Arthur P. Burk will entertain at a series of bridge-luncheons Wednesday and Thursday of this week at her home on Ponce de Leon avenue.

The first affair will be today when the decorations and appointments of the luncheon table, prizes and tally cards will suggest the St. Patrick motif.

Mrs. Marvin Conway will assist Mrs. Burk in entertaining today. On Thursday she will be assisted by Mrs. John Andrew McMillan and Mrs. Frank Quillion Little.

Club Dances Prove Popular

The "every Friday" series of dances at the Atlanta Woman's club, sponsored by the Civic Drive committee of the club, were inaugurated by the Leap Year dance of last week, when a large number of invited guests enjoyed the hospitality of the club house.

Mrs. Alonzo Richardson, president of the club was the official hostess for the occasion, assisted by the members of the drive committee, of which Mrs. Newton C. Wing is chairman.

Every week dance diversities will be introduced between the regular dances, which will add interest to the affair. Last week, the prize in the elimination waltz, a vanity set from the Marinello shop in High's store, was won by Miss Wynette Manning.

While the "prettiest girl" prize, a bottle of perfume, was given to Miss Sara Bacon, by Mrs. Olliver. The "Paul Jones" numbers served to promote fun, also.

Admission to these Friday dances is by invitation card only, those to be obtained through some member of the committee or other member of the club, and sent out by Mrs. Frank Nadele.

These cards must be presented at the door each Friday night and are good for the entire series. Any club member may bring as many as she likes on her own club membership card. The admission is $1 per couple, or $1 stag. Bridge tables may be reserved in the banquet hall or elsewhere in the club house by reserving through Mrs. Eva Corryman, Henlock 2214-W, or Mrs. Hunter Smith, Ivy 7283-J, without extra charge.

Mrs. Norman Sharp, first vice-president of the Atlanta Woman's club, will be official hostess on Friday night of this week. Mrs. M. C. Cason, chairman on the Civic Drive committee from the citizenship department of the club, will have charge of the door, assisted by Mrs. Arthur Hazzard, treasurer, and Mrs. J. E. Springer, chairman from the applied education department.

Refreshments will be served by a committee headed by Mrs. P. C. Ebel, assisted by Mrs. J. H. Lorenz, Mrs. J. L. Wheeler and Mrs. Cotten, and dance prizes will be in charge of Mrs. O. H. Olliver.

The Vick Myers Melody seven-piece orchestra will furnish its usual delightful music for dancing, which will begin at 8:30 and last till 12, and the entire club house will be thrown open to the guests.

Mrs. Frank Nadele, Henlock 0690 has charge of issuing additional dance invitations for the dance series.

Cosmopolitan Club Will Meet Today

The Cosmopolitan Study club will meet at the home of Mrs. F. E. MacKnight, 83 East Ninth street, this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Mrs. Josephus Camp, president, is urging every member to be present.

Mrs. Georgia Stronger will deliver a lecture immediately after the business is over, and the numbers on program are rendered.

T. E. L. Class Will Meet

The T. E. L. class of Grant Park Baptist church will hold the regular monthly business meeting Thursday, March 6, at 10 o'clock in the church. All members are urged to be present.

Choir Will Give Concert

The choir of the Ponce de Leon Avenue Baptist church, consisting of Mrs. S. B. Johnson, soprano; Mrs. J. H. Whitten, alto; A. W. Browning, tenor, and R. E. Dale, baritone, will sing Gaele's "The Holy City" on Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Assisting voices on this occasion will be Mrs. L. H. Johnson, soprano; Mrs. W. W. Rankin, Jr., alto; L. H. Johnson, tenor and W. E. Herbert, baritone.

The public is invited to hear this popular work.

Society Notes From Decatur

Mrs. and Mrs. Boyd Sutton entertained the executive board of the Decatur chamber of commerce at dinner on Tuesday night at their home on Wilton drive.

A large benefit bridge party will be held at the home of Mrs. E. L. Bryant on Thursday afternoon, for the Oakhurst P-T-A.

Mrs. and Mrs. Robert Hale will entertain their bridge club on Saturday night.

Mrs. William Alden entertained at an informal bridge luncheon on Tuesday in honor of Mrs. Charles Stevens of Boston, Mass., the guest of Mrs. Louis Estes, Sr.

Mrs. Parr, Mrs. Yankey Are Hostesses

Mrs. Polly Parr and Mrs. Worth Yankey were joint hostesses Saturday evening at a delightful informal party at their home on Peachtree.

A profusion of spring flowers were used in the decorations of the apartments.

Ten guests were invited.

Miss Mayson's Guest Is Entertained

Miss Venice Mayson was hostess at the first of a series of bridge parties Tuesday afternoon at her home on Ponce de Leon avenue in compliment to her guest, Miss Charlotte Conant, of Boston, Mass.

Miss Conant will be entertained at a series of social functions during her visit.

Wednesday afternoon, Miss Martha Boykin will entertain a few friends at bridge, complimenting Miss Conant.

Mrs. Andrew Garner will give a luncheon Thursday at the Piedmont Driving club in honor of Miss Conant. The guests will include a group of close friends.

Miss Mayson will again entertain Friday at a bridge-tea, complimenting her guest.

Many other parties are being planned in compliment to Miss Conant, the dates to be announced later.

Junior League Names Delegates To Spring Convention in Denver

At a meeting of the Junior league convention, inasmuch as she has been prominently identified with the organization for a number of years, a last year was publicity chairman when the league entertained the National Junior league.

Plans were outlined for the month indoor carnival which the league will stage at the auditorium April 2. It was announced that John Rogers, head of the Rogers Producing company, and nationally prominent producer and director, will manage the production. All the Junior league members will take part in the carnival. There will be dancing, vaudeville booths at which various articles will be sold, and many novel and interesting modes of entertainment. The public will be allowed to attend and proceeds will go into the league's general charity fund.

The National Junior league convention assembles each year representative members of the league from all sections of the country and is marked by many brilliant social functions as well as important meetings for the transaction of business for the wide program which the league follows. Mrs. Warren is particularly fitted to represent the Atlanta league at this

Dr. Loveridge Begins New Lecture Series

Dr. Blanche Grosbeck Loveridge will lecture on "The Law of Compensation," Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock, on the Ansley roof. This is the first lecture of the new series of lectures by the City Federation of Women's Clubs, the remaining three lectures to deal with the laws of attraction, association and suggestion.

Atlanta women are very actively interested in acquainting themselves with every phase of the practical operation of the mind," says Mrs. T. T. Stevens, president of the city federation. These lectures are scheduled with a view of meeting this progressive and persistently enthusiastic desire for information and are designed to give proper guidance for the everyday usage of mental power.

Mrs. Spencer H. Atkinson, chairman of the committee on arrangements, expresses gratification in securing Dr. Loveridge for this particular series. "Dr. Loveridge's long study of the laws of the mind, her experience in testing out theories and facts, and her ability to present clearly any subject to which she turns her attention—all these offer assurance that this series of lectures will be invigorating intellectually and of help from a practical standpoint."

Tickets for the series are $2.00. For single lectures 75 cents. All tickets may be secured at the door immediately before the lecture Wednesday morning.

Oglethorpe Woman's Board To Meet

A very unique feature of the program arranged for the meeting of the Oglethorpe Woman's board Wednesday afternoon at the Woman's club will be the playing of a new march, "The Petrels' Parade," by the orchestra.

This march was written by a member of the board of founders and dedicated to the Oglethorpe orchestra. The composer will be present but does not wish his name disclosed.

This meeting will be the most important ever held by the board. Judge Edgar Watkins, chairman of the executive committee of the board of founders, will make an interesting telling of the recent events concerning the university and the wonderful future of the college.

Junior Hadassah To Give Minstrel

The Junior Hadassah Girls Minstrel show will be given at the Atlanta Woman's Club, Tuesday, March 18.

SAVE
THE TROUBLE OF COFFEE MAKING—USE
Mushington's Coffee

IT IS MADE
JUST DISSOLVE
AND DRINK IT.
A GREAT CONVENIENCE AND OH, SO GOOD!

Much of the charm of your table depends on sugar

The use of the right sugar at the right time increases the charm of the table and insures the best cooking results. I keep a full shelf of Domino Package Sugars for every sugar need.

For sweetening coffee and tea—use Domino Tablet Sugar.

For cereals and iced beverages—use Domino Powdered Sugar.

For cooking, baking and candy making—use Domino Granulated Sugar.

For icings and fondants—use Domino Confectioners Sugar.

For baked beans, candied potatoes, tarts and cakes—use Domino Old Fashioned Brown Sugar.

FREE UPON REQUEST—Every woman will appreciate our Sugar Etiquette Chart and the helpful books of Domino Candy, Cooking and Preserving Recipes. We will gladly send them to you free upon request. Address American Sugar Refining Company, 117 Wall Street, New York.

American Sugar Refining Company

"Sweeten it with Domino"

Granulated, Tablet, Powdered, Confectioners, Brown, Golden Syrup, Cinnamon and Sugar, Sugar-Honey, Molasses

DAILY CALENDAR OF SOCIAL EVENTS

Opera musicale at the Atlanta Woman's Club auditorium at 3 o'clock.

Miss Margaret Elder will be hostess to the Sub-Deb club this afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sterling J. Elder, on Ponce de Leon avenue.

Mrs. Benjamin Wallace will entertain at a bridge-luncheon in honor of Mrs. B. N. Spooner.

The members of the Phi Pi sorority will be entertained by the board members at Washington seminary.

Miss Frances Brown will entertain in honor of Mrs. Jack Jones at tea at the Piedmont Driving club, this afternoon.

Mrs. Katherine Connerat will entertain the Woman's Board of Oglethorpe university at tea at the Atlanta Woman's club this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Faculty recital at the Washington seminary at 10 o'clock.

There will be a party this afternoon at 3:15 o'clock at Highland school for the girls of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades of the school.

Miss Myra Boynton will entertain the members of the O. B. X. sorority of Washington seminary this afternoon at 3 o'clock at her home on Habersham road.

Mrs. J. B. Morgan will entertain the members of the Third Ward League of Women Voters at her home on Hill street this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The members and friends of the Hurst Dancing club will dance this evening at Hurst hall.

Mrs. George McGarty will entertain at a luncheon Wednesday at the Piedmont Driving club in honor of Mrs. Holland Jenkins, and Mrs. Bussey Hilton, of Savannah, the guest of Mrs. D. C. Black.

Mrs. Arthur P. Burk will give the first of a series of bridge luncheons today at her home on Ponce de Leon avenue.

Mrs. J. B. Anchors and Mrs. Ovid Bush will entertain this afternoon in compliment to Miss Virginia Overshiner, whose marriage to Asa Patterson, Jr., will take place in April, and for Miss Florence Simmons, of Dublin, who is the guest of Mrs. Anchors.

Mrs. David May will entertain at luncheon today for Mrs. Charles S. Stevens, of Boston, Mass., the guest of Mrs. Louis Estes.

Miss Martha Boykin will give a bridge party this afternoon in compliment to Miss Charlotte Conant, of Boston, Mass.

A benefit bridge will be given at the Atlanta chapter house, 156 Juniper street, this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

HEARTS AFIRE

BY MAY CHRISTIE

The Brilliant Novelist of Modern Society

INSTALLMENT 63.

His "Blind Happiness."

The boys were humming downy among the blossom of the apple orchard, and Prudence Page—an enchanting picture in her gingham frock of faded blue—was lying in a hammock slung between two trees when Virginia—hot with wrath because at a break pace down the road and sighted what she called the "little disturber."

"Sit little cat! S'pose she thinks Peter'll come along and see her? Posing, that's what she is!"

Prudence, however, was doing nothing of the sort. She was struggling to read a book of Victor Hugo's in the original, with a view to improving her knowledge of the French tongue.

For now that her mother was so much better, Prudence cherished hopes of "getting a job" somewhere, and that for a third of the radius of Peter Armstrong's vision. It was torturing to run the risk of meeting him. Secondly, work was the great passion for all women, and the one possible way of forgetfulness.

Thirdly, she did so want to make herself "worth-while." Having known (and loved) a man like Peter Armstrong, wasn't it up to her to be all the better for it, instead of bitter and narrow and "disappointed?"

Virginia looked over the hedge, and seeing the sweetness and beauty of the younger girl, hated her with all her heart—if Virginia possessed such a disturbing organ, which is doubtful.

A big blossom fell on Prudence's face. Its pink-and-cream "was no clearer than the girl's complexion, and the latter was entirely guileless of rouge or creams or powder.

Prudence swept the fallen blossom off, and as she did so, her book fell to the ground, and she sat up, yawning a little.

Virginia passed on to the garden gate, and went through it to another, larger gate which led into the apple orchard.

It wasn't till she was within a few yards of Prudence, coming up behind, that the latter turned around and perceived the newcomer.

"Good afternoon," snapped Virginia, conscious that the peaceful setting of the place was no fit spot for the letting loose of her own terrific temper, but torn with jealous rage. "I've come on rather an unpleasant mission, so I won't beat about the bush."

Prudence eyed her with disarming composure. Could this unexpected attack should so misfire?

But it was unexpected? The child must have a guilty conscience?

"Well, what is it?" Prudence coughed no further greeting. She did not even move from the hammock, but sat there—apparently an innocent mistress of herself—gazing at her heated assailant with a wide-eyed candor that was peculiarly disconcerting.

Virginia moved nearer. She touched the fallen book with the toe of her smart shoe, and, with a sneer, remarked:

"Reading French novels on the sly, eh? Sweet, innocent little country maid, not quite as angelic as she makes the novel believe she is? Or perhaps she could tell a tale . . ."

Not for a moment did Prudence take her candid eyes from off the speaker's face, as gravely she replied:

"I thought that everyone who had been to school knew that Victor Hugo's novels are classics? Or haven't you ever learned French?"

"That was a 'face'!" Virginia bit her petulant underlip, and dug her parasol viciously into a little clump of flowers, as though she'd like to murder everything that was lovely, and cool, and dignified, she being none of these three things at the moment.

Prudence did not answer. Instead, she slid out of the hammock, picked up the fallen book, and—as though Virginia weren't there at all—turned her back on her and set off for the house.

"Here! Listen! Wait a minute!" Virginia caught up with her.

Prudence turned, still with the expression of dignified gravity on her face.

"What do you wish to say?"

Virginia swallowed for a moment, then she blurted out:

"Don't glare to peach on my preserves! Keep your hands off Peter Armstrong!"

Prudence's gaze widened. Quer her this "society" girl could be as common as any fish-wife!

"You mean that you imagine I'm trying to take him away from you?"

"Yes. Not that there's the least chance of your succeeding, for men in Peter's class would never think seriously of a farm-girl, a dairymaid—Prudence's outward tranquility did not fail her.

"Then why come to me at all? Why not let the matter be?"

Another "pose!" This impudent child had all her wits about her! thought Virginia furiously.

"I come to you because I don't choose to have gossip circulating about the man I'm going to marry," she snapped out. "He's mine . . . in love with me."

"That being so," said Prudence calmly, "He couldn't possibly be interested in me! So set your mind at rest."

Pride triumphed over pain. She was a "throughbred."

"What do you mean?"

"You say you are engaged to him. You say that he's in love with you. That being the case, how can you think he's even interested in me, or what I do?"

Virginia snorted.

"Don't play the innocent babe! Don't dare deny you met him the other evening in the moonlight!"

Before Prudence could reply to that, she hurried on, angrily:

"Men in Peter's class only amuse themselves with girls like you. Look how Bert Thompson played with you, and then threw you over. Bert's been in love with me for years. He's pro-

Candidates Speak At Luncheon Given By League of Voters

Mrs. R. K. Rambo presided at the luncheon given under the auspices of the Atlanta League of Women Voters on Tuesday at the Peacock cafe, at 12:30 o'clock. Four candidates running for the office of tax collector were present and spoke upon their respective stands concerning the fee system versus the salary system.

Mrs. Sanford Gay, president of the league, introduced Mrs. Rambo, who in turn introduced the candidates in the following order: W. H. Andrews, Harry Goodhart, George Mathieson, and a representative for Mr. Richard, in the person of Mrs. Fred Gibbs. The candidates spoke in favor of the salary system, each announcing his own particular interpretation of the quality of agreeing to accept a fixed salary without the passage of a law to that effect.

Mrs. Gay made the announcement that no tickets or other financial solicitations should be made at these luncheons, and that such action, having occurred once, was through accident and not by or according to the policy of the league.

Mrs. W. A. Arnold, efficient chairman of the luncheons, announced that the reservations may be made by calling her at Ivy 6549.

Bride-Elect Is Honored

A social affair of last week was the shower given by Miss Martha Yarbrough, in honor of the bride-elect of March, Mrs. Mary Murrel.

Features of the afternoon were the contests, "What will be in the bride's trousseau?" and "What will his bride wear?" Later in the afternoon tea was served.

Twelve friends of the honor guest were present.

U. D. C. Benefit Bridge This Afternoon

Mrs. A. O. Woodward announces a benefit bridge to be given at the chapter house, 156 Juniper street, this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

This party is sponsored by the honorary members of Camp Fire and will be a very lovely party.

There will be prizes for every table and beautiful prizes will also be awarded.

For reservations phone Main 5177-J or Walnut 0605. Bring pencils and cards.

Twentieth Century Coterie To Meet

The Twentieth Century Coterie will meet Thursday, March 6, at 3 o'clock with Mrs. J. M. Landers, 111 McDonald Street, in Deatur.

Miss Lottie Green Entertains Club

Miss Lottie Green entertained the members of the Jolly Fourteen Saturday evening at her home on the Howell Mill Road.

The house was decorated throughout with carnations and narcissi and other flowers suggestive of spring.

posed to me a hundred times. You tried to get him and you failed. And now you're trying to get the other. "You are totally mistaken," Prudence held her young head high. "But—since you talk so frankly—let me tell you something. I only do it because the men you are going to marry is so superior to yourself, so immeasurably above you in every way, that I fear for his happiness. And so I ask you not to smash his ideals, but let him keep his illusions about you—let him have his blind happiness as long as may be possible."

"Well, what is it?" Prudence coughed no further greeting. She did not even move from the hammock, but sat there—apparently an innocent mistress of herself—gazing at her heated assailant with a wide-eyed candor that was peculiarly disconcerting.

Virginia moved nearer. She touched the fallen book with the toe of her smart shoe, and, with a sneer, remarked:

"Reading French novels on the sly, eh? Sweet, innocent little country maid, not quite as angelic as she makes the novel believe she is? Or perhaps she could tell a tale . . ."

Not for a moment did Prudence take her candid eyes from off the speaker's face, as gravely she replied:

"I thought that everyone who had been to school knew that Victor Hugo's novels are classics? Or haven't you ever learned French?"

"That was a 'face'!" Virginia bit her petulant underlip, and dug her parasol viciously into a little clump of flowers, as though she'd like to murder everything that was lovely, and cool, and dignified, she being none of these three things at the moment.

Prudence did not answer. Instead, she slid out of the hammock, picked up the fallen book, and—as though Virginia weren't there at all—turned her back on her and set off for the house.

"Here! Listen! Wait a minute!" Virginia caught up with her.

Prudence turned, still with the expression of dignified gravity on her face.

"What do you wish to say?"

Virginia swallowed for a moment, then she blurted out:

"Don't glare to peach on my preserves! Keep your hands off Peter Armstrong!"

Prudence's gaze widened. Quer her this "society" girl could be as common as any fish-wife!

"You mean that you imagine I'm trying to take him away from you?"

"Yes. Not that there's the least chance of your succeeding, for men in Peter's class would never think seriously of a farm-girl, a dairymaid—Prudence's outward tranquility did not fail her.

"Then why come to me at all? Why not let the matter be?"

Another "pose!" This impudent child had all her wits about her! thought Virginia furiously.

"I come to you because I don't choose to have gossip circulating about the man I'm going to marry," she snapped out. "He's mine . . . in love with me."

"That being so," said Prudence calmly, "He couldn't possibly be interested in me! So set your mind at rest."

Pride triumphed over pain. She was a "throughbred."

"What do you mean?"

"You say you are engaged to him. You say that he's in love with you. That being the case, how can you think he's even interested in me, or what I do?"

Virginia snorted.

"Don't play the innocent babe! Don't dare deny you met him the other evening in the moonlight!"

Before Prudence could reply to that, she hurried on, angrily:

"Men in Peter's class only amuse themselves with girls like you. Look how Bert Thompson played with you, and then threw you over. Bert's been in love with me for years. He's pro-

Junior Hadassahs Play Mother To Starving Tots in Palestine

The picture to the left shows Estair Ohanna in her half-blind mother's arms at the time she was adopted by the Atlanta unit of the Junior Hadassah. At the right is another picture of little Estair, taken some months after her adoption in Palestine, showing the effect of good food and clothes.

Little Estair, 2-year-old daughter of Mordecai Ohanna, renowned Talmud scholar of Babylonia, Palestine, has just been adopted by the Atlanta unit of the Junior Hadassah, a small group of earnest young women, one of the forty-three like groups in America, organized in 1920 under the auspices of the Women Zionists of America to support Jewish orphans in Palestine. Estair is the second orphan to be adopted by the Atlanta unit of the Junior Hadassah. The first was a nine-year-old girl adopted in January, 1923.

From the report received from Jerusalem, it was learned that Estair has been wandering since her birth in Tunis. Estair's father as a French subject was forced to leave Palestine at a few days' notice when Turkey entered the war, and after six years' wandering in north Africa was killed in falling from a horse, leaving his wife and five children penniless and stranded in a strange land. After eighteen months the family found their way to Jerusalem where they were discovered by the Palestine Orphan committee in "rags and living in a cave built in the side of a hill, and the children crying for food."

But Estair's case is just a typical one of the many families of war refugees. The first orphan adopted by the Atlanta unit of the Junior Hadassah was Tavas Mizrahi. The history of her life led to her foster-mothers read thus: "Tavas was born in Ournish, Anatolia, and is an attractive girl, with pleasant manners. Her father was killed and the mother ran away with the child. After long wanderings, they entered Palestine, penniless, with no means of support. The mother is half blind and can no way care for or support her daughter." A great deal of misery packed into a few years and a few words!

For years the Hadassah, the Women Zionists of America, has been working on the principle that every child belongs to the community, and to humanity; that when the parent dies or is incapacitated, the community, the nation, the world becomes responsible for the child; the principle that to care for these children is not a duty, but a joy, and that something that is a prime and fundamental duty. They have not confined themselves to war orphans, but have taken in post-war orphans. There are four groups of young women in America formed for the purpose of financially aiding these orphans in Palestine. In the last year sixty-four children were adopted by these groups of young women, and this year they hope to increase the number of their children.

With the funds sent from America to the Palestine orphan committee the Hadassah helps the joint distribution committee care for nearly 2,000 children. Some of the children are placed in small orphanages which are

Camp Fire Girls Find Happiness In Home Service

Camp Fire, the organization for the teen-age girl, which is putting on a very successful campaign of extension work in Atlanta under the leadership of Miss Mary Louise Wilson, executive secretary of Camp Fire, is unique, says Dr. Henry N. MacCracken, president of Vassar College, in that it combines so successfully its high ideals with practical, serviceable accomplishments. The work that Camp Fire girls are doing is conclusive proof that the organization not only embodies a beautiful set of laws and symbolic honors, but it puts forward a program that produces very definite, concrete results.

The story of one Camp Fire in Georgia offers a forceful illustration of the close correlation between Camp Fire ideals and Camp Fire facts. The home of Elizabeth Tucker was one of particularly irritating ugliness. The family spent their evenings in a living room that was full of color-chaos; articles were strewn about the floor and were always under someone's feet; the table was untidy, the furniture was old and shabby. But because there was not enough money to go out and buy fine new things, there was nothing done to relieve the drab, uncomfortable house, and the family continued to exist, waiting a deal of physical and spiritual power under such surroundings.

Then, Elizabeth joined Camp Fire and the change began. She became very much interested in home craft and learned some startling facts about interior decoration. She demanded a corner of the living room at home with which to experiment, and try out some of the lovely new ideas that Camp Fire had taught her. In the course of the next two weeks, with a few cents wisely spent, and a deal of time and patience, Elizabeth achieved a corner harmonious in color, clean and inviting with bright cretonnes. The family seemed to gravitate, naturally, toward Elizabeth's corner, and the cheer radiating from her little lamp made a cozy glow over the room. The improvement was so great that Elizabeth, with the ready help of the family, now very much interested in Camp Fire, decided to experiment with another corner. From this corner, then, through all the house, went the busy hand and brain of the Camp Fire girl, and in a few months the happiness of genuine contentment rested on the home.

"Let us cultivate our gardens," said Voltaire, and he might have added, "Let us cultivate our houses, too."

The Atlanta unit of the Junior Hadassah is barely two years old, and has already enlisted some 65 young women, all enthusiastic members. "For," as Miss Belle Levy, its president, explains, "it's wonderful to be a long-distance mother, to know that a tiny tot in Palestine is being fed and clothed and made happy by us. They say that in Palestine they certainly love the 'rich Mrs. Hadassah.' And then it's fun getting up socials, and showers for the benefit of some one like Tavas—now it's going to be Estair. We're planning to give a minstrel soon."

The Junior Hadassah groups do not confine themselves to the work of supporting the adopted orphans. Their activities embrace study groups in Hebrew, Jewish folk songs, Jewish history, sewing and knitting circles, and social intercourse.

DAILY CALENDAR OF WOMEN'S MEETINGS

The Junior High Parent-Teacher association of the Bass school will hold a meeting in the school library at 3 o'clock. Dr. W. A. Sutton will be the speaker.

North Side Embroidery club will meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock with Mrs. C. A. Tappan, 117 Springdale road.

Eleventh Ward League of Women Voters will hold a school for voters in the John B. Gordon school house this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The regular meeting of the Atlanta Truth Center at Carnegie library at 11 o'clock. Evening class at 6 o'clock.

The Modern Topics club will meet with Mrs. Ben R. Padgett, 406 Virginia avenue, at 10:30 o'clock.

Luckie Street School Parent-Teacher association will meet at 2:30 o'clock.

The Georgia Avenue Parent-Teacher association will meet at 3 o'clock.

The Woman's Pioneer society will meet at 3 o'clock this afternoon at Edison hall.

The Atlanta club of the Georgia State College for Women will meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the City club.

The College Park Woman's club will hold their regular meeting in the Presbyterian Sunday school assembly room this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The board of management of the Joseph Habersham chapter, D. A. R., will hold its regular meeting at the chapter house today at 10 o'clock.

The Wednesday Morning Study club will meet at 10:30 o'clock with Mrs. H. C. Phipps, 27 Druid Place.

Monthly meeting of Druid Hills W. C. T. U. at 3 o'clock.

The 1908 History class will meet with Mrs. A. E. Buck at her home on Myrtle street.

Georgia Avenue Parent-Teacher association will hold the regular monthly meeting this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The Parent-Teacher association of the Emory Elementary school will meet at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Music Club Meeting Postponed.

The Atlanta Music club has postponed its meeting from this morning on account of its being Ash Wednesday until Wednesday, March 12.

Day of Prayer To Be Held.

The Woman's Missionary society of the Third Baptist church will hold a day of prayer for home missions March 6 at the church, beginning at 10 o'clock, every member of the Women's Missionary society is requested to attend.

Phone, IV 2739

DR. JAMES F. HAMILTON

CHIROPDIST

1108 Fourth National Bank Bldg.

Sunday and Evening by Appointment.

Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Company

Spring Sponsors These Charming New Hats

Smart in design—exquisite in color. Distinctive models in all black and in black and white.

The Cloche is still the thing, though brims show a tendency to creep out as the season advances.

Fine Milan straws, Neapolitans, and novelty weaves are combined with moire ribbons and trimmings of kid in very stunning tailored models.

Flower turbans are new—all-over flowered effects or in wide flowered bands.

Spring colorings are most exquisite—sunset shades, powder and other new blues, the full range of browns and no end of delightful color combinations.

Prices are surprisingly modest.

Millinery—Second Floor

Notable Values Are These Corset--Brassieres

Of Unusually Handsome Fabrics

Beautiful silk broche, or wide satin striped materials, both of flesh color, and very durable.

Deep gores of silk surgical elastic at the hips.

Diaphragm control (special cross-boning) in the front.

Four strong supporters and shoulder straps of special silk figured wide band.

Very Exceptional Values $2.95

See Window Display

Corsets—Second Floor

Ready to Serve

It is delightfully easy to serve B & M Fish Flakes. No bones, no waste—just perfectly cooked, delicious fish, tastefully seasoned. Absolutely pure and wholesome. Serve these firm, juicy, tender, white flakes of cod and haddock as Fish Balls, Fish Cakes, Fish Chowder, etc.—in a moment's time. Small cost. B & M Fish Flakes is Old New England's contribution to the really good things for your table. Get a tin or two from your Grocer, and try it—that's all!

For Lenten Dishes

Down East Recipes—FREE

We have prepared a book of genuine Down East Recipes for preparing economical yet delicious fish dishes of many kinds. Every housewife should have a copy of this book. Please write for one—sent free on request.

B & M FISH FLAKES

BURNHAM & MORRILL CO. PORTLAND MAINE

B & M Paris Sugar Corn B & M Lima Beans
B & M Clams and Bouillon
B & M Deep-Sea Lobster B & M Clam Chowder

At Your Grocer's

For a quick, delicious breakfast. Enough for large cakes. Try a tin. At your Grocer's.

CLEAN

white kid and all fabric shoes with

ENERGINE

THE PERFECT CLEANER

35¢ All Drug Stores

Golden Glint SHAMPOO

How to care for Dull Hair

Just washing cleans hair, yet what a difference in its appearance a little bluing makes! Like linen, hair requires something more than soap and water to make it really beautiful. If you honestly want luster, brightness, softness, in your hair, use Golden Glint Shampoo. It gives the hair a natural radiance, truly beautiful, a long-lived brightness that lasts between shampoos, a delicate color-embellish that beautifies your hair and makes it shine. You'll never know how really well your hair can look until you've had a Golden Glint Shampoo. Try one, and you'll be convinced.

Blunders

Would you wish to handle a note like this in business transactions? The answer will be found among today's want ads.

Southern Art League To Hold Next Meeting in Atlanta

J. Carroll Payne, of Atlanta, was elected president of the Southern States Art League at the fourth annual meeting, which is being held in Savannah this week.

Another Atlanta elected to office was Miss Virginia Woolley, who will act as secretary-treasurer. Miss Florence McIntyre, of Memphis, was elected first vice president, and James Callahan, of Houston, Texas, was elected second vice president.

The league was invited to hold its next meeting in Atlanta the invitation being extended by Mrs. Edwin W. Moore, president of the Atlanta Art association. In the voting Atlanta won over Charleston and Houston, which cities also extended invitations.

In the annual exhibition of the league, which is being held during the month of March at the Telfair Academy of Arts and Sciences in Savannah, there is work of several Atlanta artists on display. Among these are Mrs. John Cooper, Miss Virginia Woolley and Mrs. E. K. Turner.

Each of these artists has pictures in the display of oil paintings. Mrs. Cooper has "The Red Table," Mrs. Turner the "Old Rose Trellis," and Miss Woolley has two which are called "In the Harbor" and "The Capistrano Mission," which she painted in California. Other paintings on display by these artists are Mrs. Cooper's "White Phlox" and "The Studio," Mrs. Turner's "Barrington Hall" and "The Mill Pond," and Miss Woolley's "California Poppy Field."

Another artist in whom Atlantans will be interested is Mrs. R. King W. Moore, of Spartanburg, South Carolina. She has often had her work exhibited at the Atlanta Woman's club, and her "Spirit of the Palms" is attracting much attention in the collection in Savannah.

The limitations of the Southern States Art League at present are that members and exhibitors must be natives of the south or must have been residents of the south for at least two years.

HAMLET-SIMMONS WEDDING IS HELD

Continued From Page 12.

reaching to the four corners of the room.

Bridal Party.
To Lohengrin's wedding march the bridal party descended the floral aisle to the living room. First to enter were the two little ribbon bearers, Sebastian and John Miller, sons of Mr. and Mrs. J. Hall Miller. Both wore smart suits of white satin with white silk crepe bowties. They were followed by Miss Kathryn Page Edwards, cousin of the bride. She wore a gown of light blue crepe de chine with a white silk crepe bowtie. In her hands she carried a bouquet of white sweet peas.

Next to enter was the maid of honor, Miss Mildred Davis. She wore an attractive gown of rose pink crepe de chine with a white silk crepe bowtie. She carried a large bouquet of white sweet peas. Following her was the bride, Miss Kathryn Page Edwards, in a gown of white silk crepe de chine with a white silk crepe bowtie. She carried a large bouquet of white sweet peas.

Lovely Bride.
The lovely young bride entered with her brother, L. Carson Hamlett, by whom she was given in marriage. They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, J. Edgar Hamlett.

The bride wore a handsome gown of silver lace fashioned over silver cloth. Gracefully draped at the left side the lace was held to the waistline with an exquisite ornament of pearls and rhinestones. A court train of cloth of silver overlaid with silver lace hung from the shoulders where it was fastened with pearl and rhinestone ornaments. A veil of filmy tulle fell in graceful folds to the end of the train. A coronet of pearls held in place by soft hair.

Buffet Supper.
Following the ceremony the bride's mother, Mrs. Samuel Edgar Hamlett, entertained at an elaborate buffet supper.

She was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. W. O. Foote, Mrs. Thomas H. Clower and Mrs. Maxwell Carson Maxwell, of Stamford, Conn.

Mrs. Hamlett wore a handsome gown of black satin with a corsage of white roses and violets.

Misses Elizabeth Reynolds and Laura Bartholomew served punch from bowls embedded in smilax and ferns.

Dr. Floyd W. McRae Elected President Of Court of Honor

At the annual meeting of the Court of Honor of the Boy Scouts of Atlanta held Monday night, Dr. Floyd W. McRae was elected president, succeeding Col. E. E. Pomeroy, who declined reelection for the fifth time. Robert Gregg, W. P. Nicolson, Jr., and Hal F. Hents were elected vice presidents.

Resolutions were presented to Col. Pomeroy expressing the gratitude and appreciation of members of the Court of Honor to the Atlanta court for the splendid service rendered during his four years as president of the court.

The annual report submitted by Assistant Scout Executive Stewart showed that the court had held 29 meetings during 1925 and that 117 different scouts had been awarded a total of 488 merit badges.

Jane Hedden Hat Pattern

No. 2299

The bright colors of fancy narrow ribbon or ribbons make the embroidery design on the front of the unusual shape used for model 2299. The material for the hat is straw cloth, taffeta, or satin are the most desirable materials for this model. The design is suited for informal dress and more elaborate street wear.

WEDDING JOURNEY.

During the evening Mr. and Mrs. Simmons left for a wedding journey to New York and other points in the east. Mrs. Simmons wore a three-piece tailored costume of navy blue charmer with a smart cloche hat of tan straw. She is the lovely daughter of Mrs. Samuel Edgar Hamlett. She formerly lived in Virginia where she was a member of prominent cultured families. She is a graduate of Girls' High school and of the Pestalozzi Froebel Kindergarten college of Chicago. She has been instructor of the Spring street kindergarten class for the past several years and has been a counselor at Laurel Falls camp during the summer months where she was very popular.

Of attractive blonde coloring, with a charming personality, she has a host of friends. She is a talented member of the Little Theater Guild of Atlanta and was a charter member of the organization, having appeared in several of the Guild's productions. She is also prominently identified with St. Luke's church, where she is an active worker. During the war she was engaged in war camp community service.

She is the sister of Robert Carson and J. Edgar Hamlett.

Mrs. Simmons is a prominent young business woman and is identified with civic and fraternal circles. He is a member of the firm of Simmons-Kerr Realty company.

BEAUTY CHATS

By Edna K. Forbes

PROPERLY USED CREAM.

Cold cream is most useful in its proper place. It will cleanse the skin more thoroughly than soap and water, though it should never be used as a substitute. It will keep the skin from chapping if a fairly heavy variety of cream is used in cold weather, and in the summer time will do a great deal toward preventing sunburn.

But cold cream can be abused. If too much is used on the skin or if too heavy a variety is used a coarse, pitted, oily complexion is apt to result. If cheap cream full of soda is used the best complexion will be ruined in no time. If a cream made of impure or very cheap ingredients is used the skin is apt to break out in blotches.

Buy a well-known brand of cream or make your own. An excellent formula for a good general cold cream which can't possibly grow hair, and which is very cleansing and very light in quality is made as follows:

White wax 1 ounce
Spermaceti 1 ounce
Almond oil 1/2 ounce
White mineral oil 1/2 ounce
Rose water 1 1/2 ounces
Borax 1/10 grains
Oil of lemon 15 drops

The wax and spermaceti are melted in the oils and as soon as they are blended the rose water and borax, which have previously been made lukewarm, are added slowly, and the whole stirred and beaten as it cools. As soon as it begins to congeal pour it into jars.

If you wish to use this for wrinkles, or as a skin food, substitute either first grade olive or almond oil for the mineral oil. This gives a somewhat heavier cream but one that is very easy to massage with. Either of these creams can be used every day with only benefit to the skin because the ingredients are light and pure.

R. G. L.—Aids in the skin sections will sometimes cause a green stain from some metals; however, neither gold, silver nor platinum will do this.

Your weight at 15 years of age, height five feet, four inches, should be about 112 pounds.

Darby—Try cucumber juice for blotching the skin. As you have no time to make a bleach, cut the cucumber into convenient pieces and use these on your face. A dark skin may often be traced to a sluggish liver condition, which would have to be cured before there would be any improvement in its shade. This may account for your failure with the other bleaches.

Tomorrow—Curiosities of Perumes.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" column in this paper will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question. —The Editor.

Negroes Observe Lent.

Negro Episcopalians of Atlanta will observe Lenten season, beginning at noon today, Ash Wednesday. Rev. W. D. Rogers, of St. Matthias Episcopal church, 349 North Ashby street, has arranged a series of Lenten services to continue regularly until Easter, it was announced Tuesday.

The first speaker today will be Rev. Richardson, of the Church of the Incarnation, Bishop H. J. Mickel, of the Atlanta diocese, will preach, and will confirm a large class prepared by the minister at the 8 o'clock service tonight.

BOUDOIR MIRRORS OF WASHINGTON

Mixing Your Guests Worse Than Mixing Your Drinks

Backstage Washington—the glitter of official life and the subtleties of diplomatic ambition, patios. It is of these a woman who knows—in "Boudoir Mirrors of Washington." This astonishingly frank series is appearing exclusively in The Constitution, an installment being published every day. Each chapter stands alone.

(Copyright, 1924, in U. S. and Canada, by Women's News Service, Inc., passed exclusively by the North American Newspaper Alliance.)

Each official group in Washington has its day for receiving.

On Monday you may call on the judiciary. There aren't many judges, so that is a slack day.

Tuesday is a busy day, as the wives of the representatives are receiving, singly or in groups.

Wednesday is cabinet day, numerically small but very important. On Thursday the ladies of the senate are at home, while Friday is reserved for the diplomatic corps.

Social Washington has a day off on Saturday and may round up the cave dwellers, have a shamrock and give a party on the quiet.

The hours of calling are usually from four to six or some times seven. I went to a senator's house one day and arrived a few minutes before four. I pushed the button and a livid person opened the door.

"Madame does not receive until five o'clock," he said firmly, and closed the door in my face.

Up on Capitol hill, where so many of the congress wives live, Tuesday is as busy as Washington. In the days of our great-grandmothers, as one woman said: "On Tuesday I feel like the trashman, going from door to door, and you see there are over four hundred congressmen."

In some apartments they receive in groups. When you go in the door you see a row of baskets, each with a name card. By the way, I notice an English woman doctor has stated that indulgence in social conversation impedes mental development.

At last a friend dropped her a hint that these white clad paws were a little obtrusive, and she didn't wear them all the time.

"Well, the etiquette book says you should," she stuck to them.

Many suffer from a dearth of conversational small talk, the verbal stuff that fits into afternoon teas or dinner intervals. By the way, I notice an English woman doctor has stated that indulgence in social conversation impedes mental development.

At last a friend dropped her a hint that these white clad paws were a little obtrusive, and she didn't wear them all the time.

"Well, the etiquette book says you should," she stuck to them.

Many suffer from a dearth of conversational small talk, the verbal stuff that fits into afternoon teas or dinner intervals. By the way, I notice an English woman doctor has stated that indulgence in social conversation impedes mental development.

At last a friend dropped her a hint that these white clad paws were a little obtrusive, and she didn't wear them all the time.

"Well, the etiquette book says you should," she stuck to them.

Many suffer from a dearth of conversational small talk, the verbal stuff that fits into afternoon teas or dinner intervals. By the way, I notice an English woman doctor has stated that indulgence in social conversation impedes mental development.

At last a friend dropped her a hint that these white clad paws were a little obtrusive, and she didn't wear them all the time.

"Well, the etiquette book says you should," she stuck to them.

Many suffer from a dearth of conversational small talk, the verbal stuff that fits into afternoon teas or dinner intervals. By the way, I notice an English woman doctor has stated that indulgence in social conversation impedes mental development.

At last a friend dropped her a hint that these white clad paws were a little obtrusive, and she didn't wear them all the time.

"Well, the etiquette book says you should," she stuck to them.

Many suffer from a dearth of conversational small talk, the verbal stuff that fits into afternoon teas or dinner intervals. By the way, I notice an English woman doctor has stated that indulgence in social conversation impedes mental development.

At last a friend dropped her a hint that these white clad paws were a little obtrusive, and she didn't wear them all the time.

"Well, the etiquette book says you should," she stuck to them.

Many suffer from a dearth of conversational small talk, the verbal stuff that fits into afternoon teas or dinner intervals. By the way, I notice an English woman doctor has stated that indulgence in social conversation impedes mental development.

At last a friend dropped her a hint that these white clad paws were a little obtrusive, and she didn't wear them all the time.

"Well, the etiquette book says you should," she stuck to them.

Many suffer from a dearth of conversational small talk, the verbal stuff that fits into afternoon teas or dinner intervals. By the way, I notice an English woman doctor has stated that indulgence in social conversation impedes mental development.

At last a friend dropped her a hint that these white clad paws were a little obtrusive, and she didn't wear them all the time.

"Well, the etiquette book says you should," she stuck to them.

Many suffer from a dearth of conversational small talk, the verbal stuff that fits into afternoon teas or dinner intervals. By the way, I notice an English woman doctor has stated that indulgence in social conversation impedes mental development.

At last a friend dropped her a hint that these white clad paws were a little obtrusive, and she didn't wear them all the time.

"Well, the etiquette book says you should," she stuck to them.

Many suffer from a dearth of conversational small talk, the verbal stuff that fits into afternoon teas or dinner intervals. By the way, I notice an English woman doctor has stated that indulgence in social conversation impedes mental development.

At last a friend dropped her a hint that these white clad paws were a little obtrusive, and she didn't wear them all the time.

"Well, the etiquette book says you should," she stuck to them.

Many suffer from a dearth of conversational small talk, the verbal stuff that fits into afternoon teas or dinner intervals. By the way, I notice an English woman doctor has stated that indulgence in social conversation impedes mental development.

At last a friend dropped her a hint that these white clad paws were a little obtrusive, and she didn't wear them all the time.

"Well, the etiquette book says you should," she stuck to them.

P.-T.A. Student Aid Fund Will Give Cake Sale Thursday

A large cake sale will be given Thursday at Franklin and Cox drug store on Whitehall street by the student aid of the Girls' High P.-T.A., beginning at 10 o'clock in the morning.

The proceeds of the cake sale will be used as a nucleus forming a fund which will be known as the Student Aid fund, to be used by the P.-T.A. of the Girls' High school in assisting students of the Girls' High who are in need of such assistance.

It is one of the most worth while and constructive pieces of work being done by the association. All who are sufficiently interested are asked to send contributions of home-made cakes and candies to Franklin and Cox at 10 o'clock Thursday morning.

The committee in charge of the cake sale are Mrs. Thomas Brooks, chairman; Mrs. Slaughter Lathrop; Mrs. Frank McCormack.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Cream That Will Not Whip.

When your prize dessert is all ready for the whipped cream and it refuses to whip, add the white of an egg to the cream and set it on ice. When thoroughly cold, beat again and your cream will be lovely and firm.

Leather Furniture.
If the leather furniture is beginning to look shabby try this method of rejuvenation: Remove all dust. Then with a piece of flannel apply equal parts of boiled linseed oil and turpentine. Polish with a dry flannel cloth.

Quick Service.
The potatoes are usually the drawback when hubby comes home early and wants his dinner early to keep an appointment. Pare and cut into small cubes. Pour hot water over them and boil rapidly. They will be ready to mash in 15 minutes.

Stolen Car Recovered.
Game Department Auto Disappeared 2 Years Ago.

Tuesday, the state commissioner of game and fish recovered an automobile, the property of his department, that was stolen over two years ago. The car disappeared from in front of the capitol in January, 1922. Since then it has been heard service in south Alabama and South Carolina. It was captured by a detective agency and returned to the state Tuesday morning.

But, to quote Commissioner Peter S. Twitty, there was "mighty little car left to return."

Eve's Epigrams

Long necks are beautiful; but that isn't the reason the men stretch theirs.

"I don't think many of these people come to our country and I don't see why we should bother about their language," he was naive reply.

Tomorrow: Mrs. Medill McCormick.

Elks' Campaigners

Hold Second Lunch
Wednesday at Noon

The second regular weekly luncheon of the membership campaign committee of Atlanta Lodge of Elks will be held at 12:30 o'clock Wednesday at the Elks home.

Since the drive was instituted two weeks ago, a large number of applications for membership have been received. In the agency and returned to the state Tuesday morning.

But, to quote Commissioner Peter S. Twitty, there was "mighty little car left to return."

Eve's Epigrams

Long necks are beautiful; but that isn't the reason the men stretch theirs.

"I don't think many of these people come to our country and I don't see why we should bother about their language," he was naive reply.

Tomorrow: Mrs. Medill McCormick.

Elks' Campaigners

Hold Second Lunch
Wednesday at Noon

The second regular weekly luncheon of the membership campaign committee of Atlanta Lodge of Elks will be held at 12:30 o'clock Wednesday at the Elks home.

Since the drive was instituted two weeks ago, a large number of applications for membership have been received. In the agency and returned to the state Tuesday morning.

But, to quote Commissioner Peter S. Twitty, there was "mighty little car left to return."

Eve's Epigrams

Long necks are beautiful; but that isn't the reason the men stretch theirs.

"I don't think many of these people come to our country and I don't see why we should bother about their language," he was naive reply.

Tomorrow: Mrs. Medill McCormick.

Elks' Campaigners

Hold Second Lunch
Wednesday at Noon

The second regular weekly luncheon of the membership campaign committee of Atlanta Lodge of Elks will be held at 12:30 o'clock Wednesday at the Elks home.

Since the drive was instituted two weeks ago, a large number of applications for membership have been received. In the agency and returned to the state Tuesday morning.

But, to quote Commissioner Peter S. Twitty, there was "mighty little car left to return."

Eve's Epigrams

Long necks are beautiful; but that isn't the reason the men stretch theirs.

"I don't think many of these people come to our country and I don't see why we should bother about their language," he was naive reply.

Tomorrow: Mrs. Medill McCormick.

Elks' Campaigners

Hold Second Lunch
Wednesday at Noon

The second regular weekly luncheon of the membership campaign committee of Atlanta Lodge of Elks will be held at 12:30 o'clock Wednesday at the Elks home.

SOCIAL ITEMS

Mrs. John C. Henderson has returned from Chattanooga, where she attended Grand Opera, as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Erwin.

Dr. Worth E. Yankey, who has been in Florida for the past week, has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Stone have as their guests at the Georgian Terrace, Mr. and Mrs. L. Z. Spaulding, of Birmingham, N. Y., who are en route to Florida and Cuba.

Mrs. B. M. Spooner, of New York, who has been the guest of Mrs. W. L. Russell, will return to her home next week. She will be accompanied by Mrs. Russell, who will spend a month in New York. They will sail from Jacksonville, Fla., visiting Palm Beach and Miami before sailing.

Mrs. Fred Shaefer will return Friday from Florida where she has spent the past month.

John Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Miller, of Ponce de Leon avenue, has been awarded a scholarship from the New York school of Fine Arts to the Paris school. He will complete his course in costume and stage design.

Mrs. George H. Preston, of Augusta, is recovering from a recent operation at the Union Memorial hospital in Baltimore. Mrs. Preston is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Dorough of Atlanta.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Young have returned from a visit to Augusta, Ga., where they were delightfully entertained.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Treadwell will leave soon for a visit of several months in New York.

Mrs. Ted Minnehan and Miss Helen Minnehan are in New Orleans.

Miss Margaret Hamilton Smith, of Brewton, Ala., is the guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene A. Smith, on St. Charles avenue.

Captain and Mrs. Buhl Moore have returned to Atlanta, Pa., after a visit to their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Schlesinger.

Mrs. Joseph E. Boston has returned from a three weeks' stay in New York.

Dr. Bryant King Vann has returned from Seabrook, Fla., where he was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hein.

Mrs. Clifford Dawson is in Florida.

Miss Sara Bacon, of Savannah, is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Joseph E. Boston, at her home on West Peachtree street.

Mrs. Howard Payne, of Elberton, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. John L. Tye, Jr., at her home on Peachtree street.

Twilight Club
Meets in West End

The members of the Twilight Club were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Griffin at their home in West End recently.

FIFTH WARD CLUB WILL MEET TONIGHT

The regular monthly meeting of the Fifth Ward Improvement club will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock at State Street school. Among other important subjects to be discussed will be the Girls' High school question, it was announced.

J. C. Burgen, president of the club, will preside, and all candidates for county offices are invited to attend.

Install it in your present ice box

NOW you can have Frigidaire installed in your present ice box. It can be done easily, quickly and inexpensively. It will relieve you once and for all of the worry and inconvenience of "taking ice."

It will mean proper food preservation—no spoilage, waste or contamination. It will make delicious frozen desserts and convenient ice cubes for your table. Write, phone or call for details.

E. H. DANFORTH
State Distributor
168 Spring St. Ivy 2022

Frigidaire
THE ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR for MODERN HOMES

"—and Finally They Come to Know It!"

MANY people go on for years and years, drinking one or more cups of coffee at a meal. But finally, for apparently no reason at all, they become nervous and irritable.

Or they lie awake at night, with their hearts beating faster than they should. Or perhaps their food may not agree with them. They are distressed after eating.

When the doctor is finally consulted he asks: "Do you drink coffee?"

Why not serve delicious, healthful Postum as your mealtime drink? Postum is a pure cereal beverage—absolutely free from caffeine, or any other irritating drug.

Sold by grocers everywhere!

Postum for Health

"There's a Reason"

Your grocer sells Postum in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) prepared instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages) for those who prefer the flavor brought out by boiling fully 20 minutes. The cost of either form is about one-half cent a cup.

R. G. L.—Aids in the skin sections will sometimes cause a green stain from some metals; however, neither gold, silver nor platinum will do this.

Your weight at 15 years of age, height five feet, four inches, should be about 112 pounds.

Darby—Try cucumber juice for blotching the skin. As you have no time to make a bleach, cut the cucumber into convenient pieces and use these on your face. A dark skin may often be traced to a sluggish liver condition, which would have to be cured before there would be any improvement in its shade. This may account for your failure with the other bleaches.

Wooden Wives

By Laura Jean Libbey

Continued From Yesterday.

God!—save me!" she gasped. She saw the thin plate glass could not hold out against the repeated blows of those heavy bodies that were hurled against it; when the glass fell, shattered into fragments—would leap in.

"Father!" she moaned, then her dazed thoughts turned to the hand whom she knew would give life for her, and her lips formed the words, "Daniel! Daniel!"—

Pauline's heart was torn as she felt such a pain in her heart—he was her world.

It had been decided that they should take a vacation for a week, remaining a week in New York. All during the trip east, Pauline kept wondering why Mrs. Moore, her father's good old housekeeper, had not written her for nearly a month. She hoped there was nothing the matter.

On reaching her old home, she found there was very much the matter. Her father received Daniel and herself with evident confusion.

To her amazement, Pauline discovered that every one of the old family servants had been discharged, and their places filled by strange faces.

Even Mrs. Moore was gone, her father informed her that he had no idea of her whereabouts—but understood she had left the city.

Pauline's tears over this intelligence, plainly annoyed him. Another thing startled her—her father's welcome was surely constrained or cold—it was only her fancy—that his heart had been cold to her?

Daniel seemed quite as astonished as herself at the dismissal of the old standbys who had loved and served the old senator so faithfully, so that they wanted to run my business, and I would have none of that!" he declared testily.

The house was filled with French maids, under a French housekeeper, who jabbered incessantly, in whispers in their native tongue. Their frowns and shrugging shoulders, as they glanced at the senator's daughter, told him quite as plainly as words could have done, Pauline was not welcome there.

He hoped from the bottom of his heart that his young wife would not notice it.

In every room they entered, Pauline saw new and beautiful pictures of Marcelline in the drawing room, a new and marvelous painting of her—where her own mother's portrait used to hang.

Her father saw her astonishment but made no excuses. Inwardly, he was lecturing himself thus: "No man should permit his children to run him, or dictate to him in any way, as Marcelline says. I hate mightily to cross Pauline, who has always had her own way with me—but if it has to be done—the sooner it is over with the better."

"You have made some changes," his daughter remarked, looking at the new pictures on the walls, "but I don't like them. I like the old ones better."

Senator Rae flushed scarlet under this tactful rebuke. "When you are settled in Washington I will send it to you," he replied tersely.

Pauline had expected a prompt refusal—for, in the other days he had loved her mother's picture more than all his earthly possessions; she was amazed beyond words that he was willing to part with it so readily, being the only picture they had of her. Everything in and about the house was changed—as well. Pauline was mystified to find many pictures of Daniel in almost every room—but not one of herself. She could not understand the strange change which had taken place. Casually she inquired after Marcelline, remarking she had not heard from her very recently.

Pauline did not notice what Daniel said—that the old senator's wrinkled face flushed a dull red as he answered her in a somewhat constrained voice:

"We shall not stay in New York a week, father; I have concluded to go on to Washington. Her father did not press her very ardently to remain. A few moments later she bade him "Good night."

Her own boudoir had been assigned to her, and the suite of rooms opposite to Daniel. When Pauline found herself alone, she gave vent to the bitter disappointment attending her home coming in passionate tears.

She had looked forward to the first hour she should be alone with her father; she had planned to throw herself in his arms, sobbing out on his loving breast—how desolate her life had become; not that Daniel Weslow had not done everything in his power to make her contented—nay—happy, she could not give him, in return, anything save friendship; she meant to confess it to her father that she felt quite sure, that friendship—could never deepen into—love, such as he had a right to expect.

Now—Pauline realized her confession would fall upon cold ears—he would have no sympathy for her. To make it all the harder for her, she could see her father fairly doted upon Daniel. She thought of the one sentence his letters had always contained: "He is certainly the finest type of man the sun ever shone on, a human being."

Daniel was greatly relieved at Pauline's decision to go on to Washington without delay; they would be scarcely settled ere he would be obliged to take up his new duties. "I would be glad to have you close up this house and come to Washington to live with us," said Pauline wistfully, as she kissed her father goodby. He shook his head resolutely.

"I'll look in upon you for a visit of a day or two now and then; I do not believe in giving up the comforts of one's own home to live with a married child—I shall stretch my legs out under my own table to the last."

He wondered why she clung to him even after she had said goodby.

CHAPTER XII.

There is a grief that wastes the heart.

Like mildew on a tulip's dyes When hope deferred, but to depart Leaves its smiles, but keeps its sighs.

Oh, beautiful city of Washington! Wonderful, mysterious capitol, with its brilliant men, beautiful women, lights, flowers, music and feasting!

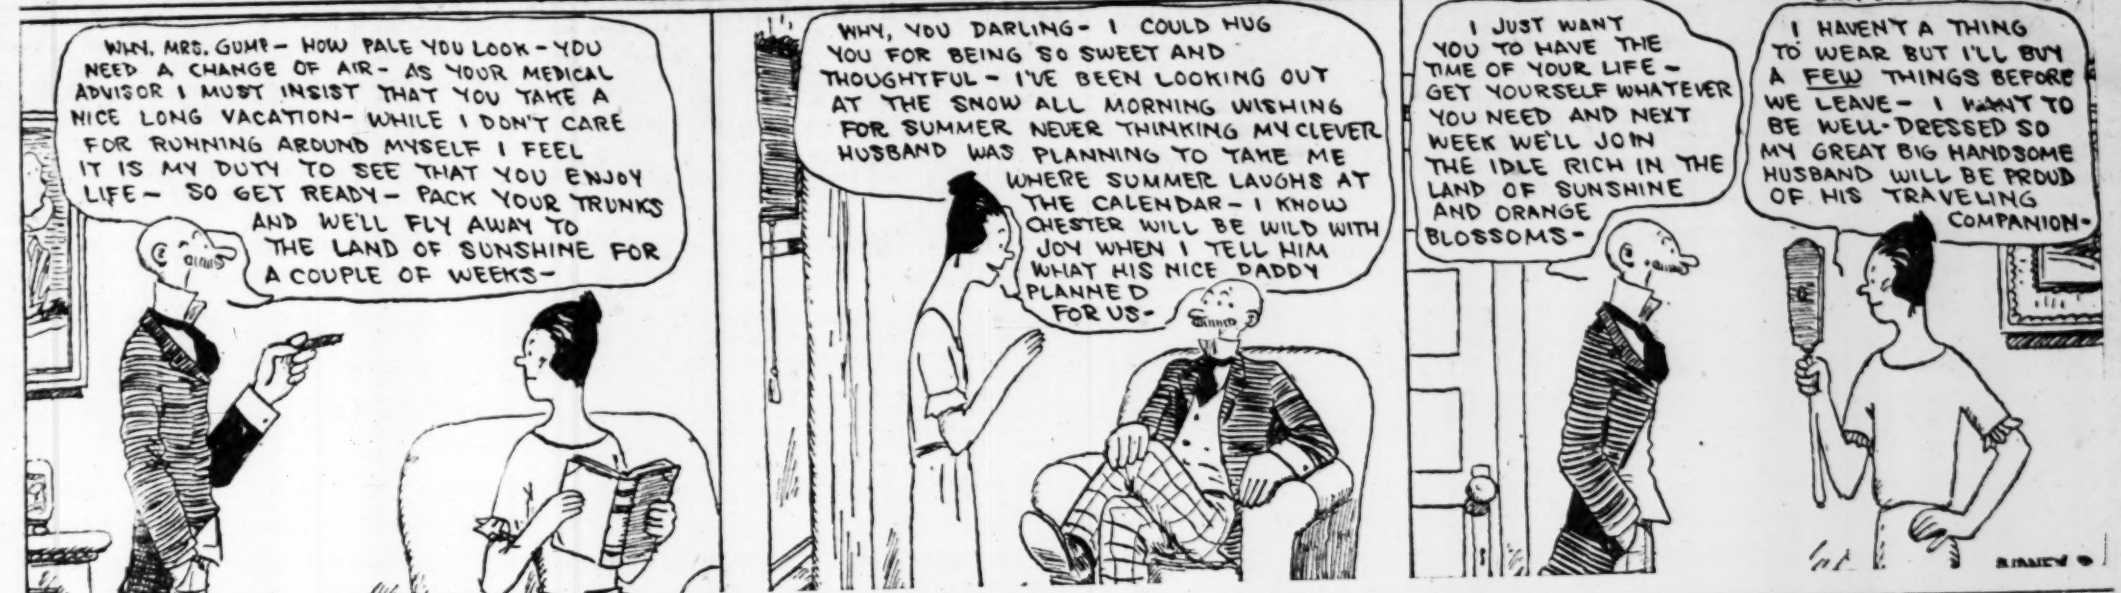

Where gayety creeps forth with the setting sun, and riots through the long hours until the flickering light of the stars dim, proclaiming the night is done—a new day dawns.

Although a senator's daughter, Pauline, a school miss, living in New York, had seen nothing of Washington society; she looked forward to mingling in its gayeties, and, as a new senator's wife, of attending the inauguration ball.

Daniel Weslow looked forward to it with dread. He found himself wishing that he had not been elected senator, being obliged to shoulder the many obligations that went with it. He felt he was in the wrong atmosphere.

THE GUMPS—OH, DOCTOR!

©1934 BY CHICAGO TRIBUNE

was changed—as well. Pauline was mystified to find many pictures of Daniel in almost every room—but not one of herself. She could not understand the strange change which had taken place. Casually she inquired after Marcelline, remarking she had not heard from her very recently.

Pauline did not notice what Daniel said—that the old senator's wrinkled face flushed a dull red as he answered her in a somewhat constrained voice:

"We shall not stay in New York a week, father; I have concluded to go on to Washington. Her father did not press her very ardently to remain. A few moments later she bade him "Good night."

Her own boudoir had been assigned to her, and the suite of rooms opposite to Daniel. When Pauline found herself alone, she gave vent to the bitter disappointment attending her home coming in passionate tears.

She had looked forward to the first hour she should be alone with her father; she had planned to throw herself in his arms, sobbing out on his loving breast—how desolate her life had become; not that Daniel Weslow had not done everything in his power to make her contented—nay—happy, she could not give him, in return, anything save friendship; she meant to confess it to her father that she felt quite sure, that friendship—could never deepen into—love, such as he had a right to expect.

Now—Pauline realized her confession would fall upon cold ears—he would have no sympathy for her. To make it all the harder for her, she could see her father fairly doted upon Daniel. She thought of the one sentence his letters had always contained: "He is certainly the finest type of man the sun ever shone on, a human being."

Daniel was greatly relieved at Pauline's decision to go on to Washington without delay; they would be scarcely settled ere he would be obliged to take up his new duties. "I would be glad to have you close up this house and come to Washington to live with us," said Pauline wistfully, as she kissed her father goodby. He shook his head resolutely.

"I'll look in upon you for a visit of a day or two now and then; I do not believe in giving up the comforts of one's own home to live with a married child—I shall stretch my legs out under my own table to the last."

He wondered why she clung to him even after she had said goodby.

CHAPTER XII.

There is a grief that wastes the heart.

Like mildew on a tulip's dyes When hope deferred, but to depart Leaves its smiles, but keeps its sighs.

Oh, beautiful city of Washington! Wonderful, mysterious capitol, with its brilliant men, beautiful women, lights, flowers, music and feasting!

Where gayety creeps forth with the setting sun, and riots through the long hours until the flickering light of the stars dim, proclaiming the night is done—a new day dawns.

Although a senator's daughter, Pauline, a school miss, living in New York, had seen nothing of Washington society; she looked forward to mingling in its gayeties, and, as a new senator's wife, of attending the inauguration ball.

Daniel Weslow looked forward to it with dread. He found himself wishing that he had not been elected senator, being obliged to shoulder the many obligations that went with it. He felt he was in the wrong atmosphere.

Where gayety creeps forth with the setting sun, and riots through the long hours until the flickering light of the stars dim, proclaiming the night is done—a new day dawns.

Although a senator's daughter, Pauline, a school miss, living in New York, had seen nothing of Washington society; she looked forward to mingling in its gayeties, and, as a new senator's wife, of attending the inauguration ball.

Daniel Weslow looked forward to it with dread. He found himself wishing that he had not been elected senator, being obliged to shoulder the many obligations that went with it. He felt he was in the wrong atmosphere.

Where gayety creeps forth with the setting sun, and riots through the long hours until the flickering light of the stars dim, proclaiming the night is done—a new day dawns.

Although a senator's daughter, Pauline, a school miss, living in New York, had seen nothing of Washington society; she looked forward to mingling in its gayeties, and, as a new senator's wife, of attending the inauguration ball.

Daniel Weslow looked forward to it with dread. He found himself wishing that he had not been elected senator, being obliged to shoulder the many obligations that went with it. He felt he was in the wrong atmosphere.

Where gayety creeps forth with the setting sun, and riots through the long hours until the flickering light of the stars dim, proclaiming the night is done—a new day dawns.

Although a senator's daughter, Pauline, a school miss, living in New York, had seen nothing of Washington society; she looked forward to mingling in its gayeties, and, as a new senator's wife, of attending the inauguration ball.

Daniel Weslow looked forward to it with dread. He found himself wishing that he had not been elected senator, being obliged to shoulder the many obligations that went with it. He felt he was in the wrong atmosphere.

Where gayety creeps forth with the setting sun, and riots through the long hours until the flickering light of the stars dim, proclaiming the night is done—a new day dawns.

Although a senator's daughter, Pauline, a school miss, living in New York, had seen nothing of Washington society; she looked forward to mingling in its gayeties, and, as a new senator's wife, of attending the inauguration ball.

Daniel Weslow looked forward to it with dread. He found himself wishing that he had not been elected senator, being obliged to shoulder the many obligations that went with it. He felt he was in the wrong atmosphere.

Where gayety creeps forth with the setting sun, and riots through the long hours until the flickering light of the stars dim, proclaiming the night is done—a new day dawns.

Although a senator's daughter, Pauline, a school miss, living in New York, had seen nothing of Washington society; she looked forward to mingling in its gayeties, and, as a new senator's wife, of attending the inauguration ball.

Daniel Weslow looked forward to it with dread. He found himself wishing that he had not been elected senator, being obliged to shoulder the many obligations that went with it. He felt he was in the wrong atmosphere.

Where gayety creeps forth with the setting sun, and riots through the long hours until the flickering light of the stars dim, proclaiming the night is done—a new day dawns.

Although a senator's daughter, Pauline, a school miss, living in New York, had seen nothing of Washington society; she looked forward to mingling in its gayeties, and, as a new senator's wife, of attending the inauguration ball.

Daniel Weslow looked forward to it with dread. He found himself wishing that he had not been elected senator, being obliged to shoulder the many obligations that went with it. He felt he was in the wrong atmosphere.

Where gayety creeps forth with the setting sun, and riots through the long hours until the flickering light of the stars dim, proclaiming the night is done—a new day dawns.

Although a senator's daughter, Pauline, a school miss, living in New York, had seen nothing of Washington society; she looked forward to mingling in its gayeties, and, as a new senator's wife, of attending the inauguration ball.

Daniel Weslow looked forward to it with dread. He found himself wishing that he had not been elected senator, being obliged to shoulder the many obligations that went with it. He felt he was in the wrong atmosphere.

Where gayety creeps forth with the setting sun, and riots through the long hours until the flickering light of the stars dim, proclaiming the night is done—a new day dawns.

Although a senator's daughter, Pauline, a school miss, living in New York, had seen nothing of Washington society; she looked forward to mingling in its gayeties, and, as a new senator's wife, of attending the inauguration ball.

Daniel Weslow looked forward to it with dread. He found himself wishing that he had not been elected senator, being obliged to shoulder the many obligations that went with it. He felt he was in the wrong atmosphere.

Where gayety creeps forth with the setting sun, and riots through the long hours until the flickering light of the stars dim, proclaiming the night is done—a new day dawns.

Although a senator's daughter, Pauline, a school miss, living in New York, had seen nothing of Washington society; she looked forward to mingling in its gayeties, and, as a new senator's wife, of attending the inauguration ball.

Daniel Weslow looked forward to it with dread. He found himself wishing that he had not been elected senator, being obliged to shoulder the many obligations that went with it. He felt he was in the wrong atmosphere.

Where gayety creeps forth with the setting sun, and riots through the long hours until the flickering light of the stars dim, proclaiming the night is done—a new day dawns.

Although a senator's daughter, Pauline, a school miss, living in New York, had seen nothing of Washington society; she looked forward to mingling in its gayeties, and, as a new senator's wife, of attending the inauguration ball.

Daniel Weslow looked forward to it with dread. He found himself wishing that he had not been elected senator, being obliged to shoulder the many obligations that went with it. He felt he was in the wrong atmosphere.

Where gayety creeps forth with the setting sun, and riots through the long hours until the flickering light of the stars dim, proclaiming the night is done—a new day dawns.

Although a senator's daughter, Pauline, a school miss, living in New York, had seen nothing of Washington society; she looked forward to mingling in its gayeties, and, as a new senator's wife, of attending the inauguration ball.

Daniel Weslow looked forward to it with dread. He found himself wishing that he had not been elected senator, being obliged to shoulder the many obligations that went with it. He felt he was in the wrong atmosphere.

Where gayety creeps forth with the setting sun, and riots through the long hours until the flickering light of the stars dim, proclaiming the night is done—a new day dawns.

Although a senator's daughter, Pauline, a school miss, living in New York, had seen nothing of Washington society; she looked forward to mingling in its gayeties, and, as a new senator's wife, of attending the inauguration ball.

Daniel Weslow looked forward to it with dread. He found himself wishing that he had not been elected senator, being obliged to shoulder the many obligations that went with it. He felt he was in the wrong atmosphere.

Where gayety creeps forth with the setting sun, and riots through the long hours until the flickering light of the stars dim, proclaiming the night is done—a new day dawns.

Although a senator's daughter, Pauline, a school miss, living in New York, had seen nothing of Washington society; she looked forward to mingling in its gayeties, and, as a new senator's wife, of attending the inauguration ball.

Daniel Weslow looked forward to it with dread. He found himself wishing that he had not been elected senator, being obliged to shoulder the many obligations that went with it. He felt he was in the wrong atmosphere.

Where gayety creeps forth with the setting sun, and riots through the long hours until the flickering light of the stars dim, proclaiming the night is done—a new day dawns.

Although a senator's daughter, Pauline, a school miss, living in New York, had seen nothing of Washington society; she looked forward to mingling in its gayeties, and, as a new senator's wife, of attending the inauguration ball.

Daniel Weslow looked forward to it with dread. He found himself wishing that he had not been elected senator, being obliged to shoulder the many obligations that went with it. He felt he was in the wrong atmosphere.

Where gayety creeps forth with the setting sun, and riots through the long hours until the flickering light of the stars dim, proclaiming the night is done—a new day dawns.

Although a senator's daughter, Pauline, a school miss, living in New York, had seen nothing of Washington society; she looked forward to mingling in its gayeties, and, as a new senator's wife, of attending the inauguration ball.

Daniel Weslow looked forward to it with dread. He found himself wishing that he had not been elected senator, being obliged to shoulder the many obligations that went with it. He felt he was in the wrong atmosphere.

Where gayety creeps forth with the setting sun, and riots through the long hours until the flickering light of the stars dim, proclaiming the night is done—a new day dawns.

Although a senator's daughter, Pauline, a school miss, living in New York, had seen nothing of Washington society; she looked forward to mingling in its gayeties, and, as a new senator's wife, of attending the inauguration ball.

Daniel Weslow looked forward to it with dread. He found himself wishing that he had not been elected senator, being obliged to shoulder the many obligations that went with it. He felt he was in the wrong atmosphere.

Where gayety creeps forth with the setting sun, and riots through the long hours until the flickering light of the stars dim, proclaiming the night is done—a new day dawns.

Although a senator's daughter, Pauline, a school miss, living in New York, had seen nothing of Washington society; she looked forward to mingling in its gayeties, and, as a new senator's wife, of attending the inauguration ball.

Daniel Weslow looked forward to it with dread. He found himself wishing that he had not been elected senator, being obliged to shoulder the many obligations that went with it. He felt he was in the wrong atmosphere.

Where gayety creeps forth with the setting sun, and riots through the long hours until the flickering light of the stars dim, proclaiming the night is done—a new day dawns.

Although a senator's daughter, Pauline, a school miss, living in New York, had seen nothing of Washington society; she looked forward to mingling in its gayeties, and, as a new senator's wife, of attending the inauguration ball.

Daniel Weslow looked forward to it with dread. He found himself wishing that he had not been elected senator, being obliged to shoulder the many obligations that went with it. He felt he was in the wrong atmosphere.

Where gayety creeps forth with the setting sun, and riots through the long hours until the flickering light of the stars dim, proclaiming the night is done—a new day dawns.

Although a senator's daughter, Pauline, a school miss, living in New York, had seen nothing of Washington society; she looked forward to mingling in its gayeties, and, as a new senator's wife, of attending the inauguration ball.

Daniel Weslow looked forward to it with dread. He found himself wishing that he had not been elected senator, being obliged to shoulder the many obligations that went with it. He felt he was in the wrong atmosphere.

Where gayety creeps forth with the setting sun, and riots through the long hours until the flickering light of the stars dim, proclaiming the night is done—a new day dawns.

Although a senator's daughter, Pauline, a school miss, living in New York, had seen nothing of Washington society; she looked forward to mingling in its gayeties, and, as a new senator's wife, of attending the inauguration ball.

Daniel Weslow looked forward to it with dread. He found himself wishing that he had not been elected senator, being obliged to shoulder the many obligations that went with it. He felt he was in the wrong atmosphere.

Where gayety creeps forth with the setting sun, and riots through the long hours until the flickering light of the stars dim, proclaiming the night is done—a new day dawns.

Although a senator's daughter, Pauline, a school miss, living in New York, had seen nothing of Washington society; she looked forward to mingling in its gayeties, and, as a new senator's wife, of attending the inauguration ball.

Daniel Weslow looked forward to it with dread. He found himself wishing that he had not been elected senator, being obliged to shoulder the many obligations that went with it. He felt he was in the wrong atmosphere.

Where gayety creeps forth with the setting sun, and riots through the long hours until the flickering light of the stars dim, proclaiming the night is done—a new day dawns.

Although a senator's daughter, Pauline, a school miss, living in New York, had seen nothing of Washington society; she looked forward to mingling in its gayeties, and, as a new senator's wife, of attending the inauguration ball.

Daniel Weslow looked forward to it with dread. He found himself wishing that he had not been elected senator, being obliged to shoulder the many obligations that went with it. He felt he was in the wrong atmosphere.

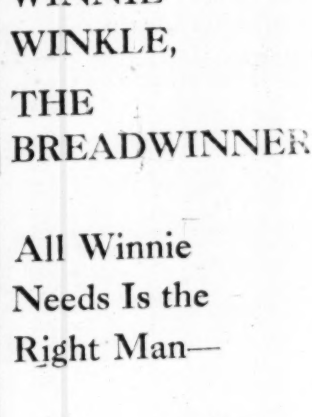

Where gayety creeps forth with the setting sun, and riots through the long hours until the flickering light of the stars dim, proclaiming the night is done—a new day dawns.

Although a senator's daughter, Pauline, a school miss, living in New York, had seen nothing of Washington society; she looked forward to mingling in its gayeties, and, as a new senator's wife, of attending the inauguration ball.

JUST NUTS

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER

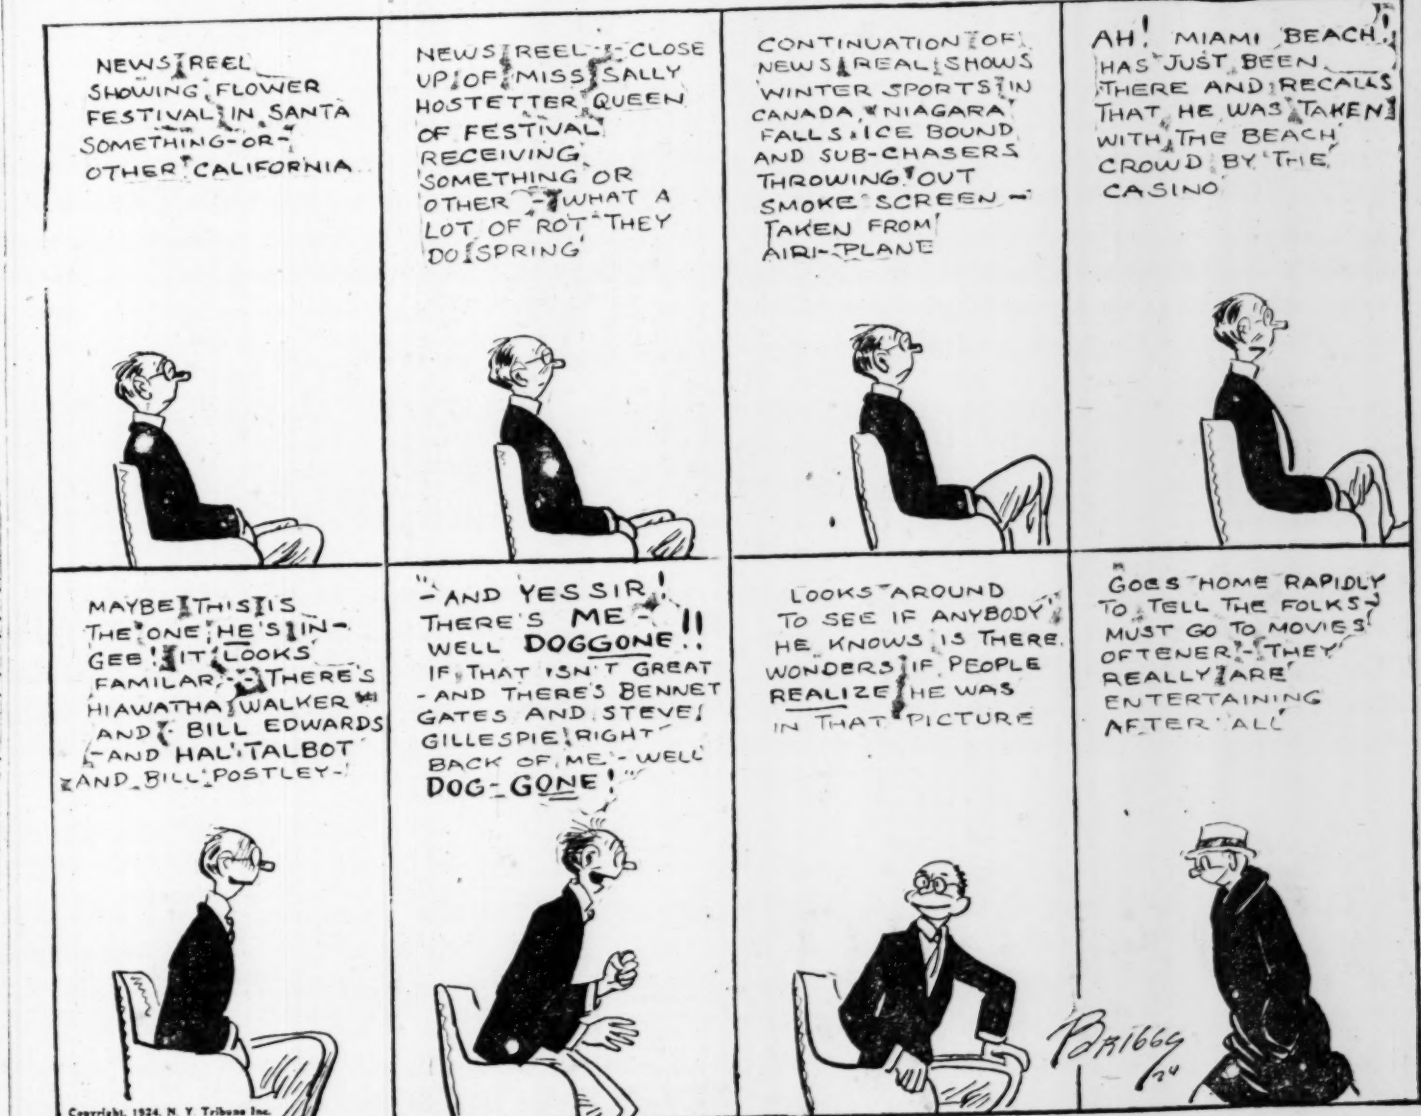

The Toonerville Trolley That Meets All Trains

Movie of a Man Who Sees Himself in a Move For the First Time

By Briggs

THE JAMBLE

ALLRIGHT, I'M ON, I'LL TAKE YOUR BET, EVEN MONEY—

HERE GOES, SHOOT IF YOU MUST THIS OLD GREY HEAD BUT SPARE.

CLASSIFIED RATES

One line—first insertion—10¢ a line
 Second insertion—7¢ a line
 Third insertion—5¢ a line
 Fourth insertion—3¢ a line
 Fifth insertion—2¢ a line
 Above rates for consecutive insertions only.

Advertisements under the following classifications will be inserted only when cash accompanies the order:

For Rent—Rooms Furnished.
 Situation Wanted—Male.
 Situation Wanted—Female.
 Wanted—To Rent Rooms Unfurnished.
 For Rent—Rooms Unfurnished.
 Wanted—To Rent Rooms Unfurnished.

The Constitution maintains a staff of clerks ready to perform service and receive cash on all types of classified advertising. Call Mr. Ewing at 506-5074. Advertisements will be inserted only when cash accompanies the order. An efficient operator to take your ad.

Discontinuance of advertising must be in writing. It will not be accepted by phone. This protects your interests as well as ours.

TELEPHONE MAIN 5000

The Constitution will not be responsible for loss of advertising material or for any advertisement ordered for more than one time.

Advertisements not paid in advance will be charged for the actual number of lines occupied, regardless of the number of words. Charge ads will not be estimated. Part of a line will be charged same as a full line.

No advertisement accepted for less than two lines.

Accounts opened for ads (excepting those classified as cash with order) by telephone to accommodate you if your name is in the telephone directory. Want ads taken by telephone are to be paid for immediately upon application, bill to be presented by mail or solicitor the same day.

RAILROAD SCHEDULES

Schedules published as information.

ATLANTA TERMINAL STATION

Arrives—A. & N. RAILWAY—Leaves

6:00 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

6:30 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

7:00 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

7:30 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

8:00 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

8:30 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

9:00 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

9:30 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

10:00 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

10:30 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

11:00 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

11:30 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

12:00 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

12:30 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

1:00 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

1:30 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

2:00 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

2:30 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

3:00 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

3:30 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

4:00 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

4:30 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

5:00 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

5:30 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

6:00 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

6:30 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

7:00 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

7:30 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

8:00 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

8:30 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

9:00 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

9:30 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

10:00 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

10:30 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

11:00 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

11:30 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

12:00 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

12:30 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

1:00 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

1:30 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

2:00 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

2:30 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

3:00 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

3:30 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

4:00 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

4:30 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

5:00 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

5:30 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

6:00 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

6:30 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

7:00 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

7:30 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

8:00 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

8:30 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

9:00 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

9:30 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

10:00 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

10:30 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

11:00 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

11:30 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

12:00 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

12:30 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

1:00 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

1:30 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

2:00 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

2:30 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

3:00 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

3:30 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

4:00 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

4:30 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

5:00 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

5:30 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

6:00 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

6:30 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

7:00 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

7:30 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

8:00 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

8:30 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

9:00 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

9:30 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

10:00 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

10:30 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

11:00 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

11:30 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

12:00 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

12:30 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

1:00 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

1:30 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

2:00 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

2:30 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

3:00 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

3:30 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

4:00 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

4:30 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

5:00 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

5:30 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

6:00 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

6:30 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

7:00 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

7:30 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

8:00 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

8:30 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

9:00 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

9:30 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

10:00 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

10:30 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

11:00 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

11:30 a.m. New York—Atlantic City

12:00 p.m. New York—Atlantic City

PERSONALS WANTED—HELP

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

BUSINESS CHANCES

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

WANTED—Males for railway work.

W

Sparta, Ga., March 4.—(Special.) The city council of Sparta in session last night passed a resolution closing all oil and gasoline filling stations on Sunday and making a standard fine of $75 against any person caught "crap shooting." Recorder Chapman resigned at the same meeting, and W. R. Gilmore was appointed as temporary recorder. An extra policeman was put on for the night police.

SUITS
Ready to Wear
$18.95
Pure Virgin Wool
Sizes 33 to 50
Identical cloth—identical values are selling NOW in Atlanta for $35 to $40. Have you seen them? This opportunity will soon be gone. They are surplus stock sent here for quick sale at $18.95, no alterations. J. L. Hudson, Mfg.'s representative, temporarily with
C. P. Talbot
9 Auburn Ave.

I don't pay them
The many friends who have complimented me on the good cooking, excellent service and pleasant surroundings in our cafe have done it because they know really good food when they taste it, and appreciate prompt, courteous service.
If you haven't been in for a meal so far, come in today. I believe you will soon get the habit and we will welcome you as "regular."

Today's Special Luncheon 50c
Choice of Soup
Vegetable Navy Bean Chicken Gumbo
Choice of Roast Veal—Oyster Dressing
Barbecued Spare Ribs
Georgia Yellow Yams Baked Egg Plant
Walnut Salad Green Apple Cobbler
Coffee or Tea

ROOTS OF CAFE
PRONOUNCED "ROOTSUS"
60 Peachtree • 2 doors North of MUSE'S

WE SELL SERVICE
as well as lumber. In other words, our lumber must give you satisfactory wear and service, or we don't want your trade, because we don't deserve it. You cannot buy a foot of inferior quality lumber from this yard. We don't sell it.
W. B. DISBRO LUMBER CO.
542 Whitehall St. Main 1328

COAL---READ THIS---COAL
We Only Handle the Best---We Sell for Less
WHY?
Because We Sell for Cash
PEOPLES COAL CO.
We Deliver Anywhere Main 3246

SIDNEY J. HAYLES COMPANY
CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS
Fourth National Bank Building
ATLANTA
District National Bank Building
WASHINGTON, D. C.

Blosser-Williams Company
PRINTING SPECIALISTS
100 N. W. Peachtree Street
WALNUT 4310

Automobile Tops
Recovered, repaired or replaced.
Complete paint and trimming department
Yancey Bros.
90 N. Jackson St. Walnut 5074

Arkwright Makes Final Plea For Street Railway Petition

In Exhaustive Survey of Conditions, Declares That Sentiment Is Overwhelming for Approval.

People of Atlanta have shown themselves overwhelmingly in favor of putting the street railway on a self-sustaining basis, P. S. Arkwright, president of the Georgia Railway & Power company, declared Tuesday night in an address before the city council. He said that the sentiment in favor of the street railway was overwhelming, and that the company was prepared to accept the terms of the petition.

He also advocated the suggestion that in reaching a final solution of the street railway problem, the city should first consider the petition of the car riders, and then the petition of the street car owners. He said that the petition of the car riders was the most important, and that the city should first consider their wishes.

Arkwright's address was the first of a series of addresses by the company's representatives before the city council. He said that the company was prepared to accept the terms of the petition, and that it was willing to make any necessary adjustments to meet the needs of the city.

Arkwright declared that the street railway company always had been willing to take part in any improvements or undertakings for the good of the community. He said that the company had been a part of the city's development, and that it was willing to continue to be a part of it.

Arkwright declared that the street railway company always had been willing to take part in any improvements or undertakings for the good of the community. He said that the company had been a part of the city's development, and that it was willing to continue to be a part of it.

Arkwright declared that the street railway company always had been willing to take part in any improvements or undertakings for the good of the community. He said that the company had been a part of the city's development, and that it was willing to continue to be a part of it.

of the cost of labor and materials going into the actual operation of the street cars. In addition it paid from the gross revenues all taxes and the fund for replacement.

Arkwright said that the company was prepared to accept the terms of the petition, and that it was willing to make any necessary adjustments to meet the needs of the city. He said that the company was prepared to accept the terms of the petition, and that it was willing to make any necessary adjustments to meet the needs of the city.

Arkwright said that the company was prepared to accept the terms of the petition, and that it was willing to make any necessary adjustments to meet the needs of the city. He said that the company was prepared to accept the terms of the petition, and that it was willing to make any necessary adjustments to meet the needs of the city.

Arkwright said that the company was prepared to accept the terms of the petition, and that it was willing to make any necessary adjustments to meet the needs of the city. He said that the company was prepared to accept the terms of the petition, and that it was willing to make any necessary adjustments to meet the needs of the city.

Arkwright said that the company was prepared to accept the terms of the petition, and that it was willing to make any necessary adjustments to meet the needs of the city. He said that the company was prepared to accept the terms of the petition, and that it was willing to make any necessary adjustments to meet the needs of the city.

Arkwright said that the company was prepared to accept the terms of the petition, and that it was willing to make any necessary adjustments to meet the needs of the city. He said that the company was prepared to accept the terms of the petition, and that it was willing to make any necessary adjustments to meet the needs of the city.

Arkwright said that the company was prepared to accept the terms of the petition, and that it was willing to make any necessary adjustments to meet the needs of the city. He said that the company was prepared to accept the terms of the petition, and that it was willing to make any necessary adjustments to meet the needs of the city.

More Investigations Under Way In Congress Than Ever Before

Washington, March 4.—More investigations are going on in congress now than at any one time in its whole history. Here is a summary of the important inquiries actually under way or authorized by the house or senate:

- 1.—Oil leases.
- 2.—Veterans' bureau.
- 3.—Department of justice.
- 4.—Shipping board.
- 5.—Russian propaganda.
- 6.—Propaganda for Bok peace plan.
- 7.—Rent profiteering in District of Columbia.
- 8.—Fake medical diplomas.
- 9.—Election of Senator Mayfield of Texas.
- 10.—Use of mails in land selling operations of R. B. Cresser.
- 11.—Cost of bread and flour and profiteering in these commodities.
- 12.—Correspondence bearing on oil conditions in foreign countries, from state department.
- 13.—Names of former government officials who are acting as attorneys in cases involving government departments.

Child Mangled Under Wheels Of Street Car

Tragedy wrote a grim climax to a child's play hour about 6:30 o'clock last night.

Johnny McAdams, 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira W. McAdams, 14 Alice street, one of a group of romping children, ran in front of a street car, driven by G. E. Moore, 261 McDonough road, motorman. Moore failed to notice the tot dart in front of his car until he saw a body fall, he said.

The car was traveling slowly westward. The "pony" wheels of the front trucks passed over the lad, severing his right arm and left leg.

Moore leaped from his street car and helped lift the mangled body from under the car, and waited until an ambulance was called. The boy died shortly before midnight.

Besides his father and mother, the boy is survived by two sisters, Marjorie and Clara Evelyn. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Hunter-Blanchard-Gartrell co., funeral directors.

Trade Your Farm for Income Bearing City Property

WE have full information and attractive prices on many of the best apartment houses in Atlanta; some of the owners are interested in farm lands. Nearly every city man likes to own a good farm; he looks forward to the time when he can live out in the country.

WE are offering a two-story brick apartment house containing twelve units showing an annual return of $10,000. The owner has authorized us to sell for $65,000, and take a clear farm for part payment. We have another beautiful two-story brick apartment house for $24,000. This is offered at $28,000. The owner will accept as part payment an unimproved farm worth up to $50,000.

15 tracts of this kind the benefits are mutual; perhaps you are loaded down with unprofitable country real estate holdings and would like to exchange for income bearing city property. If you own a good unimproved farm and wish to figure on an exchange for Atlanta city property let us hear from you.

Adair Realty & Trust Company

HEALEY BUILDING
WALNUT 0100

LOANS INSURANCE RENTS

Thirty-three Years Without a Loss to Any Client
FOUNDED 1890
WEYMAN & CONNORS
Phones Walnut 0942-3 Suite 621-7 Grant Bldg.
Samuel T. Weyman Bayne Gibson A. B. Chapman

Your Letterhead Is Your Best Representative

Lithographed letterheads are distinctive. They represent you as a man of good taste and good judgment and your firm as one of dignity and high standing.
You may be confident that your letterheads will create a good impression of you if they are well lithographed.

Foot & Davies Company

Lithographing Printing
"Five Seconds from Five Points"
We have one of the best locations in the city for paper priced hadier. The several thousand tenants in the building alone assure its success.
Apply Room 200 Peachtree Arcade

Automobile Tops, Seat Covers, Upholstering

In our top department you will find nothing but skilled workmen and we are proud of every job they turn out.
California tops with sliding glass or drawn down glass curtains.
We invite inspection of our plant.
THE FAMOUS HACKENBERGER SYSTEM
170 West Peachtree St.
Entrance on Baltimore Block.

STEARNS COAL CO.

From the famous "Stearns" Mines, Stearns, Ky. The Largest in Kentucky.
PHONES IVy 7342 7343 PHONES

Alonzo Richardson & Company

1420-1425 Atlanta Trust Co. Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.
540 Munsey Building, Washington, D. C.

Certified Public Accountants

Auditing and Accounting in All Its Branches
Special Income Tax Department

FOR SALE

Flat newsprint paper suitable for small publishers and job printers. The price is right.
P.O. Box 1731, Atlanta, Ga.

Funeral Notices

THOMAS—Mrs. A. L. Thomas died Tuesday afternoon at the residence, 36 Gerard avenue, in the 43rd year of her age. She is survived by her husband, Mr. A. L. Thomas; four sons, Messrs. C. W. H. and W. L. Caldwell, and W. L. Thomas; one daughter, Mrs. T. N. Curbow. Funeral and interment will be announced later.

KNIGHT—The friends and relative of Mr. James L. Knight, Mr. and Mrs. D. Knight, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Knight, of Birmingham, Ala., and Mrs. Mrs. Dan Ware, of LaGrange, Ga., are invited to attend the funeral of Mr. James L. Knight (Wednesday) afternoon at 3 o'clock from May son church. Interment in family cemetery. Atway & Lowndes Co., funeral directors.

THOMPSON—The friends of Mr. and Mrs. William Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Nix, Mr. and Mrs. E. Thompson are invited to attend the funeral of Mr. William Thompson (Wednesday) morning, March 5, 1924, at 10 o'clock from the chapel of Hunter-Blanchard-Gartrell co., funeral directors.

PRUETT—Mr. James Andrew Pruett died Tuesday evening at a private sanitarium in the 50th year of his age. He is survived by his wife, four sons, Messrs. W. L. T. J. B. and J. E. Pruett; two daughters, Mrs. A. L. Sparks and Miss Bessie Pruett; two brothers, Messrs. J. H. and C. H. Pruett; two sisters, Mrs. W. J. Moss and Mrs. Wallace. The remains were removed to the parlors of Harry G. Pooler, funeral director, and interment will be announced later.

COOK—The friends of Mr. T. M. Cook, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Wyatt, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. McCarrall, Mr. T. M. Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Cook, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Entrican, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Entrican, Mr. E. K. Eads, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cook and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Cook are invited to attend the funeral of Mr. T. M. Cook (Wednesday) morning at 10 o'clock, from the chapel of Harry G. Pooler, Rev. W. D. Watkins will officiate. Interment Casey cemetery.

BURRUS—The friends and relative of Mr. Andrew Edwin Burrus, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Burrus and Mrs. Sarah Burrus are invited to attend the funeral of Mr. Andrew Edwin Burrus (Wednesday) afternoon, March 5, 1924, at 2 o'clock at the chapel of Hunter-Blanchard-Gartrell co., funeral directors.

SMITH—The friends of Mr. and Mrs. W. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Howell, Miss Bertie Smith, Mr. M. Smith, Mr. Ernest Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Smith, Mr. Robert Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Mary E. Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Newman, Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Pergant, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hughes and Mr. C. S. Hughes are invited to attend the funeral of Mrs. W. W. Smith (Wednesday) afternoon, at 2 o'clock from the residence, 615 Hill street. Rev. R. L. Hauser will officiate. Interment at Cool Springs. The following gentlemen will please act as pallbearers and meet at the residence at 1:45 p. m.: Mr. E. L. Newman, Mr. S. D. Pergant, Mr. E. L. Brown, Mr. Jack Baldwin, Mr. W. C. Chambers and Mr. E. P. Sherrill. Harry G. Pooler, funeral director.

PERRY—The friends of Mr. and Mrs. D. Perry, Mr. B. A. Perry, Mr. Hill Perry, Mr. John Perry, Mr. Perry, Mr. Whitley Perry, Miss Gladys Perry, Miss Lillian Perry, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Barnett, of Ball Ground, Ga., Mr. and Mrs. Clara Bowling, Ball Ground, Ga., Mr. and Mrs. Laura Jarrell, of Griffin, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. Martha Connell, Ensley, Ala.; Mrs. Bessie Harris, Mr. Thomas Green, Doles, Pa.; Mr. James Green, Grand Bay, Texas; Mr. Richard Green, Grand Bay, Texas; Mr. W. M. Green, Florence, Ala.; Mr. Henry Green, Milledge, Ala.; Mr. Jesse Green, Ensley, Ala. are invited to attend the funeral of Mrs. Hattie Perry (Wednesday) afternoon, March 5, 1924, from the Center Hill Baptist church. Pallbearers selected will please meet at the residence, 95 Jones avenue, at 2 o'clock. Rev. Tribble will officiate. Interment Magnolia cemetery. Hunter-Blanchard-Gartrell co., funeral directors.

Floral Designs

Artistically Arranged
Cut Flowers,
Hollingsworth
FLORIST
IVy 6264 425 Peachtree St.

FUNERAL DESIGNS

Gresham
West View Florist
115 PEACHTREE

MAGNOLIA CEMETERY

PROFESSIONAL CARD.
Albert Howell, Jr. Mrs. Bessie Howell
P. H. Brewster Hugh Howell
Dorcas Howell
Arthur Hayman Herman Hayman
Hoyt Brewster, Jr. and Herman
1507 620 Connally Building, Atlanta

EUROPEAN TOURS

$425.00 Up. Also De Luxe.
JNO. M. BIRD, Touring Agent
1108 Canby Building

NORTH GERMAN LLOYD

New York-Plymouth-Bremen
1st and 2nd Class accommodations
New S. S. COLUMBUS (Largest German Ship)
New S. S. STUTTGART and S. S. MUEHNCHEN
New York-Bremen Direct
Superior Class Cabin Service
"BREMEN" "S. VENTANA"
"YONK" "DEFFLINGER"
"HUNG" "S. VENTANA"
For rates, sailings, etc., apply
14-16 Pearl St., New York City or any local agent.